Unpleasant News
Too Many Undertakers
One Bear Went Crazy
No 4-Day Week Yet

—By ARTHUR BRISBANE—

NEWS OF the strike is unpleasant. You read about a "Rhode Island mill town like a shambles after all-night fighting, store fronts bashed in, bullet holes in buildings." You see photographs with soldiers behind barbed wire entanglements, strikers fighting in a quiet New England graveyard, and "State rounds up Communists."

The number of active Communists must be greatly in excess of the alleged "26,000 enrolled Communist members."

Governor Green of Rhode Island tells newspaper men:

"President Roosevelt personally called me up and I had a long and satisfactory talk with him."

The governor says President Roosevelt will rush troops to Rhode Island if the governor and his state militia are unable to handle the strike situation.

This recalls the old days, when Grover Cleveland was asked to send troops to Chicago, did so, and ended the strike there.

You knew there were too many lawyers; always too many musicians, since mechanical music for movies came in; too many brokers, since government ordained reform; even too many little pigs, so that government had to kill many of them, unborn.

But did you know that there are too many undertakers? Mr. Bert A. Waters, of Jersey City, a "mortician," or "undertaker" to most of us, tells undertakers, gathered in Atlantic City, that for every person that dies in New Jersey, twelve undertakers are trying to "get the business."

There are too many licensed embalmers also, and New Jersey undertakers want the government to cut down the number. It must be creepy to know that there are always twelve undertakers waiting to get you.

In the German municipal zoo at Breslau, a big bear that had lived with its mate for eight years, apparently was made insane by the constant noise of a radio recently installed close to its ears. Every day the radio blaring made the bear more nervous. Finally, foolishly and unjustly, the bear "mercilessly clawed and killed its mate."

The crisis came at the end of a long political broadcasting campaign, during which the poor bear heard many speeches by Hitler and other Nazi geniuses.

The International Typographical Union in Chicago, through four hundred delegates that represent 75,000 of the most intelligent, well-informed men in the country, have voted down a suggestion to establish the four-day week for printers. Under present conditions, the four-day week might be a little short.

But judging by present tendencies, the future may see the old command, "Six days shalt thu labor and do all thy work," changed to "ONE day shalt thou labor and do all thy work," with rest on the other six days.

SCORES ILL AFTER BIG BANQUET

Several score of persons, attendants last night at a banquet of the Massachusetts Conference of Social Work at Wellesley College, were ill in bed today, it was learned by the Boston Evening American.

Many of those made ill are probation officers and assistant probation officials and some members of their families who accompanied them to the Wellesley dinner.

Investigation was under way at the college today in an attempt to learn what had made the banqueters ill ith a form of intestinal disorder that, kept the affected court men away from their duties today.

MISS SWEENEY VICTUM

It became known at the State House that Miss Catherine Sweeney of the State Departmnt of Corrections, is one of the victims.

Others include William J. Kelly, chief probation officer at Malden court; his wife, and two assistants, T. Leo Killion and Frank P. Martin, it was learned at the State House.

Yesterday was the firs day of the hree-day annual conference, with welfare workers and probation officials present. The annual banquet was held in the evening, with 275 delegates and their family members attending.

The dinner was supervised in its preparation by the Wellesley College dietician, and after the banquet and the speaking most of the probation officers went to their homes.

MANY GO TO BED

The majority of the banqueters and delegates remained at the college, however, being quartered over night in Severence Hall and Tower Court.

Today, according to authorities at the college, nearly all of those who remained over night reported for breakfast, although some of them returned to bed, ill, later.

Time for All Honest Civilians to Be Abed in Woonsocket

The curfew rings at nine o'clock these nights in Rhode Island cities which have suffered strike disorder. Bedtime for civilians, however, doesn't mean bedtime for police and national guardsmen. Patrol cars, manned by soldiers and city officers, see to it that streets are cleared and that honest folk can sleep in peace. The "night watch," armed with pistols, rifles, "tommy" guns and tear gas bombs, is all set to give orders and see that they are enforced. Window smashing and store looting are not healthy pastimes from sunset to sunrise now.

Smelled Smoke at 12:45 Says Morro Witness

New York, Sept. 14—A New York City fireman, John Kempf, declared today that as early as 12:45 (E. D. T.) last Saturday morning, he smelled smoke on the liner Morro Castle. Other witnesses have placed discovery of the fire which destroyed the ship at shortly before 3 a. m. (E. S. T.)

Dickerson N. Hoover, who is head of the Department of Commerce board investigating the marine catastrophe, commented:

"You are the first one to place the time of the start of the fire at 12:45."

Kempf said he thought he was correct in giving that time—that he smelled smoke, but saw no fire until later.

200 HUNT FOR LOST WOMAN

Search for Miss Ruth M. Bacon, 43, sister of the Rev. Alvin C. Bacon, pastor of the First Congregational Church of Natick, was begun in the woodlends of that town today, with boy scouts to be called out if she is not found within a few hours.

The woman, first missed when she did not appear for breakfast yesterday morning, is believed to have wandered into the woods and to have become lost.

She was seen at 8 a. m. yesterday by Sergeant Martin Fair of Natick police as she walked slowly in the Lake Cochituate section of the town. A short time later she was reported missing by her brother and the police sergeant recognized the description.

According to Dr. Bacon, his sister, who has been in poor health, arrived at his Florence street home on Wednesday, planning to make a long stay. She has made her home in Charlotte, N. C., for the past 25 years.

Throughout today police and Scoutmaster Ferdinand Remmel conducted a canvass of schools and homes in the north section of the town, endeavoring to find someone who had seen the missing woman after 8 a. m. yesterday.

Goldman, Little Lead in U. S. Amateur Golf

By Bill Grimes

The Country Club, Brookline, Sept. 14—At the end of the first 18 holes of the semi-finals of the 28th United States amateur championship this morning at the Country Club Dave "Spec" Goldman, Dallas, Tex., was one up on his fellow townsman, Reynolds Smith. Lawson Little, the British amateur champion, had a two-hole lead over Don Armstrong, Aurora, Ill.

Although the golf was not up to a national championship standard, Goldman and Smith had a real battle. Smith was two up when they made the turn but Goldman "turned it on" coming in and had the match squared at the short 17th. Then he birdied the 17th to take the lead for the first time

Thefts of dynamite added to the fear of a new Communist wave of terror in Rhode Island strike zones today, as the state decided to await further developments before asking aid of the United States Army.

Fear that the explosive might be used by anarchists led to the placing of strong guards about Diamond Hill Reservoir, water supply for Pawtucket.

Other police went on guard at pumping stations at Valley Falls and Cumberland. Electric light plants and other public utility buildings were under close surveillance and the guard was doubled at the Sayles Finishing Co. mill in Saylesville, scene of blodshed.

The explosive theft, coupled with the disclosure that approximately 150 guns were stolen in the looting at Woonsocket, made the situation tense.

Evidence backing up Governor Theodore F. Green's charge that the disorders represent a "Communist uprising" rather than a textile strike was seized at Providence in a police raid on Communist headquarters there.

Nearly a ton of Red literature proving the participation of the Communists in the fomenting of uprisings was seized. The Rhode Island strike committee at the same time blamed the rioting on "bands of Communists imported into the strike zones from Boston, Lawrence, New York and Providence."

Comparative overnight quiet at pillaged Woonsocket, Saylesville and Central Falls, where mob riots cost two lives and injured scores, caused Governor Green to abandon temporarily his plea to the Rhode Island Assembly for authorization of a call to the federal troops.

'SMELLED SMOKE AT 12:45,' SAYS FIREMAN IN MORRO QUIZ

INFLAMMABLES STORED ON SHIP, SAYS CREW WITNESS IN TRAGEDY PROBE

man Kempf's testimony was "expert" and "extremely valuable."

The theory that a generator in the engine room room blew up was expressed by Charles Angelo of New York city, an able seaman on the ship, and also an electrician. He followed Kempf on the witness stand.

Angelo testified he was awakened at 2:45 a. m. by the fire alarm and lost no time helping man the hose to fight the flames. But, after about 10 minutes, the water pressure died down.

Chairman Hoover of the board of inquiry asked him why the pressure failed.

"I guess the generator in the engine room blew up," declared Angelo. "Anyway I heard an explosion. It shook the whole ship."

HOBBLES TO STAND

Angelo threw up his hands in illustrating the explosion. "It went phoo-oo-oo!" he exclaimed.

Matthew L. McElheny, of Plainfield, N. J., one of the surviving passengers, was the first witness called today. McElheny, superintendent of the Jersey Central Railroad of New Jersey, hobbled to the stand on crutches.

McElheny testified he occupied cabin 262 on "C" deck. He retired shortly after midnight.

He was awakened shortly after 2 o'clock on the morning of the fire and "saw a sort of red reflection on the windows on the outside."

He got up and found smoke pouring through the stairways.

HELPED AT HOSE

McElheny testified he went to the stairway, forward of the dining room, and "observed fire on the stairway." He saw a few men using a hose, he helped them. The witness said:

"I tried to go upstairs with the hose but the stairs were too hot for my bare feet.

"I went down to "C" deck to awaken some young ladies in 308.

"I then climbed an aft stairway to A deck aft. There was no hose in sight. I asked some fellow for a hose. He gave it to me and that was the first water turned on A deck aft."

McElheny said the smoked forced him back to B deck. There he found two persons putting on life preservers and he told them he thought the fire could be controlled.

He went back up to A deck. He tried to go forward but could not because the deck was a mass of flames.

"I went to a lifeboat even with a railing," he related. "I got on it, catching a line and dropping into the boat.

"The sea was rough and we were unable to work aft of the ship. I tried to prevail on the men in my lifeboat to get back aft, but they could not control the boat and we drifted away from the Morro Castle."

Chairman Dickerson N. Hoover and other members of the board of inquiry questioned the witness.

Q.—Did an officer lower the boat?

A.—I don't know.

Q.—How many were in your lifeboat?

A.—About 15. I was told I was the only passenger in it.

3 SAILORS IN BOAT

McElheny was asked if he thought the lifeboat was handled all right. He said yes, considering the fact there were only three sailors in it. The rest were waiters.

Q—Did you see any effort to get passengers out of the staterooms?

A—I did not.

Q—Could other passengers have gotten to a boat by the route you did, if properly directed?

A—Yes, if directed soon enough.

Q—Did you see any stewards directing passengers to boats?

A—No, sir.

Q—Did any ship's officers direct your attention to instructions about lifeboats and preservers?

A—Not that I can recall.

Q—What about discipline?

A—All right, so far as I could see.

Q—Did you hear any of them say anything about trying to save passengers?

A—No.

McElheny said the pressure on the fire hose was "all right for a while."

He testified his lifeboat finally came to shore at Spring Lake, N. J. He was then excused from the stand.

Chairman Hoover announced that the hearing would adjourn at 1 o'clock this afternoon. He said the board would not sit tomorrow and that the hearing would be resumed on Monday.

AWAKENED BY SMOKE

He was followed on the stand by John Kempf, a Queens fireman, who was a passenger on the Morro Castle.

He testified he smelled smoke as early as 12:45 a. m. (E.D.T.). All other testimony has placed the discovery of the fire at shortly before 3 a. m.

After being awakened, Kempf said he went immediately from his cabin on C deck aft and was hailed by some one to turn on a water valve.

"I had expected there would be iron discipline," he said.

"I saw no one around, though, I didn't think it was serious and I worked silently, as I had been told to.

"I saw no fire then, only smoke. I began ordering myself. I had no instructions—to extinguish fires you need orders on steamer and marine construction.

"When a hose burned I went up another deck.

"I had expected officers around—I had read about the Lusitania and Titanic. I grabbed two life preservers and thought 'Hell, someone will think I'm trying to steal something.'

"But there wasn't anyone in sight—not an officer.

"A SALTY SAILOR"

"I got to B deck then. I saw an officer go up a ladder. He was in uniform and I have a lot of respect for a uniform. I said to myself 'There goes a real salty sailor'.

"When I got on deck I saw a fire that looked like a fire blown by a fan. I never knew they could get so much highly combustible matter on a ship. I thought they were steel and safe.

"I was only on board three days and wasn't familiar with ships, though.

"Someone asked me 'are you an officer'?

"I didn't want to lie and said 'No'.

"I'm not a marine man but I know that when I was a kid when I threw a piece of wood on the water it always floated away from me."

Kempf was cut off by Hoover at this point and questioned concerning the time he thought the fire started.

"You are the first one to place the time of the start of the fire at 12:45," said Hoover.

Kempf said he thought that was right, that he smelled smoke then.

Kempf had to be straightened out in the matter of "port" and "starboard." Hoover explained port meant left, and starboard, right.

Laughter was suppressed in the courtroom and the board grinned broadly when Kempf made this comment:

"When we went overboard there were two girls and the redhead—the one who said, 'Big Boy, do you think we'll make it?' If she got to shore, I hope she'll drop me a card."

Chairman Hoover brought out the fact Kempf was a fireman for 14 years.

"You are an expert?" said Hoover.

The witness disagreed.

"My boss has been studying fires for 49 years and is still studying fires."

Kempf was asked if he saw any boat drills on the Morro Castle. He replied, "No."

"How did you get off the ship?"

"On to the fishing boat Paramount," the witness replied. "And I would like to buy him a new boat if I could afford it. I would put him in command of the Leviathan. He was wonderful."

LAUDS PHONE PILOT

As the witness was dismissed he had another word or two to say:

"I wish I could thank the man in the airplane who was directing the rescue boats. I don't know who he was."

Charles Angelo, of New York City, a seaman on the Morro Castle, testified he was sleeping when the fire broke out. He ran up to a deck and heard an officer say: "Get the hose over there."

The witness said he told a man and woman passenger who "wanted to be helped" to go forward, that it would be safe there.

Q.—How did you get off?

A.—I stayed on the ship till the Monarch of Bermuda came.

Q.—Where was your fire station?

A.—Aft.

Q.—Why didn't you go there?

A.—I couldn't get there on account of the flames.

Q.—You say you heard the alarm at 2:45 and then couldn't get back?

A.—No, sir, I couldn't.

Chairman Hoover showed interest in what Seaman Angelo said about the theory of a generator exploding, remarking it was the first testimony along such a line.

"Do you know this explosion came from the generator?" asked Hoover.

"I don't know for sure, but I imagine it did," responded the witness.

"What time was that explosion?"

"After 3 a. m."

Excusing Angelo from the stand, the Inquiry Board summoned Joseph Pernal, of Bayonne, N. J., junior electrician on the Morro Castle, a young looking witness. He testified he had charge of auxiliary generators on the 8 p. m., to midnight watch.

Pernal did not notice any evidence of a ground on his indicator.

Pernal said he heard no explosions.

Reginald B. Roberts of New York, an oiler, came next. He said he was down alongside the motors at the time of the fire. When he noticed the smoke coming down he notified Junior Engineer Wilson, who went up to investigate.

Q.—Do you know anything about a generator blowing up?

A.—No.

JUMPED FROM DECK

Roberts told hom the flames swept the staterooms and of passengers going out through port holes. Most of those on deck were members of the crew. He jumped from the Morro Castle when a City of Savannah lifeboat approached.

"We picked up six or seven women and several men," he said.

Liquid polish and other highly inflammable stores were used on the Morro Castle, according to testimony of William O'Sullivan of New York city, the liner's deck storekeeper, who was the next witness.

O'Sullivan was asked if there were any inflammable stores aboard the Morro Castle.

"Yes," replied the witness, "turpentine, kerosene and varnishes."

Q.—Was liquid polish used on the ship?

Yes.

A.—What was it?

A.—I can't think of the name. It smelled of benzine. It was highly inflammable.

O'Sullivan was asked if the liquid polish was concealed about the ship.

"Yas," he replied. "A deck boy once asked me about a can he had found."

The interrogation shifted to discipline.

Q—Was there the discipline there should have been the night of the disaster?

A—There was not what there should have been.

Q—Could the crew have responded to proper orders?

A—Yes.

O'Sullivan said the fire drills were insufficient. He explained:

"The stewards would be ordered to decks, but wouldn't go to their stations. On the last drill on Labor Day we had to wait fifteen minutes while Chief Officer Warms went down below to kick 25 men out of their bunks.

O'Sullivan said that during these drills the lifeboats "were way undermanned."

"No."

"Did you ever see efforts made to get passengers to stations on drills?"

"No."

"On any ship?"

"No."

A member of the board of inquiry, Karl C. Neilsen, asked the witness what action Warms took after the last drill when the stewards held up the drill for fifteen minutes.

"He finally got them up, but there was no disciplinary action," O'Sullivan said.

Q—Can't you remember the name of the inflammable polish?

A—Well, it was some common slang name, like "tip top." I'd know it if I heard it.

Q—Any Gasoline aboard the Morro Castle?

A—Two tanks near the bridge.

Chairman Hoover took over the questioning. He asked if the crew was efficient.

"The deck crew was average, or above average," responded O'Sullivan.

Q.—That night, was it "every man fo rhimself?"

A.—Not exactly. They worked without orders but they did the best they could.

"The only directions I heard from Acting Captain Warms was 'Don't burst those windows.' I was bursting cabin windows so the passengers could get out. I kept right on."

He was excused from the stand.

Joe Spilgus, of New York City, who was in charge of the Morro Castle's lifeboats on the starboard side, came next. He was on day work and consequently was asleep when the fire broke out. He ran up the port side, was driven back, but finally got to his station on the starboard side.

"To a man with common sense it looked like the fire was hopeless then," he testified. "The chief engineer was the only officer I saw around. There were quite a few other men there, though. Soon they were going over the sides.

"The chief engineer was in number 3 then, I noticed. When he saw that number 1 was clear he got out of number 3 and went over and climbed into number 1.

"But I thought at the time, those in the lifeboats were in just as much danger as those in the water. The tanks had been taken out of the boats by the man who had the job ahead of me. I never was given the help to get the tanks back in.

"I never heard any orders to lower the boat and I don't know who lowered them.

Spilgus was asked what was the matter with the tanks in the lifeboas. t He said they were covered with rust.

the tanks on the boats, other equipment or any general inspection of equipment? A—No.

Spilgus was then excused. The hearing was adjourned at 1:15 p. m. until 10 o'clock Monday morning.

ence will depend whether the President will witness the first of the International races or go aboard a destroyer for Providence to take direct command of the strike situation.

The President said should the Rhode Island Legislature by any chance see fit to request Federal troops Dern and Connor, both at Boston, would be ordered to proceed immediately for a survey of the strike area and report direct to him.

In any event, the President said both the war department head and his first corps area commander would confer with him tomorrow morning at Fort Adams.

In view of the quieter conditions now prevailing in the Rhode Island strike centers it was believed by summer White House observers that regular troops would not be needed. But no chances are going to be taken, it was said.

By Associated Press

Washington, Sept. 14—Francis J. Gorman, chairman of the textile strike committee, and several other committee members conferred at length today with President Roosevelt's textile strike board.

Shortly before the conference started the board announced its only other appointment for the day was with a representative of the rayon manufacturers.

It could not be learned immediately whether Gorman or the board requested the parley in which the strike committee participated.

The board gave no intimation that it had any new peace plan to submit to the strikers.

Gorman told newspapermen as he went into the board's chambers that he wanted "to find out what the situation was."

FIRST LADY IS 'LEFT OUT'

She was an unexpected caller at the big colonial mansion formerly owned and occupied by the late Lawrence Delano, grandfather of the President.

On her way to the back yard, she was obliged to struggle vigorously with a balky fence gate. Her efforts were finally rewarded, however, by success in attracting the attention of the mansion's caretaker, Mrs. Margaret Olson, who was in the kitchen.

The visit was no less friendly for its informal beginning. Mrs Roosevelt and Mrs. Olson chatted for nearly half an hour.

Then the President's wife walked back through the yard to her waiting roadster, climbed behind the wheel, and drove away toward the summer home of her son, James, at Marion. She wore a white sport ensemble and had a woman companion.

2 MORE NEWTON HOMES LOOTED

Housebreakers, who have been ransacking Newton residences during the absence of their owners, were near capture early today when A. Warren Armington, of 63 Graston street, returning with his wife from a visit, heard burglars escaping from a rear window.

Two watches had been taken, and $100 in cash as well. Several gold trinkets had been overlooked. All the bureau drawers had been stacked in one room.

Another burglary was discovered when Charles I. Brink returned to his home at 37 Park avenue, Newton, from his vacation. A watch and several items were found to have been taken.

A third break was suspected at the home of Mrs. Rose Loring, Shorecliff road, when neighbors discovered a broken window in the rear of her home.

FILIPINOS HUNT JAPS' SHIP

By Internaional News Service

Manila, P. I., Sept. 15 (Saturday)—Search for a Japanese fishing boat, the Hayun Maru, whose crew, it is charged, robbed and threw overboard Philippine constabularymen, on an official inspection, spread in the waters of the East Indies today, with two Filipino coastal cutters in pursuit.

First reports that the Hayun Maru had ben captured by cutters ordered out by Governor Frank Murphy proved erroneous.

12 Articles in American Predicted Uprising

"We are face to face, now, not with a textile strike but with a Communist uprising."

These words of Rhode Island's governor Theodore F. Green pleading for federal troops to put down bloody rioting only echoed the prediction made in a series of 12 articles which appeared daily in the Boston Evening American over a period ending last Tuesday.

These articles, based upon secret orders of the Communists obtained by this paper, disclosed the underground growth of Communism in New England and revealed that the Reds would incite disorder in a move for control of the textile strike.

Every prediction made in them is fulfilled by the rioting Rhode Island's governor now recognizes as a Communist uprising.

VETERAN SEEKS COURT BAN ON RUM LIST

The battle of a Hudson World War veteran to have his name removed from the town's liquor blacklist, which has stirred a bitter controversy between veterans and the police of Hudson, will be heard October 2, in Middlesex superior court.

The veteran, George H. Whalen, 42, timekeeper on an ERA project, declared in his petition in equity that he was a man of "good and temperate habits."

THREE WOMEN ON LIST

His name, with those of 55 men and three women, went on the blacklist in May. The list, similar to those posted in several towns, is intended to warn liquor dealers against serving excessive drinkers and those dependent upon public aid. Whalen said:

"I have been a law-abiding citizen of Hudson for 20 years. I have never been arrested for drunkenness, and I don't want to be classified with the drunkards.

"The chief has no justification for putting my name on the blacklist. I have been told it was done because I was considered a 'charity' case. I am in no way a charity case. I am working for the money I receive."

CHIEF WAITS ON COURT

Whalen recently appealed to the board of selectmen to have his name removed, but the board, after two hearings, referred the matter to chief of police, Andrew Magorty, who refused to strike his name from the list.

Weed Sower Convicted

By Associated Press

Prince Rupert, B. C., Sept. 14 (AP)—Accused of sowing noxious weeds in his neighbor's farm, Shannon Van Elst, a farmer, was convicted of doing wilful damage.

Justice D. A. McDonald said he never had heard of a case like it. He said:

"Perhaps it will be another 2000 years before there is another similar case."

"Slump" Passing, Burner Men Told

Depression has turned the corner, so far as Petro-Nokol dealers are concerned. Announcing new low prices and a purchase plan covering a three year period to a sales meeting of 400 local dealers at the Hotel Kenmore yesterday, H. W. Dexter, general sales manager of the company, told the gathering that he believed that sales in September and October in the oil burner and boiler units will surpass those of any year in the company's history.

"Crazy" About Rudy

Miss Frances Singer of Valley Stream, L. I., has too much imagination, Crooner Rudy Vallee fears. His love songs, he says, give lots of women hallucinations, but it was too much when Miss Singer started calling him her "Buggy Man" and then asked $250,000 for his "lost love." He is seeking to have her sanity tested.

BOSTON PASTOR DIES IN AUTO MYSTERY

Under mysterious circumstances which police believe may indicate murder, Rev. William Cross, 48, living until recently at the Y. M. C. A., 316 Huntington avenue, was killed today on the Brunswick Pike in North Brunswick, N. J.

According to dispatches from New Jersey, the minister was found dead in the roadway after an unidentified motorist skidded up to a truck, stepped out of his car and said to the truck driver:

"Well, I stopped didn't I?"

The truck driver, Harold Hargrave of Belleville, N. J., said that the man then stepped back into his coupe and vanished. Police said these were indications the motorist may have tried to make a murder look like a hit-run case.

COUPE, GUN FOUND

Hargrave drove back and found the body at a spot where, a few seconds earlier, he was sure there was nothing in the road. The body, police said, may have been dumped from the coupe.

Police shortly afterward found a coupe ablaze in a vacant lot. In the burning car were a .45-calibre army type revolver, with six empty shells in the chamber, but whether the cartridges were exploded by the heat of the fire, or discharged earlier, could not be determined.

Although registration plates on the car were missing, it was learned from the motor number that the coupe had been sold and registered in Pennsylvania.

Another feature of the case which puzzled police was how the minister, if he had been walking, happened to be in that lonely section of North Brunswick Township at 3 a. m.

40-Hour Week Voted by Typos

Chicago, Sept. 14 (AP)—The printing industry was voted on a permanent 40 hour work week today. Breaking a long deadlock, President Charles P. Howard of the International Typographical Union cast his vote in favor of a referendum on an arrangement whereby the work week may consist of a six day week of six and two-thirds hours daily, or a five day week not to exceed eight hours daily. No member shall work more than five shifts when a competent substitute is available, arranging in effect for a 33 1-3 hour week.

America Upside Down, Says Hyde

Kansas City, Sept. 14 (AP)—An America turned upside down in four years is the way Arthur M. Hyde, former Secretary of Agriculture, described the nation of today. Addressing members of the Delta Upsilon fraternity, Mr. Hyde said:

"We can go ahead and bankrupt this nation without any lasting harm—it started bankrupt. But breaking down the moral responsibility of a whole people is another matter."

PLOTTERS SEEK INFORMERS

Inmates of state prison, Charlestown, have threatened to "get" the two men who warned authorities of yesterday's frustrated mass escape, it became known today.

Although a fire was set in the foundry in accordance with the plotters' scheme, there were 350 Boston policemen, armed with shot guns, beleaguering the prison when the hour set for the break arrived. Prisoners blamed this on two of their number, who, it was learned, told guards of the plot more than a month ago.

With John A. Bowen, 20-year-old lifer and killer of Harry Riddell, a Quincy baker, and the seven other ringleaders of the plot in solitary confinement on Cherry Hill, everything was quiet in the prison today.

active patriots in the dinosaur empire, wants China to forget about the League of Nations and take "active military steps" to drive Japanese from Manchukuo. Kuomintang should send for their best fighter, General Tsai Ting Kai, now in America. Yesterday he met several well known Americans on the invitation of his friend, Mr. K. C. Li, a Chinese gentleman of New York, who deals in rare metals.

General Tsai Ting Kai, as commander-in-chief of the 19th route army of the Republic of China, defending Shanghai, is said to have held back the Japanese for more than thirty days, with only 30,000 Chinese soldiers against 60,000 Japanese. When Japan sent more soldiers, General Tsai Ting Kai still held them in check, in spite of airplanes overhead, and the guns of more than fifty Japanese warships. The Chinese general told American friends:

"The Japanese think themselves the greatest fighters in the world, and believe that they have the greatest fleet in the world, but some nation, before long, will teach them that they are mistaken."

Tall, thin, very dark, speaking not a word of English, General Tsai Ting Kai would be exactly your idea of an Asiatic conqueror.

Captain Joseph Patterson, you ought to know, says that he is a real fighter, and no fooling.

Another scientific discovery, most important if it stands the test of cold experiment, is revealed to the American Chemical Society by Dr. Ellice McDonald, director of cancer research laboratories. The kidneys in men and animals produce an enzyme, or biological catalyst, called "phosphotase," that effectively resists the action of cancer. Human beings afflicted with cancer lack the phosphotase in the kidneys and have too much of it in the blood stream. Man's intelligence eventually will conquer all diseases.

Then the job will be to conquer the cancer of meanness, selfishness, cruelty and general deviltry that thrives in the human consciousness.

The late General Primo De Rivera, dictator in Spain for a little while, said the one good thing the Spanish government had done was to abolish gambling in Spain. He couldn't say that now. Spain, tired of seeing nearby French casinos in the shadow of the Pyrennes, at Biarritz, St. Jean De Luz, and elsewhere, gathering in the gamblers' money, will have a "gala reopening" of the gambling rooms at San Sebastian. You can always get money from human beings, even in the worst of times, by appealing to vice and weakness.

HEARST WRITER IN WIRE HERE TELLS PROPERTY ADVANTAGES

"Men cannot water real estate as they water stocks."

That was the theme of a message sent today by Arthur Brisbane, editorial writer for the Boston Evening American and other Hearst newspapers, to the 21st annual National Business Conference at Babson Park.

Regretting his inability to attend the gathering, Brisbane briefly pointed out the fundamental advantage of investing in real property. He wired:

"About real estate as an investment, I should have said this: The only real property is the earth and of that we are fairly sure since according to Sir James Jeans, it is two thousand million years old and should last some hundreds of millions of years longer.

"To make money men must engage in business and they must do it on the earth's surface. Whoever owns that surface controls business and part of its profits also. Men cannot water real estate as they water stocks. There are only four corners of 42nd street and Fifth avenue and even Wall street could not change them to sixty-three million corners and sell them to sixty-three million fools.

"You can tell your conference how to buy land and what land not to buy, for you know, I buy land in the country for amusement to lose money farming. I buy land for business reasons in New York city and other cities, selecting such pieces as should yield interest, taxes and profit on the income from the ground floor. Only I don't like real estate too high in the air and loathe the apartment house.

"As an investment it's a second-hand automobile the day it's finished, unfortunately after you have advised men to buy real estate wisely they buy trash from somebody anxious to get rid of it, lose their money and curse the adviser."

Speakers on today's program were Dr. William A. Wirt, the Gary, Ind., school executive, who previously accused Brain Trusters of trying to convert Washington into another Moscow, and Dr. W. M. Leiserson, chairman of the National Mediation Board. They discussed the New Deal from opposite points of view.

In a stirring defense of the Roosevelt regime, Dr. Leiserson said of charges that the New Deal is a danger to liberty:

"The New Deal means that the liberty, which some people have enjoyed to oppress other people, is to be taken away."

Dr. Wirt, on the other hand, saw in the New Deal and the activity of Dr. Rexford Tugwell and other of its advocates, a concerted attempt to establish a "collective" state. He said:

"They understand that it is impossible to have a planned economy that is effective and retain private ownership and operation of industry, labor and farming."

Agreeing with the necessity of some of the New Deal objectives, such as the abolition of child labor and the setting up of job insurance and minimum wage laws, Dr. Wirt indicated that a time of economic stress was not ideal for the introduction of social reforms, which would not cure the evil

HOME OWNERS TOLD HOW TO GET REPAIR LOANS

This is the fourth of a series of articles explaining the new National Housing Act which, under facilities being developed by the Federal Housing Administration, enables home owners in Boston and other communities to obtain inexpensive, easy-to-repay loans for repairing or improving their homes.

Have you decided what improvements on your home or your business property you can afford to make now—or at least the improvements you can no longer afford to neglect?

Then, the next step is to call a contractor or an architect. After he has estimated the cost and you have decided that you prefer to pay out of your regular income rather than out of your surplus cash, go to a financial institution co-operating with the Federal Housing Administration.

If you have a mortgage on your property, go to the bank holding the mortgage. If this bank is not approved by the Federal Housing Administration, go to any National bank, state bank or trust company, savings or industrial bank, building and loan association or finance company that is co-operating with the FHA.

PRIVATE LOANS INSURED

Contrary to an idea that has had some circulation, the Federal Housing Administration makes no loans to the public, although it does insure loans made by private lending agencies up to 20 per cent of the total amount of the loan.

When he makes application for the loan, which may be from $100 to $2000, the property-owner is given a property-owner's credit statement to fill out and sign. If approved, he signs a promissory note for the amount requested. He then receives the proceeds and either engages contractors or purchases materials and does the work himself.

If the property-owner goes to an industrial bank, a discount note would probably be used, and month payments or deposits accumulated to apply in a lump sum to pay the note at maturity.

If the note is purchased by a finance company, the property-owner submits his credit statement to a contractor or dealer. The latter then presents the statement to a financial institution for credit approval. If approved, the contractor proceeds with the work. Upon completion of the job the property-owner gives the contractor his promissory note for payment. The contractor after endorsing the note, with or without recourse as arranged, sells it to the financial institution and obtains cash in payment of the job.

Whatever the method of obtaining the loan, however, there is one basic requirement. A financial institution may not collect in interest, discount or fee a total charge exceeding an amount equivalent to $5 discount per year per $100 original face amount of the note, the note to be paid in periodic installments not oftener than once a month.

For instance, for a job costing $95 the note could have a face value of $100 and the total return to the financial institution could not exceed $5, the property-owner to make monthly installment payments of $8.34 (with adjustment on last payment. In this particular case, we are assuming a one year note.

(Tomorrow's article will attempt to answer some of the questions contained in letters from Boston Evening American readers, who contemplate taking out a Modernization Credit Plan loan.)

Home Loan Is Open to All

Any property-owner, individual, partnership or corporation, may apply for a Modernization Credit Plan loan.

The loan is to be used solely for property improvement.

It may be secured at any national bank, state bank or trust company, savings bank, industrial bank, building and loan association or finance company, approved by the Federal Housing Association.

The amount of the loan may be from $100 to $2000. The note which the property-owner signs may run for any number of months from one to five years.

The security required is that the property-owner have a regular income and a good credit record.

(If you have any problems concerning loans under the Modernization Credit Plan, write to Peggy Doyle, Boston American, Boston, Mass.)

THREAT BY AIR BRINGS FINE

Carver, Sept. 14—In a case believed to be unique in Massachusetts courts, Fred Wood, 35, financial secretary of the striking cranberry union, was fined $100 in Wareham for intimidation of bog workers from an airplane.

According to Chief William S. Smith, Wood shook his fist at the workers as he flew over them in a low flying plane. Wood appealed and was held in bail of $1000.

The pilot of the plane, Earl Smith, 25, of School street, North Dighton, was fined $10 on a charge of low flying.

YOUNG AMERICA TO LEAD WAY, SAYS GALE

Awakened Young America, alive to the existing chaos and conscious of its own importance as a social and economic unit, will show this nation the way out.

This was the message which Bradford E. Gale, president of the National Young Peoples' Religious Union brought to the Massachusetts Conference of Social Work in session at Wellesley College today. He said:

"Fear of the future and the insecurity of the present are forcing the youth of this country to be more greatly concerned about their status in American society.

"Whether youth is driven into the ranks of extreme radicalism, fascism, or whether it shall avoid extremes and think out its problems in orderly fashion, it shall be heard.

"The greatest need of American youth today is the need of a sense of security. This problem of security is primarily an economic problem.

"Youth needs work. Youth needs jobs, honorable work and a chance to live creatively and to express life's deepest desires and hopes. This means a fundamental readjustment of our social order in which there shall be work for all and security for all.'

HEAVY GUARDS ARE PLACED OVER WATER SUPPLIES

York camps, however, and President Roosevelt, embarking at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., for the America Cup races, announced he would confer at Newport tomorrow morning with Secretary of War George H. Dern and General Fox Conner, of Boston, First Army Corps area commander.

Dern Leaves Boston on Cape Cod Trip

Secretary Dern left Boston to inspect the Cape Cod Canal engineering projects this morning and will go on to Newport after returning here tonight.

Governor Green's decision not to ask for army troops was reached after a conference at Providence with Adjutant General Herbert R. Dean.

The Governor said he was not attempting to interfere with preaching of Communist doctrine or the exercise of free speech, in his order to arrest Communist agitators, but merely to have all known Communists questioned to determine what part they may have played in inciting riots.

Police chiefs have been asked by the Governor to deliver to immifration authorities fro possible deportation any alien apprehended in the Communist roundup.

The General Assembly again met in special session to act on his request for a $200,000 appropriation to swell the ranks of state polife and finance the national guard.

The quiet at Woonsocket, Saylesville and Central Falls was feared to be the lull before another storm. There the inciters marked time under the bayonets, rifles and machine guns of 2000 National Guardsmen.

Volunteers from the ranks of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars were also on guard, but not in the strike areas.

Closing of Plant Relieves Tension

There was a report that word had circulated among the rioters to keep the peace until the assembly disbands without calling the troops.

Some of the tension had undoubtedly been relieved, however, by the closing of the Sayles Finishing Company, and the Woonsocket Rayon Company.

Throughout Rhode Island, Red leaders were in hiding from police and Department of Justice agents carrying out Governor Green's order for a state-wide roundup of all known Communists.

Forty persons were being held at Woonsocket. More than a score arrested elsewhere were released after questioning.

Three young men arrested in Woonsocket following the looting of stores were sentenced today to six months in jail. Cases of others were continued.

Lowell, Worcester and Putnam, Ct., were other danger zones on the New England strike front. Police were massed at Lowell mills following reports that a Communist demonstration would be attempted.

In Worcester police cancelled a permit for a Communist meeting after learning Ann Burlak, "red flame" agitator, was to speak.

War veterans, acting as individuals, mobilized at Woonsocket and Pawtucket after the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, as organizations, voted not to enter the strike.

Each organization's members, however, offered their services as individuals. All specified, however, they would not serve in the actual strike zones.

At Pawtucket, 35 ex-service men, wearing their war-time "tin hats" were immediately dispatched to Central Falls. Wearing the badges of special police and carrying night sticks, they were assigned to areas distant from the strike zone.

Woonsocket, in contrast to previous disorder, was peaceful. Trucks filled with soldiers patrolled the business areas. Other soldiers, on foot, stood a few feet apart, around the mill of the Woonsocket Rayon Company. Bayonets protruded from rifles. Meanwhile police cars, each carrying four or more policemen, roamed the outskirts of the city. A few pickets appeared in the strike zone this morning but left peacefully after learning all mills were closed. The troop order was:

"Not more than three in a gathering."

Order Enforced To the Letter

That order was enforced to the letter. One policeman, Albert Lemoine, was injured by a flying rock after he tried to break up a gathering of several men. His injury was considered not serious.

Seven more alleged looters were arrested. Every road leading to the rayon mill was blocked by a barbed wire barricade. "Just a precaution," a guard officer said.

The dead were Jude Courtmanche, 19, fatally wounded in Woonsocket's riot Wednesday night, and Charles Goroynski, 18, of Central Falls, shot during the Saylesville riot Tuesday night.

What was regarded as likely to be the beginning of a concerted move among property owners to collect damages from the city of Woonsocket for the looting of stores occurred today.

Joseph S. Eisenberg, of the department store of Eisenberg & Tipton, called at City Hall to obtain information as to how to go about instituting suit.

A Rhode Island statute provides that except when the Governor has decuared martial law, when property damage amounting to more than $50 results from a riot, the town or city where it occurs is liable for three-quarters of the damage.

Should this move be carried out it would constitute a serious financial problem for Woonsocket.

Elsewhere along the northern New England strike front where more than 100,000 textile workers were idle, there was many a city that would bear watching today. Not the least of those was Lawrence.

In Lowell there was a good deal of uneasiness over resumption of mass picketing at the hosiery plant of the Lowell Mills Company. Strike organizers charged that manufacturers were "sneaking" workers into the mill. They promised "real action" on Monday if the alleged practice continued.

5 Garment Factories Closed by Walkout

Meetings of striking garment workers were announced for today in New Bedford after closing of five factories in that city. Meanwhile pickets concentrated on the Lincoln Shirt plant. More than a thousand, mostly girls walked out yesterday.

At the same time, in New Bedford, William E. G. Batty, secretary of the textile council, announced that the Rayon Weavers, Inc., a plant employing about 200 workers, had signed a contract directly with the union. This was the first company in the country to so meet union demands.

At Fall River members of the loom fixers' local received their first lockout pay checks from the Union of American Federation of Textile Operatives. The sum total was $1250, distributed among 850 members.

Tomorrow the carders and the slasher tenders' locals of the same union are expected to start distribution of the lockout checks, ranging from $3 to $5 for each member. About 1000 members of the weavers' local are expecting their checks some time next week.

At the headquarters of the United Textile Workers of America it was announced today that weekly checks of $3 each would be distributed among the 8000 members some time next week. The disbursement will amount to $24,000 weekly.

Larner's Statement Is Challenged

A statement by William B. Larner, secretary of the weavers' local of the American Federation of Textile operatives, that 85 per cent of the mill hands were ready and willing to work was challenged today by Marianno S. Bishop, president of the Fall River U. T. W. Textile Council.

An echo of the first-day scenes in the strike reached the Fall River District Court when Manuel Pimental, Jr., was found guilty on a charge of assault and battery. Court said Pimental would be sentenced tomorrow to nine months in the house of correction.

In Barowsville, near Taunton, where the Defiance Bleachery is still operating in the face of strike threats, an injunction was procured to restrain union members from "interfering with the business of the mill or threatening its employes."

This was the plant that saw the first of the Massachusetts state police on guard as cotton fabrics were removed under a writ of replevin for a New York concern.

In Maine, most of the public attention was directed to the mobilization of regular troops, but the National Guard was busy.

One company of troops was called to Showhegan to protect employes and property of the Maine Spinning Mills and the D. L. Cummings Shoddy Mills, as employes of both plants quit. A flying squaldren concentrated there, but no disorder ensued.

Other companies of 103rd infantrymen remained on duty at mills in Lewiston and Augusta, keeping alert eyes on the ranks of picketers. No troops were out in Waterville, but a mill employe, Alec Rouleau, was arrested, charged with attacking a striker.

No Back Talk When Machine Gun Argues for Woonsocket Peace

National Guard truck, converted into mobile machine-gun unit, does duty as a law and order argument in strike-torn Woonsocket, R. I. Although the militiamen's quick firer stutters when it speaks its piece, there's no misunderstanding its leaden messages. Federal troops may or may not be coming to relieve state military forces, but the guard hasn't yet got its back to the wall. Woonsocket's brief regime of lawlessness came to a quick end when citizen soldiers, armed for war or what have you, took the situation in hand. It is "Reds," not striking textile workers, that the machine-gun patrols are organized again, commanding officers assert. (Picture by Boston Evening American Staff Photographer.)

5 N. C. STRIKERS CUT; 4 SEIZED

By Associated Press

Burlington, N. C., Sept. 14—Five persons were cut by bayonets and four arrested at the E. M. Holt weave mills here today as National Guardsmen used tear gas and bayonets to disperse pickets. The mill continued operating.

The number of those wounded by bayonets and the names of those arrested were not immediately known.

An additional company of soldiers under command of Captain Theodore Fountain arrived from Raleigh early today.

MAINE MILITIA ORDERED OUT

By Associated Press

Augusta, Me., Sept. 14—A battalion of National Guard troops moved today into Biddeford, large textile center, as a precautionary measure against flying squadrons of strikers.

Reuorts that a group of textile strike leaders from New Bedford, were en route to Biddeford and Lewiston "to clean up" the tusiation in those cities had failed to materialize.

Only a handful of Lewiston's 4000 workers were on strike and none was reported out from the huge mills of the Pepperell Manufacturing Co. and the York Manufacturing Co. in the Biddeford area.

Pair of Elopers Sought by Police

Romance, which is seldom smooth, had police today searching for an East Boston youth and a girl neighbor believed to have eloped—with an added complaint by her parents that her brother received a beating in attempting to break up the match. The couple sought are Valentino Marcelle, 20, of Havre street, and Miss Stella Terrilli, 17, living a few doors away on the same street.

C. H. McCarthy, of Leominster, Dead

Leominster, Sept. 14 (AP)—Charles H. McCarthy, 49, supervisor of the Fitchburg office of the Department of Motor Vehicles and Exalted Ruler of Leominster Lodge of Elks, died suddenly here today. He was a native of Clinton. His widow, Myra, survives.

New Dahlia to Be Seen at Hub Show

The new dahlia, "Grandee," from California, will be exhibited tomorrow and Sunday, during the last of the summer shows of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society, in co-operation with the New England Dahlia Society at Horticultural Hall.

Austrian Nazi Doomed

Vienna, Sept. 14 (INS)—Franz Teissenberger, former police officer and leader in the Nazi "putsch" of July 25 that resulted in assassination of Chancellor Dollfuss, was sentenced to be hanged today. He will be the 25th executed because of the revolt.

Fair Profit for Business Called New Deal Aim

A fairly earned profit for every business is the goal of President Roosevelt, according to Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, speaking at the national business conference at Babson Park, Wellesley. He said:

"I am absolutely certain that all business can rely upon that.

"Some of you are probably worried about our future and do not agree with much that is being done at Washington, but I wonder if any feel that anyone could do better.

"The business man is seldom practical in public affairs, and I doubt if he is public-minded enough."

German Cotton Deal Rejected

Manchester, Eng., Sept. 14—Manchester cotton traders rejected German proposals for settlement of the dispute arising from Lancashire's claim for over-due payments for textiles exported to Germany. The German offer was to pay $1,000,000 on old accounts within a year.

A special committee was formed to consider the advisability of approaching the coal industry and the woolen industry with a view to united action against German importers.

Keep it Quiet

They're double-woven Rockhill Worsteds

you get 2 trousers with every suit

$25

The boss thinks we're loco! "Here's an event that calls for a rousing blast", says he, "and what do you do? You whisper about it". Well, this special offering needs only a whisper to start something! You know the high rating enjoyed by Rockhill Worsteds—you know how double-weaving gives them that rich feel—and you know how expensive they generally are. But with only 500 of these topnotchers going at $25, with two trousers, why shout? It's a safe bet that there are lots more than 500 men who are eager to grab at a chance like this. And frankly, we don't want to disappoint the late arrivals. So if you "hear" this whisper, and are tired of wearing that old faded summer outfit, make up your mind to carry away one of these prize values. But get in early, today or tomorrow, so you're sure of good pickings!

STARS ENTERED IN AUTO RACE

A resumption of the duel between "Wild Bill" Cummings, who won the Indianapolis 500 mile auto race, and Mauri Rose, who was just 22 seconds behind him, will be seen tomorrow at the Brockton fair, when the championship AAA race starts in the afternoon.

New England's leading drivers will meet such nationally known contenders as Malcolm Fox, Westvilles, N. J.; Fred Winnai, Milton Marion, and Maynard Clark, Stanwood, Ia.

Claude Burton of Boston, will stage a comeback after an absence of several years, and Sid Perhouse, of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Harry Angeloni of New Brunswick, N. J., also are entered.

BAUER BOOSTS SMOKING BAN

Smoking by Lynn men and women teachers was again under criticism today following the attack by former Mayor Ralph S. Bauer on the proposal to revise the ban on nicotine.

Charging that it would set a bad example, Bauer, who originally sponsored the ban while mayor in 1926, said:

"I believe that teachers in our public schools here should be, on account of their position, held to moral standards that do not generally apply. It is frequently the case that scholars seem to think they have the right to do everything they see their teachers do."

CANDY POISONS 3 CHILDREN

The children are Robert, Elizabeth and John Devlin, six, five and three years old respectively. Their mother, Mrs. Dorothy Devlin, of Taylor street, Neponset, told officials at the hospital that the children were stricken shortly after eating some candy she had purchased for them.

Although the children were reported to be in a critical condition, physicians believed they would recover.

Port of Boston

By WILLIAM F. MAGUIRE

Returning from her final Boston cruise of the season, the Anchor liner Transylvania, docks at Cunard Pier, East Boston today. On board are over 100 persons who made the 12 days cruise to the Saguenay River, Quebec, Murray Bay and Bermuda. After landing her Boston passengers the ship will proceed to New York for another cruise.

Latest wireless report received today from the Cunard-White Star liner Britanic, enroute to this port with more than 1200 passengers, 300 of whom will disembark here, stated the liner will arrive off the lightship Sunday at 10 a. m. and dock at the Cunard pier, East Boston at noon.

3 TOWNS GO TO FIRE IN VAIN

Swampscott, Salem, and Marblehead milkmen are all good pals who stick together in an emergency. In consequence, when the garage of Milkman George A. Woodman of State road, Swampscott, caught fire today, neighbor Milkman William Niland of Salem telephoned the Salem fire department.

Woodman, himself, called the Swampscott fire department, and a third milkman, seeing the flames called his home town fire department at Marblehead.

Apparatus and firemen from all three towns arrived in force at the Woodman garage site. The garage had already burned and an automobile within it had been destroyed. Damage was set at $1000.

MYSTERY PLANE SEEN OVER SEA

By International News Service

New York, Sept. 14—Sighting of an unidentified airplane, over the Atlantic, about 200 miles southeast of Halifax, heading in the general direction of the Atlantic coast, was reported today by the skipper of the S.S. Black Gull.

The Sayville, L. I., station of the Mackay Radio at 7 a. m., E.S.T., intercepted the following general broadcast from the master of the ship:

"Latitude 42.06 N., longitude 63.51 W., sighted airplane flying low heading west southwest. Wind northeast. Fresh breeze. Overcast."

All airports in the immediate vicinity of New York expressed surprise when told of the report.

London, Sept. 14 (INS)—All British airports were canvassed without success today, for the possible identity of a plane reported sighted off the coast of Nova Scotia, heading West.

Carole Sad

JAIL PREFERRED TO MARRIAGE

Given a court alternative between marrying the woman he had duped into obtaining a divorce, or a year in the house of correction, Leo Smith, of Union Park, South End, decided to accept the latter.

Trial was the outcome of a promise Smith made to Mrs. Sarah Gibley, of Upton street, South End, mother of seven children, that he would marry her if she would get a divorce.

She lent him $1000 during the divorce proceedings. Smith then disappeared.

MALDEN CHURCH TO LAY STONE

Laying of the cornerstone of the First Church in Malden, Congregational, which is being built on the site of the old wooden church destroyed by fire last winter on Pleasant street, Malden, takes place Sunday.

The exercises will start at 10:45 a. m. The new edifice will be of brick, Colonial type.

Rev. Roy Linden Minich, the pastor, will be the only speaker at the exercises.

PORT PRAISED BY FITZGERALD

New York, Sept. 14—John F. Fitzgerald, port director of Boston, made a hit at the annual meeting of port directors from all over the country at the Hotel New Yorker here, when he mildly took to task Commissioner Joseph Eastman, who addressed the meeting, for not naming a New England man on th. railroad co-ordination committee.

He charged that the port of Boston was unjustly discriminated against because of Pennsylvania control.

He finished his remarks with a glowing picture of Boston harbor and its possibilities, if given a fair chance. Responding to calls, he rendered "Sweet Adeline."

the response to Scott's new policy was even greater than we anticipated ... so again we say ...

"rub your eyes—it's really true"

Here at Scott Furriers we're conscious of being in the limelight. People are watching us ... waiting to see what we'll do next. First we introduced the now famous Scott Unique Payment Club (registered), the only one in New England, which has solved the clothes problems of New England women from all walks of life. It caused a sensation. Last month we presented for the first time Scott "Super-Bilt" fur coats, "Budget-eer" cloth coats and "First-Fashion" Fall dresses. The reception they got was almost enough to turn our heads! When we opened our new "wonder" building of six floors containing 35,000 square feet of floor space on Winter Street, last month (two and one half times the size of our previous location), sceptics again said we were out of tune with the times when others "were standing still" and "waited to see how business would be." What happened? ... last month we enjoyed the largest business in our history.

NATIVE VEGETABLES TERMED BEST FOOD BARGAINS

(This is the ninth of a series of articles on the high cost of living and how it can be met with economical measures.)

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

These are jottings from the official notebook of Miss Eleanor W. Bateman of the division of markets in the Department of Agriculture at the State House.

There is an increase in the price of meats especially.

Eggs, while not low-priced because it is not the local egg season, are still moderately priced.

FRUITS IN SEASON

With the increased prices of food, her one suggestion to those of limited income is to obtain knowledge of the fruits and vegetables in season and buy them at that time.

"When our native season is at hand," Miss Bateman continued, "there is not only a liberal supply but wew have highest quality and moderate prices.

"All too soon frost will grab the choicest, most perishable fruits from local gardens. So give these native perishables—tomatoes, beans, corns, cucumbers, spinach, peppers and eggplant, due place and space on the menu."

We find that Cape cranberries have already arrived and the grape list grows steadily among our native supply.

That native apples appear plentiful, continuing so until the end of December.

That pears and peaches will be on the market stands until early October.

That a new crop of spinach is arriving at market and will be plentiful until the end of November.

That cauliflower and escarole are two other native vegetables that continue to be with us until November closes.

LOCAL PRODUCTS

Beets, cabbage, beans, carrots, broccoli, celery, squash, onions, peppers, turnip and potatoes ought to be moderately priced because they represent our own agriculture.

The Boston retail price report issued by Miss Bateman reveals that Gravenstein apples are priced from 5 to 6½ cents a pound, Wealthy apples sell for 25 cents for 3 to 5 lbs. and that 3 lbs. of McIntosh apples also cost 25 cents.

APPLES AID TEETH

Dr. John Harvey Kellogg of the Battle Creek Sanatorium extolls the health possibilities of apples and urges their daily use as a cheap method of obtaining maximum nutrition. He says:

"The acid of the apple is antiseptic, it has been shown that it destroys even the germs of typhoid fever.

"Apples at meals and at bedtime make an end to headaches by removing the cause.

"Children are particularly benefited by the free use of apples, which are rich in vitamines B and C, promoting growth and development."

RENTS SOON TO RISE

Necessaries of Life Director Ralph W. Hobart, points out that a substantial increase in rentals can be expected because of past practices of according to rental concessions to prospective tenants in order to have property occupied.

This great evil has undermined property values, he asserts, and has thrown the rental situation into a state of chaos.

"Many owners," he said, "under the stress of conditions, have adopted the policy of giving concessions of one, two or three months' rent which has become almost universal, and prospective tenants today, particularly in heated apartments, first ask the question: 'How many months' concession do you give?', before they inquire as to the monthly rental charges.

DEMAND INCREASING

"Eventually the supply of properties for rental and the demand for them will be more nearly equalized and the practice of granting free rental for one or more months will no longer prevail, but this condition will never be corrected until the titular holders of property realize that their equity represents but a small part of the money value of the property.

"No owner of property is justified in granting free rental for a time or in charging such a low rental as to reduce the return on his property below the fixed income necessary to meet the financial obligations which he has assumed in connection with the property.

"During the next few years, the tendency will probably be toward the construction of single family homes, at a moderate cost of about $5000 each, and these will in the most part be located in suburban areas where land is plentiful and where land values are reasonable."

(This series will end in tomorrow's American.)

WEATHER

Healthy Mothers Have Healthy Babies

Three Generations Benefited

"My mother took your Vegetable Compound most of her life, especially at the Change. When I got married I took it during pregnancy. It makes childbirth very easy. I have two lovely daughters. One is married now, and she takes your medicine, too." — Mrs. Marie Lubeck, 1024 Boston Road, Bronx, New York.

For your baby's sake, take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before and after childbirth. It will give you more strength and energy ... quiet your nerves ... prepare you for the ordeal of motherhood. After the baby comes, it will help you to regain normal health and vitality.

"After my first baby was born I was a nervous wreck. I started taking the Vegetable Compound and it helped me. Before my second child was born I took the medicine regularly and everything went fine from beginning to end. I had an easy time at the hospital and feel fine ever since. — Mrs. E. P. Severance, 29 Highland Ave., Derry, N. H.

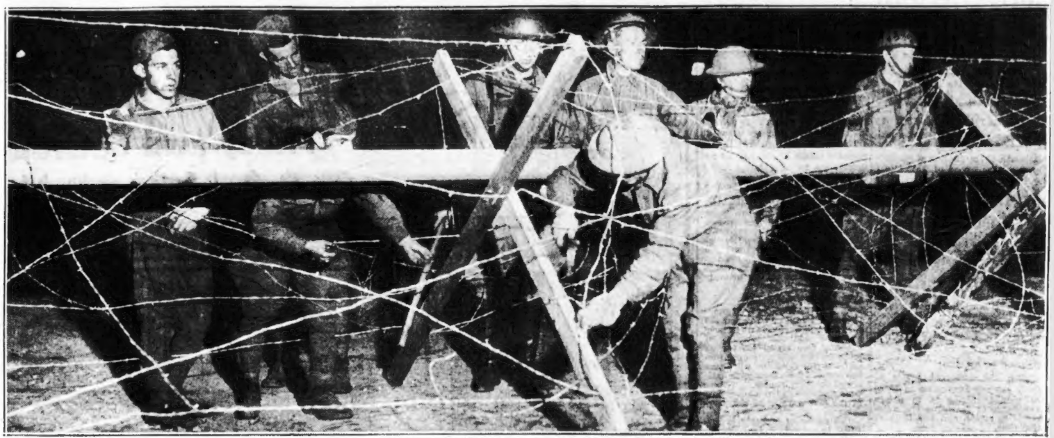
TROOPERS SUPERVISE PEACEFUL PICKETING IN RHODE ISLAND

SMILING THROUGH. Hot coffee and doughnuts brighten up life on the Woonsocket textile front for Strike Picket Yvette Oulette. And it would be a mighty hardboiled national guardsman who wouldn't smile right back at the fair Yvette. Too bad the World War armies didn't have a few Yvettes on the firing line. The armistice would have come lots quicker. Laughing eyes do much more damage than mere rocks or machine gun bullets.



UP AGAIN—DOWN AGAIN. The textile strike "war" is plenty war enough for National Guard wire details assigned to erect barbed wire entanglements at sunset, in the Woonsocket mill district, then tear them down again when daylight comes. After a night or two on this job a bit of bayonet fighting or a rock barrage is just relaxation for a soldier boy. Guardsmen here are blocking an alley near Clinton street. The wire barriers are to prevent mob rushes under cover of darkness.

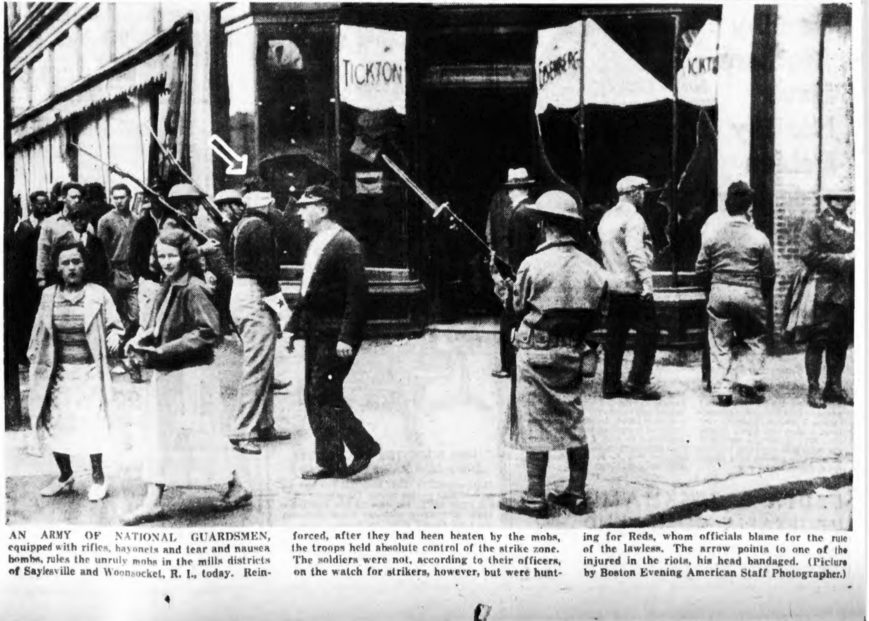
FRANCIS A. BURNS ADELARD GINGRASS JOSEPH SILVIA LIEUTENANT FRANCIS SPRY

STRIKE LEADERS. Francis A. Burns, attorney for the United Textile Workers; Adelard Gingrass, organizer for the U. T. W., and Joseph Silvia, New England organizer for the U. T. W., snapped as they conferred with Lieutenant Francis Spry at the barricade in Longsdale avenue, a few blocks from the Sayles Finishing plant in Saylesville, R. I.

EVEN MILKMAN BARRED. Rhode Island's national guard won't even let the milkman pass through the deadline in Woonsocket. But then the soldier boys must do their bit and see that the milk reaches its destination. Here is one of the guardsmen taking a quart of milk from a milkman at the barrier for a family in the restricted area.



AN ARMY OF NATIONAL GUARDSMEN, equipped with rifles, bayonets and tear and nausea bombs, rules the unruly mobs in the mills districts of Saylesville and Woonsocket, R. I., today. Reinforced, after they had been beaten by the mobs, the troops held absolute control of the strike zone. The soldiers were not, according to their officers, on the watch for strikers, however, but were hunting for Reds, whom officials blame for the rule of the lawless. The arrow points to one of the injured in the riots, his head bandaged. (Picture by Boston Evening American Staff Photographer.)

Russell Largest Milton Landowner

The distinction of being the largest landowner in Milton goes to James S. Russell of Canton avenue, according to an announcement of the local board of assessors' office.

Russell's estate is valued at $414,700.

Son of Worcester Woman Killed

Buhl, Idaho, Sept. 14 (AP)—Robert W. Alberty, 25, of Long Beach, Cal. son of Mrs. M. D. Alberty, Worcester, Mass., was killed near here last night when the automobile in which he was riding plunged from a highway grade.

Betty Says He Kicked Her

Actress Betty Boyd wants legal separation from her broker husband, Charles Henry Over, Jr. She says he kicked her, locked her up for talking to other men and made her go to naughty shows in Havana. Betty and Charles, once divorced, were reconciled and remarried. But it didn't take, Betty tells the court.

RICH MATE SUED BY BETTY BOYD

By Associated Press

Los Angeles, Sept. 14—The marital troubles of Betty Boyd were laid before the courts again today in a separate maintenance suit in which the actress charged her wealthy broker-husband, Charles Henry Over, Jr., "kicked her until she was covered with blood from head to foot."

The actress asked $500 a month and attorney's fees of $5,000. She asserted Over had an income of $3,000 a month.

At Havana she said he forced her to accompany him to an improper show.

OFFICER FIRED FROM FORCE

Found guilty of infractions of police rules, Patrolman Albert J. Clifford of the Charlestown station was dismissed from the force, by order of Police Commissioner Eugene C. Hultman.

Dismissal was the aftermath of an argument on Baldwin street, Charlestown, September 1, when Clifford was unarmed and taken to a police car by a citizen.

Divorced Wife Shoots No. 2

By Associated Press

Kansas City, Sept. 14—Mrs. John A. Thompson, 39, was reported in a critical condition from bullet wounds today and Mrs. Grace Wynne, her husband's former wife, was said by police to have confessed the shooting.

Mrs. Thompson was shot three times last night just as she and her husband, superintendent of maintenance for the Kansas City Park department, were entering their home.

"Take this," screamed a woman concealed in the shadows of the porch. A burst of pistol fire followed.

"I don't know why I did it," Mrs. Wynne said at police headquarters.

Wedded Teachers Face Dismissal

Married teachers in the Waltham schools face dismissal if action is taken on a recent proposal now being considered by the Waltham school committee.

City Solicitor George P. Drury told the school board that there were no legal obstacles to the plan if it was done in good faith and for the public interest.

How would you like to lose 15 pounds of fat and at the same time increase your energy and improve your health?

How would you like to lose a load of unhealthy fat that you don't need and don't want and at the same time feel better than you have for years?

How would you like to lose your double chin and your too prominent abdomen and at the same time make your skin so clean and clear that it will compel admiration?

How would you like to get your weight down to normal and at the same time develop that urge for activity that makes work a pleasure and also gain in ambition and keenness of mind?

Get on the scales to-day and see how much you weigh—then get an 85 cent bottle of Kruschen Salts which will last you for 4 weeks. Take one half level teaspoonful in a cupful of hot water every morning. Cut down on pastry and fatty meats—go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar and when you have finished the contents of this first bottle weigh yourself again.

Now you can laugh at the people who pay hundreds of dollars at expensive spas to lose a few pounds of fat—now you will know the pleasant way to lose unsightly fat and you'll also know that the 6 salts of Kruschen have presented you with glorious health.

After that you'll want to walk around and say to your friends—"One 85 cent bottle of Kruschen Salts is worth one hundred dollars of any fat person's money."

Meet the winners!

After many hours of relentless selection the Boston Evening American "About Faces" editor has chosen the following as winners in last week's "About Faces" series. The editor thanks the many thousands who solved the "About Faces" solutions but who didn't win awards this week. Remember a new series starts every Monday so you still have a chance to win one of the cash awards. Get busy today!

Go to the Metropolitan theater today for clues to today's "About Faces." The screen offers "British Agent" and the stage presents "Parade of the Century," Fabien Sevitzky conducts the grand orchestra, there's dancing to the melodious strains of Sid Reinherz in the Platinum Salon, and Scott's Fashion Parade is on the stage, as an added feature.

Beneath each drawing of the Hollywood star is a block of squares. These squares equal the number of letters in his or her name. Fill in these squares using the letter given as a clue and mail your "About Faces" series, at the end of the week, to the About Faces editor, Boston Evening American, Boston, Mass.

Kenney, ERA Head, Lauds Legion Baby Contest

Today's children should be state-assured of an opportunity to work and earn a regular income, it was declared today by James W. Kenney, director of the Boston Public Library ERA projects, in commenting on the American Legion Baby Contest.

"For this nation to direct its great energies and its untold wealth, its unmatched resources," he said, "to the end that all its citizens who are willing to earn that bread and butter may be assured of the opportunity to do so, would be a long step in bettering social conditions universally.

"With minds relieved of the anxieties besetting poverty and want, cultural development, encouraged and provided for by the state, would be an easy sequence."

The contest, sponsored by James E. Welch Post No. 58 of the Legion, is arousing wide response among parents throughout the state.

Any child of a Massachusetts voter or any child with a legal and registered voter as guardian is eligible in the competition.

Entries must be made by means of the baby's photograph, regular cabinet size. Photographs will be reproduced in the Boston Evening American—pictures selected at random—and any day the picture of your child entry may appear. Watch for them each day.

Ten prizes will be awarded, the first being a silver loving cup, which will go to the boy or girl scoring the highest number of points.

Third prize is $15.

Fifth prize is $5 in cash and a pair of shoes.

There will be additional "surprise prizes."

Staff members of various Boston hospitals will be judges of health in this contest. Personality of the entrants will be judged by associates of the Fox Film Corporation and members of the staff of the Boston Evening American.

Error Corrected in Strike Story

In an issue of September 5 it was stated inadvertently and incorrectly in the Boston Evening American that boos greeted workers as they marched between lines of pickets after a night's work at the Goodrich plant, New Bedford.

The B. F. Goodrich Company has no textile plant in New Bedford, the only Goodrich plant being in Watertown, where footwear is manufactured. The workers booed were employed by another concern in New Bedford.

U. S. to Borrow 75 Million

Washington, Sept. 14—Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau has invited tenders for approximately 75 million dollars of 182-day discount bills to be dated September 19.

In the Race for the New Era Baby Honor

Little Maurice Kirby, of Arlmont street, Winthrop, and Abraham Kaunfer, of Standish street, Dorchester, are just two of the hundreds of children entered in the contest to pick the "New Era" baby, staged under the auspices of the James E. Welch Post, No. 58, American Legion. Have you entered your child yet?

"Get a LIFT with a Camel!"

MISS HELEN HICKS rose to the supreme heights of golf to win the women's championship of the United States—defeating the 5-times U. S. champion and the champion of Great Britain on two successive days. A frequent smoker while on the fairways, Miss Hicks is outspoken in her preference for Camels, for it was through smoking Camels that she learned how to guard against fatigue. What she has to say on the subject of fatigue and the refreshing effect of Camels will be of interest to every smoker.

HELEN HICKS tells her way of regaining youthful energy!

OLYMPIC CHAMPION DIVER. "When I'm tired and feel the need of a 'lift,'" says Georgia Coleman, "I smoke a Camel and soon feel like my real self again. And I like their mildness and different flavor."

OFFICE MANAGER. John W. Grout says: "A man can't handle a tough office job without healthy nerves. I smoke Camels steadily ...all day long...and I never even have to think of jangled nerves. Camels have the finest flavor, too."

TENNIS STAR. Ellsworth Vines, Jr., spectacular young Pasadena athlete, holder of two U.S. National Championships, says: "Camels appeal to my taste, and have a refreshing way of bringing my energy up to a higher level. They seem to restore my 'pep' and take away that tired feeling."

"THE strain of championship golf puts a tremendous tax upon your energy," says Miss Helen Hicks. "I often find that I'm absolutely exhausted at the finish. But I can always restore my energy quickly with a Camel. For you get a delightful 'lift' with a Camel. And it's a 'lift' that I enjoy often, as I find I can smoke Camels constantly without a sign of jangled nerves."

Every rôle in life has its strain. Every day has its many moments of uncertainty...self-distrust ..."low" spirits. So why not turn to Camels yourself...for more smoking enjoyment...to offset fatigue and irritability? Thousands of experienced smokers have found for themselves that Camels give a delightful "lift." And science, as you may have noticed in your reading, definitely confirms what they report.

Camels are mellow and distinctive in flavor —milder—made from costlier tobaccos. Smoke all you want—Camels never get on your nerves.

ALL TOBACCO MEN KNOW:
"Camels are made from finer, More Expensive Tobaccos—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand."

CITY PROPERTY VALUES CUT MILLIONS

More than half the $97,301,000 cut in tax valuation for real estate in the city was made in the Back Bay and the downtown business district, figures made public by the assessors revealed today.

Assessments in Ward 3, the downtown section, were reduced $48,004,600, while Ward 5, which includes the shopping streets of the Back Bay, received a $16,171,000 decrease in valuations. The residential district of the Back Bay was cut $5,843,000 in Ward 4.

CUTS IN ALL WARDS

The Allston auto district, Ward 21, fell $5,746,000 in valuation last year, while the industrial section of South Boston, Ward 6, dropped $1,556,000 in value.

Reductions in tax valuation were made in every ward in the city. Smallest of the lot was Ward 15, the Meeting House Hill section of Dorchester where the cut was only $285,000. In all but four of the 22 wards the reduction exceeded a million dollars.

ASSESSMENTS SLASHED

More than $2,600,000 will be saved tax payers whose assessments have been reduced with the tax rate set at $37.10 per $1000. The total value of Boston's real estate is now [illegible] the assessors figure.

Personal property showed a gain of $801,600 in the past year, the total of taxable personal property in the city now being $1,[illegible]828,900 as of April 1.

MAD MILLIONS—By Charles Grant

CHAPTER XXXIII

The Marques d'Alhues lay on Marian's bed at her hotel, smoking a cigar and watching her with idle appreciation while she got from her street clothes into a pyjama negligee of orange chiffon.

"I have to laugh when I think about Homer," she broke off a gay trill to explain, as she ran a comb through her hair. "I wish you could have seen him when I surprised him with that girl! Oh, darling, isn't it too gorgeous to be together like this, and know we're never going to be separated again!"

"After all our difficulties and sorrows," d'Alhues said pathetically. "I was so lonely. You are so sweet, so pretty. Kiss me, querida. You have not kissed me since you came in!"

"Only about seventeen times," Marian reminded him as she made the score eighteen. "I wish we didn't have to be separated even as much as this. I wish we could be sailing with that Infanta of yours tonight, and her bunch, he entourage, I mean. We could, too, if she'd give you a commission for selling those rubies of hers, as anybody else would expect to do. Still, I suppose it would be crazy of me to leave this country until my divorce is all fixed up and the alimony arrangements settled . . .

"What's this thing here?" She picked up an unstamped envelope from the bedside table, opened it and bit her lips in annoyance. "My bill! Have I been here a whole week? It doesn't seem as long as that, does it? That's because I've been so happy, I suppose. Homer ought to have sent me some money by now. I have hardly any left. I don't suppose you have any money, have you, darling?"

PEARLS MEAN MONEY

"Alas!"

But he had a ready suggestion, for he knew what it is necessary to do when your money gives out. "You have ornaments, querida. One is never poor till one's jewels are gone. I see no reason to be without money. If you will give me those pearls you wear I will sell them for you."

Marian's fingers flew to her throat. "Sell my pearls! You will not. Think I'd give up my lovely darling necklace? I'll need this when we're going around with all the dukes and princesses and things on the other side!"

She looked at her bill. Forty-five dollars. There was food to think about, too, she reflected, and she had broken her last five dollar bill to pay for their lunch. Her slender plucked eyebrows writhed together.

"I certainly won't part with any of my jewelry, but I suppose I might hock these. I guess it'll have to come to that, for I've simply got to have some money in a hurry. I think Homer is a perfect pig not to send me any. I wrote I should need it, and he'll be made to pay as soon as the case comes up. Of course, he enjoys holding out on me as long as he can!

"I'll tell you what we'll do, sweetie: we'll go out together to the nearest branch of the Provident Loan Society. I've taken things there before, and it's a perfectly safe and even rather reasonable. Lots of people hock their silver and stuff there when they're going away because it's safer than storage and less expensive. I wouldn't worry about my pearls if they'd give me as much on them as anybody else, and anyhow I don't want too much because as soon as Homer's made to pay me some money I shall get them right out again."

Almost at once, however, the clerk was back again, and the pearls were being pushed toward her, lying there for her to take up. "There seems to be some mistake, madam. These are artificial worth about $50. Excellent imitations, but we lend only on real jewels, gold and silver, articles of actual value——"

She turned away from the window, and d'Alhues, who had been sitting against the wall, rose to his feet, a good deal disturbed by her expression.

"Come out of here!" Marian exclaimed frantically, taking his arm and dragging him outside. On the pavement she cried, "He cheated me! They aren't worth anything—and I loved him so. He played me for a sucker!"

She dashed on past the entrance to the hotel, into Washington square.

"Now what am I going to do!" she exploded, pulling d'Alhues down onto a bench.

"I don't know," he said. "It's very inconvenient. Have you some other jewels that are real?"

"Nothing to amount to anything. Oh, I suppose I can pay my hotel bill for a few more weeks . . . Oh, this thing makes me so furious. But it's silly of me. I guess I ought to consider myself lucky in getting rid of that piking little swine, and to have you!"

LOVE IS PROFESSED

She gazed adoringly into his heavily classic face, but he did not meet her eyes. He looked instead at a crack in the walk.

"It is very unfortunate about the pearls," he repeated. But after a few moments of abstraction he laid his arm along the top of the bench behind her and edged close. "You are right, mi corazon! We have each other . . . But there is a little business I must attend to—for Dona Josefa—"

"It's always that old Infanta that takes you away from me. Won't I be glad when she's sailed! And I hope she's seasick!"

"You must not speak with disrespect of my royal mistress," he reproved her. "I will not be long. In the evening I have to see her aboard the steamer and I shall not get off until the last minute, so it would be too late then to come to you. So I go now, and then I will return and in each other's arms we will forget this vexation, until it is time for me to be of service to Dona Josefa for the last time."

Joe's death, and the mystery surrounding it, got a big play in the tabloids. His family insisted the boy had been murdered, but little was done about investigating the circumstances. To the police, it was merely a case of another victim taken for a ride. Joe was probably put on the spot. He was known to have hung out with Butti's gang.

Seward read the news with self-reproach, and with deep sympathy for Cathleen.

He hurried over to Queens. He now realized some of the difficulties about money that pressed on the McCarthy family, and, most of all, on Cathleen herself.

READY TO HELP

"Perhaps they'll let me help them," Seward thought.

The little house was crowded with sympathetic visitors. Joe lay in state in the sitting-room and, when Seward rang the bell, Patrick McCarthy appeared, subdued indeed and wrapped in the simple dignity of grief, but with the reverse of a welcoming manner.

"And it's yourself that might be staying away from this house of mourning today!" he said. "Or maybe you did not know that my son was murdered—murdered, I said."

"Yes, I did know, Mr. McCarthy," Seward began. "That's why I'm here. I——"

"If the boy was alive he'd help me run you out," Patrick said angrily. "The fella that disgraced his sister!"

"Look here, sir," said Seward. "Please believe I understand your grief and I know your feeling towards me. But listen, Mr. McCarthy, I want to marry Cathleen! If she'll have me——"

"There wasn't any wrong, Mr. McCarthy."

"It may be I misjudged ye both," Patrick admitted reluctantly. "You talk fair enough. And if so, there's one great good to set against the great evil of this day."

"And if I'm to be your son-in-law, as I hope," Seward pressed on, "won't you consider me a member of the family now, and let me give your son a beautiful funeral. He'd have been my brother if he'd lived . . . If Cathleen will have me, I mean . . . so please let me arrange for the funeral . . . I'd consider it a privilege!"

"That would be a great relief, I'm not denying," said Patrick. "It's been a sore trouble to his mother and me, thinking how we could pay to get the boy buried decent . . . It's his murderers ought to be made to pay . . . Will you come inside, Mr. Ingram?"

CATHLEEN STRICKEN

"I had to come," he said. "I had to tell you how horribly sorry I am . . . I've talked to your father; he doesn't mind my being here. He says I can come to the funeral. The poor boy! I can imagine how you must feel, though I never had a brother."

"He was so young," said Cathleen, her eyes looking past Seward at her brother's white profile. "It—It—was kind of you to come."

"Are you going to forgive me, Cathleen? I know all about the bracelet now—"

"Thank you for coming," she said in the veiled voice that tears had brought. And for a moment she had looked deeply and gratefully into his eyes.

Ames-Clifford Ceremony in Maine

A WEDDING OF INTEREST to Bostonians took place today at St. Andrews' Church in Newcastle, Maine, when Miss Adelaide Warren Clifford, daughter of Mrs. Bernard Graham of Morristown, N. J. and Newcastle, Maine, was married to Mr. John L. Ames, son of Dr. and Mrs. John L. Ames of Chestnut street, Beacon Hill.

Miss Clifford was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Joseph W. Glidden and, following the ceremony, there was a reception at his home in Newcastle. She is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John M. Glidden of Boston.

Miss Anna Warren Winslow, daughter of Mrs. George Scott Winslow of Chestnut street, was her cousin's maid of honor. Mr. Edmund Booth of Hanover, N. H., was the best man.

Mr. Spencer Warren Graham, brother of the bride, and Mr. William L. Orr, of Montclair, N. J., a brother-in-law of Mr. Ames, served as ushers.

Bride Is Member of Junior League

MISS CLIFFORD ATTENDED Miss Todhunter's School in New York and the Institute de Essart in Montreux, Switzerland. She was presented in New York during the season of 1928-29 and is a member of the Junior League.

Ames is a graduate of Dartmouth College and is a member of the Army and Navy Club in Washington. During the World War he was a member of the Harvard Regiment, received his commission at Plattsburg and served as a captain in the first division, A. E. F., and was decorated for bravery in action.

The bridal couple will remain in Maine until November 1 when they will take up residence at Morristown, N. J.

Mrs. Nicholas Longworth arrived back at her Manchester summer home on University Lane after a few days' motor trip. She will be leaving the shore soon for Washington.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Bradley French have been spending a few days on the North Shore as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Endicott, whose estate at Smith's Point, Manchester, is one of the show places of the coast. A new swimming pool built this summer has proven a mecca for the smart set, of whom their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James LeFevre, are popular members.

This Ear---That Air -:- By N. F. T.

More inquiries for attention. More and more loud speaker patron mail asks about "Easy Aces" and all want an answer. Yes, the "bridge playing" pair return to the radio fold on October 3.

There's a bit of a battle on under the sound sanctum surface. Chicago is the field of action. Abe Lyman has invaded the stronghold of Wayne King to unofficially challenge the latter's Waltz King throne. Since Abe started his Waltz Time programs his popularity has sky-rocketed. Fan mail addressed to both is keeping the feud in full flare. Wayne, however, is confident he can retain his crown.

"N. F. T."

Another keen rivalry exists between Frank Parker and James Melton, the two top notch network tenors. Of course the boys are friends, which makes it doubly embarrassing when one receives a letter saying the writer considers him so much better than the other.

Bob Donahue, the alert Hub chap, for years my friend and co-worker here on your favorite evening newspaper staff, has just been given a promotion by the Yankee Network forces. It seems WLEY is being moved from Lexington to Lowell by Al Moffatt. Bob gets the job as boss. Congrats young fellow! Same to you, to Mr. Moffatt.

* * *

Oh yes, before forgetting the followers of Ed (Fire Chief) Wynn, let it be revealed that he pops back with his humor (WEEI) as of October 2, meaning over the 9.30 to 10 o'clock span as previously.

* * *

And as for Eds, our office boy by the same name, claims the smartest of the week's wireless quips he heard was one by Fred Allen, snapped over Wednesday night. Ed says Fred said: for a burlesque "stock quotation" gag, "Hod American Keyhole for a new Peak." Thus ends this little man's dizzy day.

Delta Upsilon Celebrates

Mrs. Hoenig Still in Critical Shape

Springfield, Sept. 14—Mrs. Mildred Hoenig, whose attempt at suicide, according to police, resulted in the death of her son Harold, 15, by gas poisoning, remains in a critical condition here. Hospital authorities said she was still unconscious. The woman, formerly of Richmond, Va., will face a charge of murder, police say, if she recovers.

Floyd Gibbons Features 'Revellers' Tonight

Batting for Phil Baker, the go getter, Floyd Gibbons, is out grabbing headliners with which to embellish his half hour (WBZ) as aired each Friday night from 9:30 until 10 o'clock. This evening he presents the well known "Revellers Quartet" in a special repertoire of selected songs.

That classic concert hour (WEEI), also heard Friday evenings at 8, and during which Jessica Dragonette stars, will include excerpts from Lehar's "Pahanini" and Grieg's "Peer Gynt" tonight. Miss Dragonette plans to solo "The Road to Heaven" for her opening effort. Frank Parker, co-starred during the same period, has "Then You'll Remember Me" waiting as his principal offering.

Phil Harris sends word his "Ambassadors" trio take to a novelty tune, called "My Baby's on a Strike," and it contains lyric lines distinctly different and likewise timely. Phil fills the air (WBZ) with his music tonight between 9 and 9 30.

Tito Guizar, romantic singer of Mexican melodies, is a songwriter of no mean ability. Late tonight (WAAB) at 11 o'clock, he promises to vocalize one of his prized native compositions. It's called "Capulin," and those up on their Spanish will know just what that means.

There's a big mass meeting in Carnegie Hall down New York way tonight. Radio facilities of the Columbia network are to carry the Blue Eagle rally proceedings, beginning at 10 30 p. m. New England listeners can catch what takes place through the local WNAC wave. General Hugh S. Johnson is slated to speak.

* * *

Will Rogers returns to the radio ranks on Sunday night next. The wise cracking American humorist is being accorded the use of British Broadcasting Corporation studios and talks (WBZ) overseas some time between 9 and 9 30 p. m.

* * *

There's an impressive thirty minutes coming across WBZ lanes at 10 o'clock tonight. Historic events which inspired Francis Scott Key's writing of the "Star Spangled Banner" are to be dramatized. All of which is in connection with a celebration marking the 120th anniversary of the writing of the National Anthem.

Best Bets Tonight

Lights and Shadows

By George Holland

What to do about "Ah Wilderness" in Boston is the biggest stage problem before [illegible] in New York today. Not the play itself but what to do about the play. In short how many weeks will the city care for it? The powers behind the theater [illegible] for the Theater [illegible] say six and George M. Cohan says ten.

George M. Cohan

Meanwhile the time, as they call a route in the inner circles, is being held open at the Plymouth Theater, where Mr. Cohan is to appear in the celebrated Eugene O'Neill comedy that ran for eight months at the Guild Theater in New York last season. The local stay is to start on October 1

It has been a long time since a ten-week run was possible in Boston. Mr. Cohan thinks it is still possible, providing the piece is of hit material. "Ah Wilderness" is all of that. It is O'Neill in a different mood, a light and folksy mood, and Mr. Cohan as Nat Miller, a small town publisher, is accredited with giving one of his finest performances. And it has the stamp of the Theater Guild.

All this is pretty safe material, the kind of material upon which long runs are built. It's a known article, in the language of the merchant. Its value has been proven. It should stay ten weeks without a vacant seat. Mr. Cohan loves Boston and wants to stay even longer.

In the booking offices in New York they are holding conferences over the possible run of "Ah, Wilderness!" here. Philadelphia wants the play and so does Chicago and 60 other cities. Meanwhile nothing can be done about anything until Boston is settled.

There is no way to take a vote on it and there is no way to hold a guessing contest. Everybody must sit tight, so to speak.

What makes the subject of more than passing interest is the fact that the Theater Guild is attempting to resuscitate the road in general. With Mr. Cohan in "Ah, Wilderness!" for a long tour to follow Boston and with Helen Hayes in "Mary of Scotland" they intend to awaken many cities to the fact that the stage is a vital institution and far from declining.

Once the Theatre Guild is able to prove that the larger cities are again supporting a play for longer than a few weeks then other managers will fall into line. There would be more plays, more producing generally. It would mean enthusiastic response from playwrights and from actors. The stage would then have a fair chance to return to the strength it once had.

George M. Cohan, the Theatre Guild, Eugene O'Neill and a play that was a knockout in New York the greater part of last season! Ten weeks? What do you think? Ten weeks, today, is a season!

Drama Mixes With Comedy on Screen

By JOYCE DANA

The elaborate and melodious "Dames" with Ruby Keeler, Dick Powell and Joan Blondell, is the chief attraction on the screen at the Paramount and Fenway theaters where Jack Holt in "The Defense Rests" provides plenty of contrast and melodrama to offset the perfect light touch of the big Warner Bros. musical.

"Dames" boasts not only an all star cast and a rousing comedy for a plot, but adds to that the ingenuous originations in the way of dancing and musical numbers by Busby Berkeley. Mr. Berkeley's imaginative eye and skilled direction is responsible for some of the trickiest and most spectacular scenes in the way of ensemble that the screen has offered. Even without the clever geometric routines and photography and the hundreds of blondes, brunettes and red-heads, "Dames" can stand on its own merits with a hilarious plot and a cast of Hollywood's most popular and youngest stars.

ZaSu Pitts, Guy Kibbee and Hugh Herbert add to the general nonsense in the story of the eccentric Erza Ounce who changes his mind about leaving his millions to the Society for the Elevation of American Morals. It's all fast and furious for featuring Dick Powell's songs, Ruby Keeler's charms and dancing and Joan Blondell's refreshing and vocal personality.

"The Defense Rests," on the other hand, is sturdy melodrama with a more potent [illegible] a vigorating Jack Holt as Matthew Mitchell, the criminal attorney whose standards are flexible enough to permit almost any kind of business as long as the money is on the line and his name is in the headlines. It takes a slip of a girl just graduated from law school, who is altogether too lovely to be interested in the legal profession, to wake him up to the fact that skating on thin ice holds danger as well as thrills.

Jean Arthur is the young and pretty attorney in question and when she traps her employer at his crooked game by stacking a few cards of her own the only way out is for Mitchell to convince her that a "Mrs." is just as honorary a title as an LL.D.

Mr. Holt is square-jawed and convincing as the "big mouthpiece," and Miss Arthur, looking much more like a bride than a barrister, does well enough with her role as the aspiring young business woman. Nat Pendleton, Shirley Grey and Sarah Padden contribute good work in lesser roles.

Two Heroines in Calico on the Screen

BETTY BLYTHE MARIAN MARSH

Betty Blythe is the Bird Woman and Marian Marsh has the title role in "A Girl of the Limberlost," famous Gene Stratton Porter story which is the screen attraction on the new bill that opened at RKO Keith-Boston today.

Wallace Beery, Jackie Cooper To Star in "O'Shaughnessy's Boy," Circus Yarn

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
Universal Service Motion Picture Editor

Copyright, 1934, by Universal Service, Inc

Los Angeles, Sept. 14—Hollywood is circus mad. Film celebs, believe it or not, who visited Ringlings' here are actually following the big show to Long Beach and Pasadena. Wally Beery, the best patron of them all and by his own admittance a former elephant trainer, should get his fill of the big tent. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer has just bought a circus yarn, "O'Shaughnessy's Boy," by Mike Boylan and Harvey Gates for him and his boy friend, Jackie Cooper.

Louella O. Parsons

It's natural for both of them. Jackie plays the heir to an enormous fortune who runs away and joins up with the circus, while Wallace is the elephant trainer. First, of course, there is The Mighty Barnum for Wallace at Twentieth Century.

* * *

The busiest brain in Hollywood belongs to Eddie Cantor. Every time I talk with him I get dizzy keeping up with him. Most of his ideas are good, too. Next time I'll take my typewriter along and borrow a few. Eddie leaves Hollywood in ten days for a radio engagement and a trip to Europe with Lynn Farnol, to be there when Kid Millions opens. And while Eddie is getting the big hand from England and keeping his place in the radio sun he will invent a few gags for "Waiting at the Church," his next musical for Samuel Goldwyn. Meanwhile Arthur Sheekman and Nat Perrin are getting the idea into shape.

Marion Davies

There's more ballyhooing these days about the child actors and actresses than there is about the grownup stars. They declare on the RKO lot that Frankie Thomas, 13-year-old star of "Wednesday's Child," is [illegible] when he [illegible] on the screen [illegible] Frankie [illegible] on the train now, choo-chooing back to New York for a stage play; then he returns to make a picture for RKO. His contract gives him permission to divide his time between New York and Hollywood so he must be good.

William Anthony McGuire is all but out of his mind looking for doubles for Ziegfeld's most beautiful chorines, many of whom have now become famous on the screen and stage. He wants to get a girl who looks like Marion Davies did when, in her early teens, she was the beauty of the Ziegfeld chorus. He would like to find a Nita Naldi and a girl who resembles the late Lilyan Tashman, a Billie Dove, and a Marilyn Miller. Testing over 2000 girls, not one bore the slightest resemblance to any of these celebrated beauties.

* * *

Certainly an amazing state of affairs. Strangers are more welcome in Hollywood than our pioneers. Conway Tearle returns to New York to star in "Living Dangerously," the stage play in which his brother, Godfrey, is London's present sensation. Believe it or not, in the many months Conway has been back in Hollywood he has had only 11 weeks of actual work. He came here immediately after his stage success in "Dinner at Eight" and everyone said "now watch him" . . . well, we have been not only watching but waiting.

Snapshots of Hollywood

Police Station Damaged by Fire

The communication system of the Milk street police station was crippled for hours when fire broke out in the battery room. The blaze, quickly extinguished by the officers, caused damage estimated at $400. Emergency repairs resulted in the station being ready for service today.

Headliner

English Film At Fine Arts

"Michael and Mary," screen version of the A. A. Milne play, is featured on the new program at the Fine Arts theater. This is an all English version of the appealing drama with Herbert Marshall and Edna Best in the leading roles of the Enoch Arden story of the husband who came back after a score of years to threaten the happiness of two people who loved each other.

In the cast are Frank Lawton and Elizabeth Allan and much of the interest in the showing of the film centers in the fact that all the principals have forged to the front ranks in Hollywood since its filming.

On the same program are diversified short subjects which include Dr. Tolhurst's microscopic film "The Queen Bee," "Dinkelsbuhle," a colorful pageant of the age old city, a Walt Disney Silly Symphony and the current news reel.

Police Must Buy Own Monuments

Everett police today received word from the state emergency finance board that it would not approve payment of the bill for markers for the graves of deceased officers out of the city of Everett funds. The police will have to pay for the markers out of their own pockets.

A similar action is expected by firemen, who also placed markers on graves of their deceased members when the city bought them.

Picket Medford Plant

Picketing at the New England Bedding Company plant, Amaranth avenue, Medford, was resumed today. Employes walked out a week ago and for several days discontinued the picketing.

Fruit Market Leads; Apples Plentiful

From Martha Lee's Friday Morning Broadcast Over Station WAAB.

Fruits are important market news this week, for September is very rich in this respect. Luscious looking, large native McIntosh and Gravenstein apples are appearing in quantities, in spite of the fact that a shortage was expected. These aristocrats among eating apples are selling for 50 cents a dozen. Crabapples, which make a delicious jelly used either by themselves or in combination with other fruits, are selling for 75 cents a peck.

Cranberries from Cape Cod are 15 cents a lb. There has been a strike among the pickers, but recruits have been rushed in so that the excellent crop will not be lost. Among many other delightful ways of preparing this fruit, try Cranberry Muffins on your family one of these cool mornings. Substitute them chopped, for blueberries, in your pet recipe for blueberry muffins. There are grapes of all kinds and description, ranging from the small, green seedless type, to Malaga, and to the Concord, which are selling for 20 cents a basket. Also Damson plums are on the market, at 75 cents a generous basket. They look like a large Concord grape, but have a stone and are much more tart.

PEACHES AND PEARS

Peaches from Colorado are still excellent and pears from Oregon are plentiful. Melons of all kinds are very good, the Persian melons being exceptional. Fresh pineapples range in price from 40 to 75 cents, depending upon the size.

Pickling ingredients of all sorts are very plentiful. Tiny cucumbers that come 200 in a basket are selling for $1.25. Green and red peppers and tomatoes in variety—the bottle, cherry, plum—are selling for 25 cents a quart and would make very attractive and fancy preserves to enhance the meat course during the coming winter. Then there is dill for seasoning pickles selling at 15 cents a bunch, and martinis, which are used in mixing pickles.

We fail to see any rise in the prices of food, as has been predicted, for excellent vegetables are very moderately priced. Native cauliflower has firm white, solid heads. Brussel sprouts are selling for 15 cents a box. In the bean family there are the string, butter, lima and shell, all of very fine quality. Winter squash can be purchased for the week-end meals and yams, a rich variety of sweet potato, are three pounds for 25 cents.

Among the unusual foods, we have French endive, selling for 25 cents a pound, and French artichokes at 15 cents apiece.

FISH PRICES LOW

Fish also keeps to its low level of prices and many a thrifty housewife will want to substitute it for meat in the menu. The news of great importance is the reappearance of oysters in the markets, now that we have a month with an R in it. The large are selling at 70 cents a quart and the small at 60 cents a quart, and the Cotuit oyster in the shell are $1 a peck. Clams are 50 cents a quart, and 90 cents a peck in the shell. There are scallops from Rhode Island. The small are $1.25 a quart, and the sea scallops 75 cents a quart. Swordfish has come down in price because of the quantity available and is selling for 30 cents a pound. Mackerel is most plentiful because of the great runs there have been in this fish, and the tinker is 6 cents a pound, the large 10 cents a pound. Smelts are a very popular seasonable fish now, 40 cents for the large and 30 cents for the medium.

Poultry is still a leading item in the meat line. Broilers, frying chickens, roasting chicken and, for those who have to pinch the pennies, fowl is a very good purchase for a stew, chicken pie, etc., at 23 cents.

Maine veal is available and this is supposed to be the very finest there is. It is entirely milk fed. Fresh-killed Western turkeys are selling for 40 cents a pound. A delicacy discovered in the market this week-end was a pair of pheasant broilers from around Worcester, selling at $5.

Lamb is a bit cheaper in price this week-end and is still of very good quality, selling for 25 cents. Pork loins are cheaper in price. But all the other pork products, as promised, are keeping up. That is, bacon, ham, fresh shoulders, etc. Beef is 21 cents at the chain stores.

Your Cooking Problems Solved

By MARTHA LEE

Question: "Will you tell me how to cook Chili Sauce, so that it is not discolored and thin?"
Mrs. M. R., Medford.

Answer: It is a bit difficult to say what is wrong with your Chili Sauce. Overcooking makes tomatoes discolored, but this cannot be the reason, because yours is still thin when you finish making it. It might be the pan which you use that would discolor the tomatoes before you get the mixture cooked down thick enough. Aluminum, porcelain, granite-ware and earthenware are good choices to use. The wooden, aluminum enamel or silver spoons are best for this type of cooking. We are sending you our recipe for Chili Sauce, which I think you will find very good.

Question: "Will you please print the recipe for Peach Conserve that was broadcast over the radio by Martha Lee?" Mrs. G. H., Swampscott.

Answer

PEACH CONSERVE

18 cling peaches
3 large oranges
1 cup sugar for each cup of fruit
¾ lb. cut up walnut meats

Remove skin from the peaches and slice them. Wash the oranges and put them through the food grinder (skin and all), but remove any seeds. Measure and add an equal amount of sugar. Let stand several hours. Boil rapidly until thick and clear. Just before removing from heat add nut meats. Seal in sterilized jars.

O'CONNOR WINS IN N. Y. VOTING

By Associated Press

New York, Sept. 14—Representative John J. O'Connor, after trailing in early returns from yesterday's primary, surged ahead today to win Democratic renomination.

O'Connor, brother of President Roosevelt's former law partner and ranking Democrat on the House rules committee, was opposed by James H. Fay, an independent Democrat.

Other New York representatives who were opposed held leads in their contests. Representative Bertrand Snell, Republican House leader; Representative James W. Wadsworth and Representative Hamilton Fish, Jr., were unopposed.

Joseph P. McGoldrick, appointed comptroller by Mayor La Guardia after the death of W. Arthur Cunningham, ran on both Democratic and Republican tickets, winning on the latter but losing to Frank J. Taylor, Tammany candidate.

Slaying Wife Who Nags Held Minor Crime

By International News Service

London, Sept. 14—A British judge and jury today agreed in an unprecedented decision that a man who kills his wife because she "nags" him is not guilty of murder.

Sydney Haggerty, 41, successfully pleaded that he was driven to strangling his wife because she continually nagged him.

Toper's Alimony Denied by Court

Reversing the decision of the Hampden probate court, the Supreme judicial court cut off the alimony of Wladislaw Toper of Palmer. The court ruled that there was no evidence that Toper needed support.

He was granted a divorce from the late Mrs. Josephine Toper of Chicopee on grounds of infidelity.

WIFE, 21, DENIES LOVE DISGUISE

The accusation that she had disguised herself in her sister's clothes to keep a secret rendezvous with a man was vigorously denied by Mrs. Estelle C. Chaisson, 21, of Ballardvile in Salem Probate Court.

Accusation was made by her husband's lawyer during the [illegible] in which Mrs. Chaisson was seeking a legal separation and custody of her two sons.

She charged that her husband, Auburn Chaisson, of Andover, deserted her and was friendly with other women.

ROBERT E. ROGERS

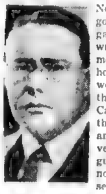
Speaking of Jackie Cooper's and Wallace Beery's "Treasure Island"—and you must forgive me for harping on the movies so frequently. Way up north here on the curving beaches of New Hampshire, the sun has gone out of the sky and the gals who enlivened the sand with color and form and movement have all gone back to home and school, and the seaweed, spawned by the storm that helped destroy the Morro Castle, carpets the strand in thick gobs and trips you up and pulls you down when you venture into the cold and gunky water, and there's nothing much to do except go see the shifting flickers.



Robert E. Rogers

By the way, is it true that the administration has forced the houses to offer only one feature instead of two per performance? The movie houses, wherever I have been this summer, have been so consistently half empty that I thought the shortened and cheapened program was the result of poor attendance. But if the above story is true, patronage is poor because the audiences are sick and tired of paying the old prices for only one feature and a bunch of shorts, which are tripe pure and simple. Why is it, anyway, that while features have consistently improved, the shorts are still in the 1920 stage or thereabouts? Perhaps the new color film, "The Cockaroacha"—or words to that effect will improve matters. I look forward very eagerly to seeing it.

But I must say I cannot see how ploughing under one film out of every two is going to help the movie business. One suspects that the President isn't really concerned with helping it. I have seen splendid pictures this summer playing to empty houses. Only the Cyprian Harlow, in the film with the fumigated title, packed 'em in. Which shows just how much the American public at large is rooting for the League for Decency.

But to start fresh I called it Cooper's and Beery's "Treasure Island" because it really is, more than Robert Louis Stevenson's. Not that the book has not been followed very faithfully, up to the final chapter, which is so prosy and poky that some kind of a dramatic ending had to be devised. That ending does not do violence to Stevenson's fable, save that it has a warm emotion, a sense of the value of human life, of "so much good in the worst of us," that R. L. S. seldom achieved.

For Louis the Well-Beloved was essentially a canny, cool and unemotional story teller. He didn't like women in his stories, probably because he couldn't handle them. On the testimony of his stepson, Lloyd Osborne, he was warmly, even violently, human, but little of his personal qualities gets into his books, which were ridden by the current French concepts of impersonal and intellectual realism. No less romantic romances were ever written. If the film "Treasure Island" had been done in the key of the book, it would have left its audiences cold. But by making Jim Hawkins, the boy, several years younger than Stevenson's competent and somewhat cocky adolescent, by making Long John Silver no less a scoundrel but a lot more sentimental and likeable in his scoundrelism, and, most of all, by inventing that very fine conclusion, the directors made the whole business a lot more loveable than Stevenson ever managed.

The films can give you one kind of kick a book can never give. One I remember, came toward the end of Betty Bronson's "Peter Pan" when the Pirate Ship, speeding like the Ancient Mariner's without wave or wind, suddenly left the surface of the sea and planed into the upper air, her hull and canvas silhouetted black against a round full moon.

That was purely a visual thrill, of course. The effect at the end of "Treasure Island" is more of the imagination. Jim Hawkins has helped Silver to escape with a few bags of the treasure, has watched him climb down into the unguarded ship's dinghy or cutter or gig. They have said good-bye, Jim through tears, while Silver promises him that they are sure to meet again.

He sets his hands to the oars, the lantern from the vessel shining full on his broad, shrewd, peasant-like face. He is doing his best to smile, as he tells Jim, It's true—it's true—they will meet again.

In that moment you know that the story will go on—forever, that romance never comes to an end, that always there will be the seven seas and great ships and golden treasure and shipmates inseparable.

That, I maintain, is a note that Robert Louis Stevenson, for all his cool sense and technical skill, was incapable of sounding.

Stevenson would have found Jackie Cooper and Beery too sentimental. But how he would have delighted in Lionel Barrymore's retired and drunken buccaneer at the Admiral Benbow. And he would have highly approved of Lewis Stone, in his best part for months, as that living and breathing embodiment of the 18th century, Captain Smollett.

I'd almost as soon have a child of mine see the picture as read the book. More, for the film would be sure to make him want to read the book.

'KIDNAPING' BY FATHER STIRS MILTON

Excitement reigned in Quincy and Milton today when a four-year-old boy was taken into an auto, which sped away in Webster street, East Milton, and an attempt was made to take his sister in Quincy.

After investigation, police found the children's father, who figured in the two episodes, has as much legal right to them as their mother, from whom he is separated.

Police are taking no action.

The boy, Ernest R. Park, Jr., was taken from Webster road, East Milton, shortly before the father, executive of a Rochester, N. Y., shoe company, also attempted to remove his seven-year-old daughter, Martha, from the playground of the Coddington school, next to the courthouse in Quincy.

With the school children thrown into excitement by the man's attempt to seize the girl, a woman teacher rushed to detain him, while she called to several children to get a policeman.

They returned with Lieutenant George Fallon.

He explained that he and his wife, the former Martha Bixby, had separated and that she had taken the children to the home of her mother at 63 Edgemere road, Quincy.

Park had barely left the court house when news of the Milton "kidnaping" was flashed to Quincy. The boy had been sent to the home

ASKS MIND TEST FOR SINGER GIRL

By International News Service

New York, Sept. 14—Attorneys for Rudy Vallee are going to seek a mental test for Frances Singer, 26, of Valley Stream, L. I., who is suing the radio star for $250,000 in a breach of promise action, they announced today.

Vallee's counsel applied to Supreme Court Justice Collins for an order to commit the young woman. They declared that Vallee had never even met the plaintiff.

A letter which she is alleged to have written Vallee on Aug 25 was introduced.

It begins "Dearest Buggy-man," and winds up with a request that Vallee get a haircut and stop singing "The Man on the Flying Trapeze."

JOHN DEVLIN ATE BAD CANDY

ELIZABETH DEVLIN IS SICK, TOO

Three candy eaters were rushed to the City Hospital. Three candy eaters are getting better. That's good news—for the friends of John Devlin, Robert Devlin and Elizabeth Devlin, all of Franklin street, Neponset are anxious that they get back on the street and in the play group. They are the children of Mrs. Dorothy Devlin. When the trio was out for a walk, they bought candy. All became violently ill soon afterwards. No other complaints of poisoned candy has come to the police of the Field's Corner police station. (Picture by Boston Evening American Staff Photographer)

PUBLIC FOES AIM OF RUM PROBE

Investigation by agents of the U. S. Alcoholic Beverages Unit of indictments in rum-smuggling and seizures of contraband liquor is causing discussion among lawyers.

Investigators have been quietly going over records of indictments with the clerk of the U. S. court. It was learned "something is brewing that will cause a sensation shortly."

The fact that the agents were formerly "dry agents," led to a belief that the government is ferreting out public enemies, engaged in the liquor business. It was hinted the government sh sa clue in a kidnaping case and another in a murder mystery involved in the liquor racket.

Police Target Practise Near

The Cambridge police will be given a course of instruction in the use of firearms, beginning October 1, Mayor Russell announced after a conference with officers of the United States Marine Corps at Cambridge City Hall.

The instructors will be Chief Marine Gunner Calvin A. Lloyd and Lieutenant John J Tavern of the Charlestown Navy Yard.

The instructions, to be given without cost to the city, will include special practice in the use of revolvers with six-inch barrels for motorcycle officers.

The .32-caliber revolvers now being used by Cambridge police will be replaced by new ones of .38-caliber.

Catholic Women's Guild Plan Party

A bridge and whist party will be held next Tuesday afternoon in Knights of Columbus Hall, Massachusetts avenue and Chester street, North Cambridge, by members of Cambridge branch of Massachusetts Catholic Women's Guild. Mrs. Helen Kuhn will have charge of the arrangements.

FOLEY LAUDED FOR MERCY

In a vigorous appeal for the re-election of District Attorney William J. Foley, City Councillor Clement A. Norton said:

"His administration has been one of justice and mercy. His enemies criticize Suffolk juries, but let me say this to the credit of these jurors, they will not send a man to jail for life on the basis of street-corner gossip."

City Councillor Henry Selvitella, boosting for the candidacy of former Senator Joseph J. Mulhern, said that criticism of Mayor Mansfield should not be an issue of the campaign.

Youth Hurt When Auto Hits Truck

Seriously injured when the auto he was driving collided with a mail truck at Massachusetts avenue and Boylston street, Back Bay, James Sullivan, 18, of Surrey street, Cambridge, was in a critical condition at City Hospital today.

OTHER LEADERS MAY BE NAMED IN PROBE

Possibility that several members of the present and past city councils, as well as other political leaders in Greater Boston, may be indicted for alleged forgery of CWA work cards loomed today in the wake of indictments returned against two state senators and two representatives.

Special investigators from Washington, acting under authority of the attorney-general's office in Washington, it was learned, are working with United States Attorney Francis J. W. Ford and his assistant, John A. Canavan, in checking up further violations.

Yesterday the federal grand jury returned indictments against Senators Edward C. Carroll of South Boston and William F. Madden of Roxbury, as well as against Representatives James W. Hennigan of Ward 10 and James J. Kilroy of Ward 11, both in Roxbury.

FACE FORGERY CHARGE

All were charged with forging the name of E. L. Hanna, national re-employment manager, to workers' cards "for the purpose of defrauding the United States."

The defendants are expected to be arraigned next week. The primary election, in which all four are seeking renomination on the Democratic ticket, is set for next Thursday.

Senator Madden is unopposed for renomination, but the other three face opposition for nomination in their districts. All of the group indicated they would fight the indictments, and it was believed they planned to combine for the legal battle.

WORK SLIPS STOLEN

The work slips, alleged to have been forged, were stolen from the Nashua street CWA office. The forgeries were not discovered until a large number of men were put to work and the number of applicants for jobs far outnumbered the slips originally issued.

David J. Barry, CWA investigator, and a corps of agents have conducted a two-months' investigation into the case.

IRVING MILLEN WINS FAVOR

Irving Millen today was once again in possession of jail privileges, denied him since his attempt to snatch a pistol from a state trooper during his trial for the Needham Trust Company holdup and slayings.

This means that he may send out now for food if jail food becomes too monotonous. His brother, Murton, and Abraham Faber, the other two members of the convicted trio, have had this privilege continuously, but had not exercised it of late.

For a time, Murton and Faber were spending as much as $6 a week for food, but either through lack of funds or a growing like for jail fare, they have not sent out for food recently.

Sailor Imperiled by Monkey's Bite

Dangerously ill from a monkey-bite, Patrick McMahon, 18, Brooklyn, N. Y., seaman aboard the S. S. West Imboden, is at the Chelsea Marine Hospital, where physicians have not succeeded in diagnosing the exact nature of the illness resulting from the bite.

While aboard ship, docked at the army base, the seaman was bitten by the monkey, a pet of an oiler. The Boston Board of Health has placed the monkey under quarantine.

New York, Sept 14—Thoughts while strolling: Original idea for a news camera man—a race track scene without a close-up of one of the Whitneys. Just how do they telegraph flowers? Old-timers should watch that ugly duckling, Patsy Kelly, lift a line. Who remembers when she was a Frank Fay stooge?

One word description of Shirley Temple — twinkly. Those coolie hats for ladies. What became of Mary Eaton? Never saw a redhead acrobat. Most of the imitators can do Cardini's sleight-of-hand. But not with gloves. Paul Whiteman's mustache is always under control. None spryer than Adolph Zukor.

Done Skene says Broadway jay walkers are just trying to double cross a street. Margaret Moore and Joan Crawford look alike. They can have most of the song writers, if they'll leave me Vincent Youmans. Wallace Beery must make it rather difficult for George Bancroft.

Nothing tickles me more than those dead pan droopy drawers knock-about turns. Claire Boothe Brokaw. She's become a columnist, too. And they are angling for Elizabeth Cobb. Doug Fairbanks, all alone, riding into Hollywood in a private car was probably trying to duck the press, dear, dear.

Cecil DeMille is the most meticulous of the elderly sartorial dandies. Ozzie Nelson and his wire-haired pooch. Tuxedoed waiter captains who stand in doorways just before dinner. Myra Kingsley, the society girl astrologist. And here, goody, goody, is a misplaced semi-colon ; for F. P. A.

Writers, who use their eyes more constantly than almost any other class, are the least bespectacled of almost any calling. At a Waldorf luncheon frequented by scribblers the other day it was noted only three out of 22 wore glasses. I once worked on a newspaper of some size that had only two eyeglass wearers on the editorial staff. There are many experts who believe constant use of the eyes strengthens them. Statistics might tend to prove it. And how many opticians wear glasses?

A frequent query among those whose wares are syndicated is how a newspaper gauges the popularity of a feature. The assumption is that a verdict is largely acquired by fan letters. Those may be easily faked. A more certain barometer—and almost infallible—is the report of circulation men, from those in contact with newsboys to those who push doorbells in house-to-house canvass. These are direct, honest and usually unsolicited.

One of Park Row's familiar legends is of a column writer on the Evening World who was dismissed. Three or four days later there began a stream of protesting letters to the editor from the greater city and surrounding suburbs—several thousand in all. The writers portended soandso's feature was the highspot of the paper and they would not read further without it. In alarm, the managing editor sent for the columnist, but found him coy. He intimated another offer from a rival rag. Finally he signed up for six years at double his old salary. An addressing and circularizing agency for $200, plus postage, had turned out the fan letters.

Every writer, I suppose, has some especial costume, an old shirt, pair of trousers or run-down slippers he wears as casual amulets at his typewriter. Theodore Dreiser's is a Prussian blue work shirt, Sinclair Lewis an old straw hat, Arthur Roche a green eye-shade, Irvin Cobb an apple green smock, Corey Ford, most modern of all, shorts, and so on. But the prize outfit, and I'm sworn not to reveal it, is that of a well-known magazine writer in the Washington square environs. He works from 9 until 1 p. m. daily in sandals and an old-fashioned nightgown.

I came upon an early hot chestnut vendor today in West 34th street. These silent street corner salesmen, hovering over their little jet of charcoal, are my favorite metropolitan characters. They suggest the long, wintry nights of good reading to come, humblest of all merchants in the brashest of cities. So grateful for the occasional sale. I suspect some in their vacant gazings to be poets or too cloud-minded to have truck with this world. Anyway I never pass one without God-blessing him.

FISH HANDLERS IN STRIKE DEFY

A strike of the Boston fish handlers loomed today following the announcement of an official of the Sea Food Worker's Union that action would be taken unless an agreement with the Massachusetts Fisheries Association Incorporated could be negotiated.

Strike would be called at the Fish Pier, the downtown stalls and in East Boston and Charlestown.

CITY HOSPITAL NOW CROWDED

The highest number of patients for this time of year in a decade today crowded City Hospital and forced temporary accommodations to be set up in the corridors.

According to physicians the maternity ward is the most overcrowded. A total of 1244 patients are now being taken care of, though there are only regular accommodations for 1197.

Last year at this time there were 1142 patients, while three years ago there were 1067, and only 1030 four years ago.

Gadgets "Make" a School or Business Jersey

CHARMING, simple lines make this soft rust jersey appropriate for school or business. Yet it has trick personality details that will endear it to its owner—a zipper fastening for the pocket, with wool balls dancing at the end of the cord that pulls the zipper. The same zipper arrangement closes the front directly under a demure velveteen collar. About as practical and smart a collar and cuff set as the girl who props herself over any kind of a desk could desire! This is the knock-about type that lends spice and variety to the wardrobe because it costs something less than $10. ## Discarding Suit—Blockers in New Culbertson System

By Josephine Culbertson

A long suit may be considered blocked when one partner holds high cards in that suit and the other holds long cards with no entry to them in the suit itself. For example, if one player holds J 10 9 8 7 and his partner A K Q, the suit is blocked: after the A K Q have been played the lead will be in the wrong hand; the Jack and ten which remain in the other hand cannot be used unless the player who holds them gets into his hand by means of a side entry.

When this blocking situation occurs the blocking cards should be led out as fast as possible, so that when the other partner gets in he will be able to run the balance of the suit unobstructed. This is easy enough when the blocking cards are A K Q, but if they are some combination such as K Q, and the opposing Ace is taken immediately an additional entry will be required the partner must get in.

Sometimes it is possible to unblock a suit by discarding the blocking cards. Particularly when defending against an adverse contract, a player should always take his first opportunity to rid himself of high cards which will prevent his partner from making the best use of an established suit.

Epaulet-Sleeve Shirtmaker

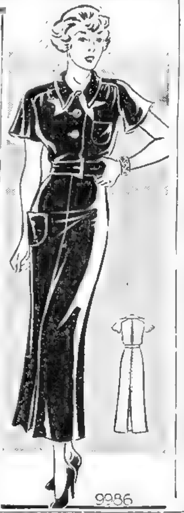
By MARIAN MARTIN

PATTERN 9986



The vogue of the shirtmaker frock is being carried right over into the Autumn, but the new members of this popular family are a trifle less severely tailored than those one has seen in all smart places during the summer. Here is an excellent example of what we mean—with chic short epaulet-like sleeves and soft gathers. You can make it of a fabric as formal as satin if you wish. It would be as smart as Paris in black with crystal buttons and a white satin knot at the throat. Or perhaps you would prefer it in crepe morocain in the warm new shade called 'clayrust.'

Pattern 9986 may be ordered only in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40. Size 16 requires 3½ yards 39-inch fabric and ⅝ yard 1½-inch ribbon for bow.

Send fifteen cents in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for each Marian Martin pattern. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, the style number and size of each pattern.

How would you like a book of fashions designed for sun-drenched days and starlit nights? It tells you about and has pictures of everything from a wedding dress to a garden frock. It shows you the latest fabrics, and talks wisely about beauty. In short . . . it's a treasure! It's the summer edition of the Marian Martin Pattern Book, and it costs 15 cents. The book and pattern together are 25 cents.

New Double-Whipped Cleansing Cream Can Also Be Used as Shiny Makeup Base

POSED BY MARY CARLISLE

By Juliet Shelby

WITH COOL DAYS and nights almost on top of us with sables for some and minks for others—football games and cocktail teas—it is little wonder that last summer's tan suddenly strikes us as revolting.

If you are looking for a cream that will do everything but bloom—and that means turning a leathery-looking skin into a gardenia petal with no unnecessary waste of time, I know of a double whipped new cream that is just the thing for you. It is a thing like whipped cream with a few drops of elegant essence. Is transparent and as a cleansing agent is incomparable.

You can leave a little on under your powder or go without powder and leave on a great deal. If you do the latter folks will think that you have at last managed to get hold of a jar of the new Hollywood shiny make-up, and that in case you don't know is something that is being talked about from coast to coast.

I never did see why dry skins couldn't have a light, quickly liquefying cream for a cleanser as well as oily skins. And evidently another person didn't see why either. So here we have one with just enough vegetable oils to hold it down to earth, and they do a beautiful job of penetrating deep into the pores and floating out all that a day can put there.

If you need a quick toning up before a gala evening, take a jar of this delightful stuff, a handful of face tissue and a cream patter, and head for your bathroom.

If you would like to know the name of this double-whipped cleansing cream and where it is sold, phone Juliet Shelby, Liberty 4000, or write to Miss Shelby, Boston Evening American, Boston, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your inquiry.

Scalp Culture Restores Gray Hair

Question: My hair is becoming prematurely gray. I cannot understand the cause. Can you advise me? A. McG., Springfield.

Answer: Premature grayness of the hair is often produced by debility, anxiety or severe illness. Improved health and hair culture can often restore graying hair to its natural coloring. That is restore the new growth of hair—not that which has already lost its coloring.

More important to hair health than diet is the complete control of your nerves. Do not let things upset you; stop worrying over every little thing in life—learn to relax. Relax as frequently as you can. Effect being a very languid creature—it works marvels!

Dry Skin

Question: Can you tell me how to treat and care for my skin which is very dry and covered with lines and crow's feet?
G. C. Newton.

Answer: Since your skin is dry do not use soap and water as a cleanser. Always use a good cold cream cleanser. Remove the cold cream with a tissue and apply a stimulating lotion. The lotion will prepare the pores to assimilate the nourishing cream that you will massage in.

After putting on the nourishing cream, massage it into the lines around the eyes as follows: begin with fingers placed on each side of the bridge of the nose, travel upward, circle the eyebrows, around the temples, and down across the cheeks to the nose again. Continue this until the cream is rubbed well onto the skin. Then before going to bed apply some more nourishing cream and leave it on all night.

Woman Offers Hand First

By MRS. BEECKMAN

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

During a recent poker party of some salesmen, a question arose. In the case of a woman buyer for a company, two salesmen say that one should not shake hands with her as one would with a man buyer. I and the others say that the woman should be given the same courtesy as the man.

MALE READER.

Thank you for your kindness in allowing me to be referee for this question about handshaking. But as a matter of fact it is the woman buyer herself who would settle this question. You see, a man should always wait for a woman to extend her hand for a handshake. This holds true whether after an introduction or on any other occasion. So these salesmen would wait to see if the woman buyer offered her hand to shake hands.

GIVEN IN MARRIAGE —:— By Adele Garrison

Madge wonders what new scheme to expect from Avis Arlen who arives a day before she is expected.

CHAPTER 140

MY FINGERS tightened involuntarily upon the telephone as Avis Arlen's voice gaily caroling "Surprise! Surprise!" came over the wires. But, indeed it was no surprise. I realized now that I had expected something of the sort, ever since Helena Buxton's recital of the determined effort of the girl to get hold of the bridesmaid's gown, which I was sure she was determined not to wear at Mary's wedding.

There was no limit to the effrontery of Avis Arlen. I had found that out most unpleasantly in past classes with her and instantly on guard, I waited to answer her until I had looked at my wrist watch and made a mental computation of railway time tables.

With a gay challenge, she had said that I "never could guess where she was," but I knew only too well, and I answered her with as much semblance of courteous friendliness as I could muster.

"You must be at Patchogue, aren't you?" I asked.

"Oh! How perfectly celver," she gurgled. "How did you ever guess it?"

"That's my secret," I told her, trying to keep my voice keyed to airy casualness. "Is your mother with you?"

There was a pause. I guessed that she had not been prepared for that particular question, and with her usual cautious cunning was waiting to consider it from all angles before she answered it.

"No, she isn't," she said at last, "and I am as nearly angry at her as I ever could be at my darling Mummy. You see, Uncle Phil asked us to come down early tomorrow morning with him in the big car, and Mummy thought I ought to wait and come with them. She said you had so many people staying with you it was an imposition for me to come out and take a bed. But I told her you could hang me up on a nail anywhere, just for tonight; and when I found I didn't have to wait for my bridesmaid's gown, I thought it would be better for me to come on out so that I could have a chance to rehearse at least once with the others.

"Mummy was quite peeved with me," she went on, hardly stopping for breath, "but I told her I knew that you would want me to come out tonight. I was right, wasn't I, dear Mrs. Graham?"

I took refuge in subterfuge, determined not to stultify myself by answering her question with a "yes," and unwilling to give even her brazen persistence the discourtesy of a "no."

"I'm afraid there's something the matter with the telephone," I said. "Please come closer and speak very distinctly. Are you in the railroad station at Patchogue?"

"Yes."

"Then stay right there. Don't leave it for anything. Someone will be there for you in a little over an hour."

"Oh! Lovely fun!" she gurgled, then her voice took on a coaxing tone.

"Dear Mrs. Graham," she cooed, "Would it be possible for Noel to come after me? It would be only two or three hours hours out of the whole lifetime—Mary will have all the rest—and it will mean so much to me! And I think, to Noel. You see, as I told you before when I asked to have Noel meet me, there is something very special, very precious, between Noel and me which never can be explained to anyone else."

"This phone is simply atrocious," I said, with apparent impatience. "But I must be sure that you understand me. Please answer only by 'yes' or 'no.' Do you understand that you are to wait at the station until we come for you?"

I had spoken very slowly, with pauses between the words, but her answer was prompt. "Yes, yes, but can't No-el—"

"Then goodby," I said sharply, and hung up the telephone with a decision that brought a giggle from Marion, who had loitered near me while I was telephoning.

"I don't know what she wanted, but you certainly settled her," she said with glee. "But don't tell me that pain-in-the-neck is coming out here tonight!"

"I'm afraid she is," I answered, not even lifting my eyebrows at her crass characterization of Avis Arlen. "And I want to call on you and Ronald and Carolyn and Bob for some very special help when she gets here."

"Yours to command," she told me, hugging me impetuously. "This is perfectly thrilling, you know. Shall I get them together now, so you can tell us what you want of us?"

GIVES METHODS OF RECOVERY IN TALK

It is a [illegible] dissertation on economic trends that is not dominated by the self conscious sophistication of the average student or lecturer on economics. Mr Wilson points out that there are three methods of recovery. The tightened belt method, the socialistic profit-saving-production sharing method and inflation. The last method is the [illegible]. The second is the present method while many are beginning to [illegible] the first as the safest. The much publicized break in steel common to a new low is overdone and looks like open advertising in the hope of attracting sellers . . . When, as and if the issue makes 30 flat we will agree it is badly off technically as it looks on the tape . . . For our part there looks to be a good trade by purchasing steel around current levels and placing a stop at 30 . . . Chrysler is another similar situation . . . If bought under 31 a stop at 28 would be the proper procedure.

Late in July we made note here of the Hardware shares and volunteered the information the outlook for the industry was seen as good by those in a position to render expert position. The situation is unchanged. Hardware Age indicates that demand for hardware was sustained through August despite adverse influences. Currently both wholesale and retail buyers are seen as cautious. But this policy is running down stocks and building up an urgent demand based on shortages.

Comment: The possibility of a shortage in hardware supplies is very real . . . Manufacturers' stocks are practically negligible and the threat of delayed shipments would make for an acute situation in the event of sudden ordering . . . We continue to view Yale & Towne, Briggs & Stratton and The Stanley Works as hardware shares likely to prove real fall leaders . . . The action of the silver and smelting shares continues to say that there is no need to fear surprise Washington moves in the white metal.

One or two of the better advisory services that have been on the sidelines for some weeks past are taking moderate bull positions. Their idea is that with the list in a test zone a commitment up to 50 per cent of trading resources is warranted. Then if a lower level must be sought out to provide a real rally base traders will be in shape to enlarge their position without undue risk. If prices do hold here and start forward little will be lost by rounding out a position on advancing prices.

Strength in the tobaccos reflects the favorable background for the industry.

Production this year will be the highest on record, according to the showing so far . . . The crop curtailment program has raised the price of tobacco substantially, which is reflected in inventory values for the big companies. . .

Costs are up quite a bit also, and there is talk of a rise in cigarette prices to compensate for this in the near future . . . despite estimates that earnings in one or two cases may fall short of dividends. Reynolds hit a new 1934 high yesterday.

Liquidation of 2000 shares of U. S. Steel precipitated its decline into new low ground.

The street was somewhat taken aback in view of Myron Taylor's visit to Hyd Park this week . . . those close to the industry are still confident steel operations will recover to around 35 per cent of capacity in the next two months . . .

Some explanation for the pressure on the biscuit stocks is found in the census figures showing a decline of around 28 per cent in sales in the last two years and an even greater drop in prices.

RECENT EVENTS GIVE NO CAUSE FOR CHEER

By LEWIS HANEY
Professor of Economics New York University

New York, Sept. 14—On the eve of sailing to the yacht races, the President has been expressing opinions on the duties of bank examiners, the construction of ships, and collective bargaining—all in a cheerful chatty way.

At the same time, government bonds have been cracking, scores of American citizens have been shot down in strike riots, and 10,000,000 are unemployed as winter comes.

It is well to keep cheerful, but unfortunately most of the executive utterances do nothing to promote cheerfulness among thoughtful people. This is true because they do nothing to relieve the existing great uncertainties as to government policy.

Take the statement that the NRA is now to be given a set-up "like our government," with its functions divided into legislative, executive, and judicial branches. Sounds good, but what does it mean? It throws no light on the practical issues. Such as price fixing, wage differentials, etc.

Anyhow, the system of checks and balances deemed suitable for government by our fathers is certainly no good for business administration. Business and government are fundamentally different, and one of the saddest features of the situation is the attempt to have government run business.

[illegible] bargaining. Where exactly does the government stand? It would seem that either majority representation or proportional representation may be practical, depending on conditions.

First represent[illegible] [illegible] applies [illegible] in the automobile case. Then th[illegible] National Labor Board said majori[illegible] representation in the Houde Engineering case. Now it is indicated that both may be right.

Then there is the financial question. We are informed that perhaps eventually the President will use the paper profit made by the government through seizing our gold. It is a "nest egg."

Irregular Tone Marks Curb Trading

By Associated Press

New York, Sept. 14—Curb Exchange issues continued to move in an irregular manner. Changes on the upside were confined to fractions, while there were a few sharp declines among less prominent issues.

Commonwealth Edison lost 3 points and General Tire & Rubber slipped 5. American Gas & Electric and Cities Service declined slightly. Sherwin Williams, Parker Rust Proof, Standard Oil of Ohio, Swift & Co., International Petroleum and Distillers Corp.-Seagrams were other issues to record small losses. Teck Hughes was relatively heavily sold at a half-point lower.

A number of favorite shares managed to move a little higher, however. These included American Cyanamid B, Lake Shore Mines and Bunker Hill & Sullivan. Novadel-Agene advanced a half-point, while Pennsylvania Water & Power and Montreal Light, Heat & Power gained fractionally. Electric Bond & Share was unchanged.

Textile Outlook Seen Uncertain In Trade Study

No shortage of textiles is expected for some time at [illegible] aside from the adverse sentiment created the influence of the strike have been scarcely felt, as yet, outside of the mill towns immediately affected.

The woolen division is still slack, and shows no signs of emerging from the long period of dullness, business since the first of the year averages less than 10 per cent of the normal.

There has been practically no buying of raw wool in the Boston markets during the week and until labor difficulties are settled there is little likelihood of a material pick-up. Receipts of domestic wool in Boston this week are quite heavy. Price changes have been nominal.

Woolen and worsted yarns spinners are getting a few small orders, but not enough business is offered to speed up production to any extent.

Advances were made in a few cotton textiles during the week and prices of the raw material continue firm. The mills are buying very little raw cotton, as the outlook is clouded by labor troubles. Most of the spinners have sufficient cotton yarns on hand to take care of the needs of their customers for some time, as their demands are very small.

Some of the local shoe jobbers have had quite an encouraging volume of orders during the past week, but manufacturers are somewhat confused by the price situation, and find it difficult to meet the requirements of their large quantity purchasers for price concessions. Further price reductions are reported by the chain groups and the pressure for price concessions is strong.

The tanners also have felt the pressure for lower prices, but they consider that any further reduction means selling below cost. The hide market is firm, but there have been practically no sales during the week, and very little turnover of leather.

Considerable wood pulp is arriving at New England ports from the West Coast and the paper mills are moderately busy. Few new orders were received during the week, and some of the heavier grades of paper showed a price weakness.

TIME TO ASSERT RIGHTS, SAYS FORBES

By B. C. FORBES

B. C. Forbes

While the new deal was stim[illegible]lating return [illegible] confidence an[illegible] industrial a[illegible]tivity, employ[illegible]ers were co[illegible]tent to keep [illegible]lent. Practic[illegible] men, they we[illegible] interested [illegible] practical [illegible]sults. For [illegible] time the n[illegible] deal did bri[illegible] practical [illegible]sults.

But even th[illegible] most enthusia[illegible]tic new deale[illegible] cannot deny that in rece[illegible] months recov[illegible]ery has faltered. Absorption of th[illegible] unemployed has petered out. Co[illegible]fidence has distinctly weakened, [illegible] is proved by the persistently sa[illegible]ging trend in securities, includi[illegible] government bonds.

That President Roosevelt has be[illegible]come distrustful of the infini[illegible] wisdom of his brain trusters is sug[illegible]gested by the wholesale droppin[illegible] of his professional advisors—eve[illegible] Professor Rex Tugwell, arch-rad[illegible]cal, has been diplomatically sen[illegible] out of the country for two months.

An increasing number of em[illegible]ployers have become convinced that the time has arrived for them to assert their rights and privi[illegible]leges as sovereign citizens. They declare—privately, of course—that they were entirely content to give new dealers abundant opportunity to strut their stuff, abundant op[illegible]portunity to demonstrate that they possessed ability to solve our major economic and social problems.

Bu these same employers no[illegible] contend that the new dealers ha[illegible] miscued. They point to the pro[illegible]ress achieved in Britain, in Ca[illegible]ada and in other nations whe[illegible] natural economic forces, rath[illegible] than bureaucratic dictation, ha[illegible] ruled.

The recommendation openly ma[illegible] by the National Association of Ma[illegible]ufacturers that its employer-mem[illegible]bers ignore decisions made by [illegible] national labor relations board, [illegible] significant of the new fight-ba[illegible] policy which has developed amon[illegible] responsible men of affairs. The [illegible]sociation points out that the boa[illegible] in ordering employers to deal o[illegible] with majority factions of employe[illegible] has gone absolutely contrary to r[illegible]ings made by no less authorit[illegible] than President Roosevelt and NR[illegible] Administrator General Johnson.

Another symptom of the n[illegible] spirit generated among fillers [illegible] pay envelopes is the organization [illegible] the American Liberty Leagu[illegible] whose real originators and backe[illegible] are not politicians, but busine[illegible] men, a fact which has been o[illegible]scured because of the first pub[illegible] announcement featuring the nam[illegible] of politicians rather than busine[illegible] leaders.

Having manifestly reached th[illegible] conclusion that brain trusters have proved failures, could not President Roosevelt score a ten-strike by announcing that he had decided t[illegible] supplant professorial and other utterly theoretical advisers by outstanding men of affairs who have demonstrated their ability to cope effectively with business problems?

When confronted with a dire emergency, Great Britain did not hesitate to drop partisan government and to call to the national helm the ablest brains in the nation regardless of their political affiliations.

Governments Lower on New Selling

By Associated Press

New York, Sept. 14—A good deal of the business in the bond market today was done at lower prices.

U. S. Government issues were not well enough supported to extend their rally of the previous session. In fact, the Treasury and home loans and farm mortgage groups experienced a mild relapse under moderate dealings. Corporate bonds had more losses than gains, but the shrinkage in values was not heavy.

The largest turnover in the federals was in home loan 4s, off 11-34ds of a point at 95.14; home loan 3s, off 12-32ds at 95.10; federal farm 3s, off 11-32ds at 95.12 and Treasury 3⅛s, off 6-32 at 99.24. Other Treasurys were down 4-32ds to 9-32ds of a point.

A few of the prime industrial issues were inclined to soften in sympathy with governments. Others were steady in light dealings. Union Pacific 4s slid off ⅜ of a point, while American Telephone 5s, Santa Fe 4s, Duquesne Light 4½s were about unchanged.

Lower prices were quoted for Western Union 5s, Nickel Plate 4½s, New York Central 5s, Baltimore & Ohio 4½s, American Smelting 5s and Consolidated Gas 5½s. Some obligations of the Missouri Pacific, Armour & co, and Texas Corp. improved in a small way.

Foreign bonds showed few important changes. Germans eased a little on small sales. Italian and Brazilian issues were a trifle higher.

Firmer Tone in Wool Dealings

Spot greasy combing domestic wools in Boston are very quiet. Texas wools held in the country, however, are reported firmer.

Recent sales of ordinary twelve months wools in Texas have been reported closed at prices that are estimated to cost Eastern buyers [illegible] or higher scoured basis.

SHARE PRICES HEAVY IN LATE DEALINGS

New York, Sept. 14. A moderate selling wave swept stocks 1 to more than 2 points lower today. A number of leading issues dropped to new bottoms for the year or longer, including Allied Chemical, off around 8 points, U. S. Steel preferred 2½ lower and U. S. Steel common down 1. Other losers of 1 to 2 included Case, American Telephone, Du Pont and U. S. Smelting. The late tone was heavy.

Production of new life insurance last month was 1.8 per cent greater than in August, 1933, according to the Association of Life Insurance Presidents. Along with the gains in outstanding commercial loans by banks last month, commercial paper during August increased $20,000,000 to $188,100,000, the highest total since October, 1931.

Although leading active commodities have settled into a narrow range recently, the Bureau of Labor Statistics' weekly index of wholesale prices showed the sixth consecutive advance, rising to 77.8 compared with 77. the week before.

Outstanding in the weekly federal reserve statements was an increase of $41,000,000 in reserves of member banks. The previous week their reserves dropped $220,000,000. Brokers loans were off $28,000,000 at $796,000,000.

SEEK CAUSE FOR BREAK

There was no especial news to account for the selling flurry in the various markets. Although the textile situation was still cloudy, President Roosevelt was said to be hopeful it was nearing an end, though he would confer later with Secretary of War Dern and other Regular Army officials on the Rhode Island disturbances.

While the mood of Wall Street appeared to be the most pessimistic in many weeks, some analysts pointed out that sentiment continued worse than actual business. Not much short selling was in evidence, but there was a feeling that various long accounts were awaiting the proper moment for relinquishment by discouraged holders.

At the same time the commission houses reported that most of the large investment trusts, known to be well stocked and rather bearish, have been doing practically nothing in the market. These fear, it was said, that if they should get out of their commitments now, for quick turn, they might be unable to replace them except at much higher prices.

There was still considerable confusion regarding the effect of the new Securities Exchange Act on the traditional mechanics of financial district practices. Many regulations go into action on Oct. 1, and brokers wonder what these will do to the volume of trading and the spread between bid and asked prices.

Carloadings Show Decrease in Week

Washington, Sept. 14 (AP)—The American Railway Association announced today that loadings of revenue freight for the week ended September 8 were 562,730 cars, a decrease of 83,050 under the preceding week due principally to the Labor Day holiday. The loadings also were 15,203 cars under the corresponding week in 1933 but were 61,193 above the corresponding week in 1932.

Miscellaneous freight loaded during the week was 205,535 cars, a decrease of 28,003 below the preceding week and 1,306 below 1933 but 22,230 above 1932.

COMRADE TROYANOVSKY, THE SOVIET ENVOY to Washington, says he will witness the simple joys of the rich at Newport next week. Beginning tomorrow, when the two Class J Sloops (ya his to you!), Rainbow and Endeavour, spread their white wings and go scudding away for the America's Cup, Comrade Troyanovsky will be studying play habits of the U S bourgeois

Well, the Comrade will find much that fits his Soviet ideal There are no charges of admission, no purses for the winner, no paid press agents and nobody to solicit donations for the alumni. Just the snow-white tingle of victory for its own sake.

And the crew of the U. S. defender, Rainbow, will be unsnobbishly manned by a set of raw-boned sportsmen, whose names on the official list are Harry Lilfve, Emil Sorenson, Charles Lunds, Herman Wegge, Uno Johnsonn, John Swanson, Oscar Pederson, Stanley Nelson, Chris Olson, Knute Edwards, Barney Ameson, Thom Thompeson, Chris Anker, Hans Pederson, Stanley Supicich, Knute Nelson and Sam Hanson.

This lends a strong Swedish flavor to the home team and will lead Comrade Troyanovsky to observe, "A wonderful people—these vanishing Americans."

It seems only fair, if the N. Y. Yacht Club retains the America's Cup, that it let it spend six months of each year in the Royal Museum at Stockholm in honor of the strong Swedish backs and calloused palms that helped to save it for the U. S .

WHEN I WATCHED EDDIE DRIGGS the 1916 Princeton football captain, beat Tony Torrance, the Englishman at The Country Club, it was my first sight of Eddie since a certain fall afternoon at Palmer Stadium. That day it was my misfortune to be the Lafayette safety man, who stood under his tall, sky-scraping punts—they still talk about Driggs' punting at Princeton.

I have never experienced such a lonely, wistful, feeling as while I waited for the yellow egg to come down from the autumn clouds. So high and so far were they, that the entire Princeton line, with a sprinkling of backs, had plenty of time to jog downfield and range themselves in a half-moon, like a half circle of hungry wolves, slavering for the kill.

And folks, when the ball hit my palms, KILL it was, with 10 Princeton headguards buried in my anatomy up to the necks.

And yet they say that the flying tackle, as used by ONE, lone man in the wrestling industry is savage and inhuman. (Heh! Heh!)

THAT MADCAP, JOHN "BLONDY" RYAN, has rewon a regular berth in the Giants infield and will be the club s third baseman in the world series. This is reassuring news to us key-thumpers who will sit aloft in the Polo Grounds and cover the series. Because the series would not be the same without the cub antics of this perennial sophomore.

Last October, when Manager Bill Terry went into a huddle with his pitcher during the clutch, Blondy always stuck his freckled nose in the thick of the conference, patting and reassuring. He was off the bench like food shot from guns to lead his team on the field between innings, the varsity spirit personified.

Sassy, super-confident and cocky, he caught the eye of the thousands and played the character lead during the series.

Since last year sorrow in a very tragic form came to Blondy —a nerve-shattering misfortune in the death of his father, a Lynn policeman, by his own hand. Blondy's world series check had gone to buy a new home for his parents and his profits to make their twilight years glad.

It weighed heavily on the lad's impressionable spirit, so that when I saw him in the South last spring his old fire was smothered and his confidence lagged. Now, in winning his way back—a regular again in the world series—his Lynn and Boston friends applaud his courage. Well played Blondy, well played.

IN ASHLEY TRUSTING'S BOOK, "THE YANKEE WHALER," he remarkes that any sailing boat which carried the captain's wife in the old days was called a "hen frigate." Theorem—the British cup challenger Endeavour, will have Mrs. Tom Sopwith on board during races Q. E. D. Endeavour is a "hen frigate."

TIME WORKS ITS LITTLE COMEDIES Years ago, at the height of its earning power, the Bruins hockey club, bailed out of the Arena and went to live at the Boston Garden. It was a painful snub that meant the sudden loss of rich profits to George V. Brown's management.

And then last summer the Bruins seeking to reduce the Garden rent, went shopping back to the Arena, which wooed them hungrily. But when it looked, for a small minute as though, the Bruins might bring back their lovely trade, suddenly the Garden weakened and off they flitted.

So now, it is a curious twist that puts George V. Brown, the crafty little bargainer with the liquid blue eye, behind the chief's desk at the Garden, overlord of Boston's two indoor sport palaces. The Bruins are wondering!

IT WAS THE ANNUAL BANQUET OF THE Boston Park Department Baseball League The league sorely needed additional appropriation for its 13,360 players—largest league in the country. Scattered around the City Club banquet room were the loudest and hoarsest voices—strategically seated.

The mayor bowed, with one of his rare smiles, harrumphed in his throat, and graciously made it plain that additional cash subsidies would be forthcoming. Proving that a bel[illegible] the City Club is worth six on the sandlot.

Armstrong 2 Down to Little at 18th at Brookline

and managed to hold it through the 18th hole.

The Little-Armstrong match looked like a rout when the British titlist took the first four holes, but Armstrong fought his way back to even terms at the end of the first nine. They halved the [illegible] and a birdie at the 17th started Little on his way to a two up lead at the half way mark

"Spec" Goldman carded a medal round of 79 against Smith's 80, while Little was 37—36—73 to Armstrong's 37—38—75.

FIRST HOLE 445 YARDS PAR 4

Armstrong had the honor and drove a high ball well down right side of fairway. Little smashed a low line drive, due to hitting his ball slightly on the heel of his club.

Armstrong's long iron hit the track and kicked into the rough, just short of the bunkers to the right of the green Little pulled his second and just missed being stymied by an elm tree.

They were both strong with their approaches from opposite sides of the green and Little won the hole when Armstrong took three putts

SECOND HOLE 300 YDS. PAR 4

After Little drove up into the opening Armstrong pulled his drive into the rough well short of the upper traps.

Armstrong played a beautiful second high over the traps, his ball stopping 20 feet beyond the pin. Little played a low pitch and run six feet from cup and to the right.

Armstrong laid his approach putt dead but it availed him nothing as the British title holder dropped his putt for a birdie.

LITTLE 2 UP

THIRD HOLE 445 YARDS, PAR 4

Little drove well down this fairway but a trifle to the left of the opening and some 25 yards out beyond Armstrong, who was short of the knoll at the right.

Armstrong played a No. 3 iron and carried the green, a great shot which put it right up to Mr. Little.

Little smashed into a slightly pulled mashie which hit the green and rolled six feet beyond the cup, just missing hitting the pin.

After Armstrong had putted short by four feet, Litle laid him a dead stymie when his ball spun off the lip of the cup. Armstrong failed on his attempt to jump Little's ball with a mashie niblick and lost the hole

LITTLE 3 UP

FOURTH HOLE, 305 YARDS, PAR 4

Little drove into the rough over the hill to the left and Armstrong was on the edge of the rough on the opposite side.

Armstrong's pitch kicked off the green into the lower left hand trap and then Little pitched strong and his ball ran into the trap at the back of he green, from where he used a putter to get out and was 15 feet short.

Armstrong's blast was none too good but he was inside and after Little had canned his putt for a four. Armstrong missed and lost his fourth consecutive hole.

LITTLE 4 UP

FIFTH, 425 YDS., PAR 4

Little connected with a long drive, but he was too far to the right and caught the rough, as did Armstrong, who pulled his tee shot and was yards short of his opponent.

Armstrong played a fine shot, a low iron that carried to just short of the green and ran up six feet from the cup. Little was a trifle strong and wound up on the back edge of the green, from where he came within a half roll of laying another stymie, his ball stopping four inches from the cup.

Armstrong studied his putt carefully and then dropped it for a birdie and a win

SIXTH, 290 YDS., PAR 4

With Armstrong 50 yards short, Little drove to the white line in front of the green.

Armstrong's pitch stopped five feet from the cup—a great shot, and then Little ran about 12 feet beyond.

Little was just short on his approach putt and then Armstrong ran in for his second birdie in a row for a win.

SEVENTH, 185 YDS., PAR 3

They were both on with Armstrong 25 feet short and Little almost hole high to the left.

Armstrong was strong on his first putt, running six feet by but he got it coming back for a halve as Little was down with two putts.

EIGHTH, 375 YDS., PAR 4

Little hit a long drive and was in perfect position to tuck his second a holeable distance from the cup. Instead he pulled it into the upper trap, after Armstrong, who was 40 short of him off the tee, had caught the rough to the right of the green but hole high.

Armstrong was away and pitched strong. Then Little blasted out four feet short. Armstrong got his four and Little was obliged to get down his for a halve, and when he missed Armstrong was only one down after losing the first four holes

NINTH, 430 YDS., PAR 4

Although Armstrong drove a fine ball he was 40 yards short of Little who was on the run up of the hill and almost in the center of the fairway.

Using a brassie, Armstrong smashed into a fine second shot, which rolled to within 10 yards of the green. Little was strong and went over the green and down the bank to the road.

Armstrong was seven feet short of his chip but squared the match by getting his putt.

MATCH ALL EVEN

TENTH, 320 YDS., PAR 4.

After Armstrong drove, Little played a spoon and was away for the first time

They both skimmed over the bunker, with their seconds about the same distance from the hole. Little putted first and was just short and when Armstrong's approach putt fell shy, they conceded each other fours.

MATCH ALL EVEN.

ELEVENTH, 510 YDS., PAR 5

Armstrong drove to the flat but Little went for the top of the ledge and then went over the green with his second after Armstrong had played a Number 3 iron short of the traps.

Armstrong pitched on from the foot of the hill. Little's chip back left him only a four footer for a birdie but he missed and the hole was halved in 5s.

MATCH ALL EVEN

TWELFTH, 130 YDS., PAR 3

Armstrong played a spade to the back edge of the green, but Little was heavy and caught the trap. Coming out, the British champion was 15 feet short and it looked as though Armstrong was going to take the lead.

Armstrong came up with a weak and slightly off line putt. Little's putt for his three ran by and then Armstrong missed, passing up an opportunity to go out in front.

MATCH ALL EVEN

THIRTEENTH, 420 YDS., PAR 4.

They were both well out off the tee with Little out in front. Armstrong played a remarkable second and fell away from the pin and beyond Little from just short of the bunker, pulled his iron slightly. His ball hit on the back of the green and bounced into the rough, among the trees, over the road.

Little ran his recovery shot through the road and heavy rough 12 feet from and short of the cup. Armstrong's putt went over the hole and then Little canned his putt for a wonderful four, after which Armstrong got his halve.

MATCH ALL EVEN.

FOURTEENTH, 520 YDS., PAR 5

Armstrong hit a fine drive into the saddle-back. Little pushed his badly off line, but again he was the recipient of a break, for when his ball hit beyond the top over the hill, beyond the 9th green of the Primrose, he bounced down upon the ladies' tee of No. 1 Squirrel instead of lodging in the heavy pitty rough.

Armstrong was well short of the bank, running up to the green in two. Little with a perfect lie let fly with a brassie and was just at the bottom of the bank. Armstrong's pitch was well to the left of the pin and Little ran by, which gave them a halve with fives.

MATCH ALL EVEN.

15TH, 425 YDS., PAR 4

Armstrong was just in the rough off the tee with Little 10 yards short of the road, but the former was short by a few feet with his second. Little was on the lower corner and the hole was halved with fours

MATCH ALL EVEN

16TH, 170 YDS., PAR 4

With Armstrong on and about 25 to the left of the pin, Little's iron caught the bunker and kicked back into the trap. He exploded out five feet from the hole and got a halve.

MATCH ALL EVEN

17TH, 265 YDS., PAR 4

Armstrong almost hit the pin with his second. Little was only 10 feet away. Armstrong laid his putt up dead for his four but Little canned his for a birdie to go to one up.

LITTLE ONE UP

18TH, 405 YDS., PAR 4

They were both well down the fairway off the tee and put their seconds on the green. Little putted up and practically stymied Armstrong, who in trying to get around his oppponent's ball misjudged the distance and took one too many putts.

LITTLE TWO UP

BRAVES TO AID WATERTOWN BENEFIT

Next Monday evening, a number of citizens will sponsor a "Baseball and Athletic Night" at Victory Field, Watertown, under the floodlights, proceeds to go to a former baseball player and World War Veteran, who is seriously ill.

Preceding the baseball game there will be a parade starting from the American Legion Home at [illegible] p. m. along Mt. Auburn street to Watertown Square to Church street to Marion road to Victory Field

The parade will consist of the American Legion Drill Team and National Champion Forty and Eight Band, Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Eugene Joseph Daly Post of Veterans Drum and Bugle Corps from Newton.

There will be an Old Timers Game starting at 7 p. m., between the Beacon BBC of 1916 and an Old Time All Star Team. This game is to be umpired by Hank Gowdy, Walter Berger and Duffy Lewis of the Boston Braves.

Much rivalry and enthusiasm is being shown in the tug of war between the town highway and water departments.

The American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars drill teams will put on a drill exhibition between games and the Legion band will give a concert.

The feature game of the evening will bring together the Philadelphia Colored Giants, world champion colored team, and the Watertown team of the Northwestern league, which should turn out to be the most thrilling game of the year

The comedy of the evening will be furnished by Joe "Guinea" Burke and Frank "Chick" Hughes, who will impersonate Nick Altrock and Al Schacht.

A committee of 75 is headed by Thomas V. Dwyer, chairman James M Maloney, secretary, and James G. Barry, treasurer

PAWSON BREAKS 10-MILE MARK

Brockton, Sept 14—Showing the best form he displayed since he won the B A A. Marathon in 1933, Leslie Pawson of Pawtucket broke the 14-year-old Brockton Fair 10-mile record here.

Pawson's time was 52 minutes, 32 2-5 seconds, 57 3-5 seconds faster than Henigan did when he broke the record in 1920.

Henigan did not run this year but he was on hand to congratulate the winner.

Second in the race was Hawk Zamparelli of Medford, two minutes behind and third was little Johnny Kelley of North Medford, who was second in the 1934 B. A. A. marathon.

Mat Title Go Sept. 28

The Ed Don George-Jim Browning bout, booked for tonight after Wednesday evening's postponement, has been set back until September 28 when it will be staged in the Boston Garden.

Matchmaker Alex MacLean decided weather at this time of the year is unsatisfactory for night outdoor promotions.

Goldman Rallies to Earn 1 Up Advantage on Smith in Golf Semi-Final Duel

By Bill Grimes

FIRST, 445 YDS., PAR 4

Goldman started off with a pulled tee shot into the rough and then dropped his second into the trap from where he pitched to the back edge of the green. Smith was short between the trap and the green to the left in two, playing a spoon for his second, but after chipping up for a holable putt missed and was forced to be content with a halve in fives

MATCH ALL EVEN.

SECOND, 300 YDS., PAR 4

Although Goldman was 25 yards out in front of his buddie, and on nicely in two with Smith trapped in the upper hazard to the left of the green, the best he got was a halve. Reynolds come out cleverly and dropped a two-footer for his four.

MATCH ALL EVEN.

THIRD, 415 YDS., PAR 4

They were about even off the tee, but Goldman's No. 4 [illegible] caught the trap and he was just on the green with his third. Smith played a No. 2 iron, and he was about five yards short of the puttin surface, from where he chipped dead for a four "Spec" made a bid for his par, but he ran by and was still away. After missing, Goldman cneddeco'—lg 6 6 6 6 6 6 conceded the hole to Smith.

SMITH ONE UP

FOURTH, 305 YDS., PAR 4.

They were both on the top of the hill from the tee, but "Spec's" pitch ran over and into the trap beyond the green, with Smith only 15 feet from the cup Goldman chipped back, stoney, only to miss his putt, after Smith had missed his three by a narrow margin.

SMITH TWO UP

5TH, 425 YDS., PAR 4

Smith had enough push on his drive to catch the rough and he hit a tree with his second, leaving him yards short of the green. No damage was done, as Goldman, after driving in the fairway was short with a No. 3 iron and then chipped beyond the hole and they halved with fives

SMITH TWO UP

6TH, 290 YDS., PAR 4

Although he was trapped with his second, Goldman got down an eight footer for a halve to a regulation four. They were well up the fairway from the tee with Smith away. Smith pitched high to the green and his ball stopped about 15 feet from the cup. Then "Spec" pitched into the hazard, from where he played a remarkable shot, his ball rolling right at the cup. After Smith missed his try for his "birdie". Goldman sank his for an even break

SMITH TWO UP

7TH, 185 YARDS, PAR 3

Goldman had trouble with this hole for the past two days and he was no better this morning. With Smith just short of the green, he pushed his iron in among the mounds and although he played a nice chip lost the hole, for he missed his putt following a stoney approach by Smith.

8TH, 350 YARDS, PAR 4

They were both down the middle of this fairway and ironed their way to the green with their seconds, but Smith was about 40 feet from the cup and Goldman only 10. Smith putted and left himself an eight footer which missed with "Spec" up in three for an "giveme."

SMITH ONE UP

9TH, 430 YDS., PAR 4

They connected with fine drives, with Smith just out in front. He was also inside playing his second, almost laying Goldman a stymie The rangy Texan skimmed by and the hole was halved with fours.

SMITH TWO UP

10TH, 320 YDS., PAR 4

Smith had a little on "Spec" off this tee but this time Goldman was nearer the cup in two for Smith's pitch over the mounds ran to the back of the green while Goldman's halted 15 feet from the cup. They putted up dead and got their fours

SMITH TWO UP

11TH, 510 YDS., PAR 5

Goldman began to let out a few kinks at this point and outdrove Reynolds by a few yards. He pulled his second into the deep rough. Smith was between the brook and the hill in two and they both were home in three for another halve.

12TH, 130 YDS., PAR 3

They were both on this green, with Goldman well inside Smith's putt just missed stymieing "Spec" In fact, it was so close to his line that he hit the ball and the hole was halved, with threes

SMITH, TWO UP

13th, 405 YDS., PAR 4

Smith attempted to keep close to the left side of this fairway. His drive caught the rough and kicked into the trees, from where he played a safety shot back up to the "cut." After a nice tee shot, Goldman found his second in among the hummocks and like his foe needed three to get home for the fifth consecutive halved hole

SMITH, TWO UP.

14TH, 520 YDS., PAR 5

After Goldman pulled his drive just short of the trap beyond the pin Smith hooked badly and to further complicate matters, his ball took a bad kick and went down into the woods Smith played his second diagonally across the fairway and he was still short of the [illegible] "Spec" out of [illegible] his five failed to get his putt and lost the hole

SMITH ONE UP

15TH, 425 YDS., PAR 4

Again Goldman was out in front off the tee Both hit fine drives but were a trifle strong with their seconds, Goldman's ball running over the back and on the right side of the green, Smith's going to the left and kicking off the green Neither chipped back close enough for his putt and the hole was halved with fives

SMITH ONE UP

16TH, 170 YDS., PAR 3

Goldman squared the match here From the tee Smith was trapped and after getting out missed the eight-footer for his three. Goldman putted up stoney and dropped his [illegible]

MATCH ALL EVEN

17TH, 265 YDS., PAR 4

Goldman drove into the rough beyond the Vardon trap and it looked bad, for the grass is not only deep but was very wet. Smith caught hold of a fine drive and smacked his second on the green, [illegible] Then Goldman [illegible] niblick shot [illegible] over the trap and rolled up two feet from the cup. Smith missed his try for a three and dropped back to one down when "Spec" canned his for a [illegible]

JIM McLARNIN LAST OF GREAT STRING OF IRISH FIGHTERS

HEBREWS LEAD IN PUGILISTIC INDUSTRY

By Damon Runyan

Copyright, 1934, by Universal Service Inc.

New York, Sept. 14—The fighting Irish have faded completely from the fistic championship picture

The Hebrews lead by a big majority.

Heavyweight champion, Max Baer, a Hebrew.

THEY'RE ALL DONE

Jimmy McLarnin is about the last pugilistic idol of the Irish, even among the contenders.

It is a curious situation that finds the sons of Erin almost entirely eliminated as headliners in the game over which they once held sway

Jack Dempsey, Mickey Walker, Mike McTigue, Jimmy Slattery, Tommy Freeman, Tommy Loughran, Tuffy Griffin, James J. Braddock, Jimmy McLarnin, Honeyboy Finnegan, Eddie Shea, George Courtney, Jack Britton, Tommy Grogan, Mike O'Dowd, Gene Tunney, Jock Malone, Dave Shade—these are just a few of the names that appeared in the sport page headlines only a few years ago, not to go farther back to the Gibbons boys, and Joe Lynch, and Midget Smith, and Johnny Kilbane and a host of other Irishmen who flourished in a bygone era.

On far back beyond them, James J. Jeffries, Philadelphia Jack O'Brien, James J. Corbett, John L. Sullivan, Jack McAuliffe, the original Jack Dempsey, Harlem Tommy Murphy, Jack Skelly, Frankie Neill, and scores of other descendants of the Emerald Isle, made fighting history, and monopolized the titles, or the contenderships.

McLARNIN VS. ROSS

Now the glory of the Irish has faded so far as the prize ring is concerned.

Only the boy from Belfast, who climbs into the ring at Madison Square Garden bowl, on Long Island, tomorrow night, against the fighting son of Abraham, Barney Ross, remains as a first grade title contender in any division

RIVAL SOX OPEN IN CHICAGO

Chicago, Sept. 14—Red Sox and White Sox open a four-game series here this afternoon with the teams' aces on the firing line. Wes Ferrell for the Boston Sox and Ted Lyons for the home club.

The Boston clan, which showed a fine outfielder in Detroit in Melo Almada, had three more recruits with them today who probably will be pressed into immediate service.

The trio are Arthur Graham, a Boston boy, who has been outfielding valiantly for Reading, and third baseman Fred Niemec and Pitcher Hockett, up from Kansas City.

Braves Beat Whalers

New Bedford, Sept. 14—The Boston Braves tried out several rookies in their game with the local Northeastern League team here, but it was their veterans who provided the big thump. The Braves won, 6-2.

Wally Berger and Hal Lee got three hits apiece, two of Berger's being triples.

Schoolboy Introduces the Future Missus

Lynwood "Schoolboy" Rowe, Detroit's boy wonder pitching ace, who equaled the record for American League consecutive victories, has no secrets from Miss Edna Spinner, the future Mrs. Rowe. Here we see Miss Spinner peeking at one of the hundreds of fan letters which have arrived since Rowe first began to startle the baseball world from the men fans. But those women have no right to be penning ardent letters which border on the mash stuff. (Picture from International News Photograph Service.)

Rowe's Fiancee Takes Detroit by Storm

By International News Service

Detroit, Sept. 14—There are two or three old-timers in Detroit today who would tell you that the momentous events of yesterday's eighth inning, which broke the Tigers' slump, were due to the normal fluctuations of a ball team's efficiency.

But all the rest of Detroit insists there's another reason—and that the reason's name is Edna.

Edna May Spinner, the belle of Eldorado, Arkansas, is Schoolboy Rowe's girl. Ever since the schoolboy began to pitch himself toward immortality and the Tigers toward a world series Detroit fans have been [illegible] at her. Enterprising reporters went to Eldorado and sent back [illegible] scraps of information that she was just past 20, that she was the schoolboy's first and only girl, that she was a brunette, that she was pretty.

On the last count Detroit maintained some mental reservations. The word "pretty" has a variety of applications. And reporters who get as far away from the city desk as Eldorado, Arkansas, have been known to lose perspective.

CROWD AT STATION

But yesterday Edna May arrived—"to visit Lynwood for a few days." A crowd of more than 500 curious but open-minded townsfolk were on hand at Michigan Central station when her train pulled in. For a few moments the crowd stared vainly for a glimpse of her while she was encircled and monopolized by the arm that rules the American League.

But when the greetings were over and Edna May stepped down from the Pullman she took Detroit like Grant took Richmond. And to carry the ancient simile further it soon developed that Richmond had taken Grant, for Detroit claimed Edna May as its own.

Reporters telephoned in and gave the boys who had gone to Eldorado a clean bill of veracity.

"Boss," one of them announced, "put your dough on the Tigers. With a dame like this in the stands, they just got to win today."

A little flustered and bewildered by the tumultuous welcome, the clustering cameramen, the cheers and the flowers, Edna May went to the ball game.

With a final glance at her, the schoolboy went to the mound and began working on the Washington Senators. For seven innings under the smile of the belle of Eldorado Rowe didn't falter. But everything else except his pitching combined to prevent the Tigers from scoring. One by one a double row of zeros went up on the scoreboard.

STOOD UP AND CHEERED

The eighth inning came and Edna May still smiled. Then suddenly the Tigers became a different ball team. With White on second, Mickey Cochrane smashed out a double to drive in the first score. Gehringer singled, scoring Cochrane. Edna May stood up and cheered.

JUMBOS READY FOR MONDAY PRACTICE

Sixty Tufts athletes are laying plans to capture a first-string berth on the Jumbo grid eleven this fall as they answer Head Coach Lew Manly's invitation to join the initial practice, on the Tufts Oval Monday morning. Spring practice was omitted this year because of the press of other sports on the grid athletes. As a result the coach has no way of knowing just how the yearlings will work out with the present varsity veterans but their records indicate a serious battle for both line and backfield berths is at hand.

The leading varsity men who will return are Ollie Borden, Captain Walter Froelich, Joe Redshaw, Dick Hingston and Raymie McLean for the backfield, and Johnny [illegible], Roy Woodworth, George Katz, Ben Carlyn, Gene Nattie, Sam Fox and Fred Oliver for the line. Of these Roy Woodworth is recuperating from diphtheria, and will not report for several weeks while Ollie Borden, if he does report, must go easy for a month while his ankle, which he fractured this summer, completely heals.

Coach Manly has the same coaching staff again this year, Sike Rachdorf with the line and Charlie Hingston in the backfield, with the added services of John Parkhurst, Tufts regular center for the past three years, working out with the team.

EAGLES SLICE SQUAD AGAIN

With its annual game with the freshmen only a week ahead and the season's opener against St. Anselm's booked the week after, Boston College's revised group of 70 footballers will enter upon the second and more important stage of preparation next week, Coach Joe McKenney announced today.

To date the emphasis has had to be on the conditioning of the team with as much football as possible sandwiched in, but with the start of class on Monday daily scrimmages and drills will be the order.

A second cut which will reduce the varsity squad to about 55, the number to be retained, is scheduled for today or tomorrow

Ford Buys World Series Radio Rights

Enriches 200 Big Leaguers From $100 to $1000

By Joe Cashman

Some 200 big league players will return home this fall $100 to $1000 richer as a result of the sale for the first time of the World Series broadcasting rights for $100,000.

The money will go into the players' pool and be shared by the members of the championship teams as well as the clubs finishing second, third and fourth in each circuit.

Henry Ford purchased the radio rights. Wonder if he'll consider it a bad bargain if the Detroit Tigers fail to win the American League flag?

The Tigers came through with a 2-0 victory over the Senators yesterday as Lynwood "Schoolboy" Rowe turned in his 23rd win but the pace-setters are still only 3½ games ahead of the Yanks when [illegible] Indians 3 to 1 when Vernon [illegible] Lefty Gomez allowed only [illegible] upon [illegible]

The Cardinals [illegible] a fighting chance of catching the Giants in the National League when Paul Dean outpitched Fred Fitzsimmons in a bitter 12-inning struggle to conquer the leaders, 2 to 0, in the opener of the crucial four-game series at the Polo Grounds. The Terrymen's advantage over the runners-up is now 4½ games.

Our Red Sox were rained out in Chicago, so they drew to within four games of the third-place Indians.

If the Giants win the National League flag, [illegible] Ryan will have [illegible] to become a world series hero.

He is only a soph and has a brilliant sports future, experts say. (Pictures by International Photos.)

ROSEBUDS OPEN SERIES WITH LOWELL

By Bob Ahearn

The Worcester club, winners of the second half pennant race are 5 to 3 favorites to take the four out of seven games series.

Bill Hunnefield, manager of the Lowell Hustlers, has acquired Neil Mahoney from the Watertown team to replace Hal Fowler, injured catcher, while Worcester signed Charlie Hedderick, substitute Manchester catcher.

Pete Ballard will rejoin his Lowell teammates for the series. He is an outfielder and utility infielder. Ballard was sent to Manchester three weeks ago to finish the season.

The contemplated Little World Series between the Northeastern League playoff winner and the New York-Penn. League titlist has been cancelled. Today, President Roger E. Baker received a wire from the N. Y. P. circuit officials saying it was impossible, due to the lateness of the season.

---

First National Stores and Hall's All Stars play a doubleheader Sunday at Dilboy Field, Somerville, in the semi final round of the Suburban Twi. League play-off series.

---

Trum Field, Somerville, will be the scene of an exhibition encounter tomorrow afternoon when the Malden City Club squares off with the First National Stores. Included in the starting lineup for the City Club team will be Lefty Gay, southpaw ace for the Wayland Rosebuds, Art Mahan, Villanova and Cape Cod League first sacker, and Frank McDermott, Fordham captain of the past season.

DRESSEN MAKES BOSTON DEBUT AS REDS MANAGER

Mr. Boston Says:—

New Greek Ring Star Try and Spell Name Goodwin A. C. Show

By Jack Conway

SPEAKING OF News: The new Greek boxing sensation, Fanis Tzanetoupolos, is able to fight despite the weight handicap of carrying around such a tongue-twisting name. T, etc., will quarrel with Johnny Rossi of Worcester in a ten-round bout at a Goodwin A. C. show at the Arena on next Monday night.

The Goodwin A. C. press agent calls T., etc. "Fannie." I would suggest as better names "The Greek Terror," "Atlas," or maybe you would prefer the name of one of the famous Greek gods.

* * *

They tell me that "Fanis" or what you would like to call him knocks over buildings with his right duke. And that if Rossi isn't careful he will get his head knocked from his shoulders.

Mr. Boston

Jim Londos, now an American citizen with a residence in St. Louis, is the most famous of the Greek athletes. Londos has earned $1,000,000 wrestling, and has saved a young fortune for the rainy day folks like to talk about.

Salek vs. Ricciotti

RIP VALENTI has signed Joe Ricciotti of the North End to battle Steve Salek of Lowell in the eight-round semi-final. These youngsters furnished some stirring battles when they were tossing punches in four rounders. Each has come a long way since then, and should provide a stirring engagement Monday night.

Two years ago the Garden was offered to one local group for $1000 a night with a 15 per cent privilege. That was during the low of the depression.

Basketball Interest

THE NEW basketball team at the Arena will play the best professional teams in the country. Basketball staged a remarkable come back during the past two years.

PRESIDENT ON WAY TO SEE CUP RACES

Copyright, 1934, by Universal Service, Inc.

Newport, Sept. 14—The "Sailor President" is on his way to witness in person the defense of America's cup which starts tomorrow and this is no polite gesture on Franklin Delano Roosevelt's part.

He is the one President in the history of the United States fully competent to take the wheel of the Rainbow, and handle her himself. It is the salt water in his blood that brings him to Newport at this time.

The two yachts will not be maneuvering under the perfunctory eye of a bored President. Instead the binoculars trained upon them from the bridge of Vincent Astor's yacht Nourmahal, will detect and appreciate every masterful move as the yachts jockey for position.

What a splendid gesture it would be, if Cousin Mike (as Harold Vanderbilt is familiarly known) would hail the Nourmahal and invite the skilled yachtsman who happens to be President, to take a turn at the wheel during the first race!

TO WELCOME SOPWITH

The President will board Nourmahal from the summer White House at Hyde Park late this afternoon, and will proceed leisurely to Newport through Long Island Sound.

The Nourmahal will enter Narragansett Bay tomorrow morning. She will heave to at the starting line at 11 o'clock, to witness the start a half-hour later.

Immediately after the race, the Nourmahal will proceed to Newport harbor, where the President plans to wecome T. O. M. Sopwith, his amateur crew, and Harold Vanderbilt and his afterguard. Governor Green of Rhode Island and Mayor Sullivan of Newport will be received also.

AVOIDS SOCIAL FUNCTIONS

The President has no illusions concerning the attitude toward him and his policies held by most of Newport's socialites. He knows full well that they comprise the group referred to in his speech—as a group whose "toes are to be tread on."

On Sunday, F. D., the yachtsman, will gratify his desire to take a turn at the wheel when he embarks on a brief sail with son James on the latter's 30-foot sloop, to skim over the waters of the America's cup course itself.

Late that afternoon he will re-embark aboard the Nourmahal for Hyde Park.

Havemeyer Named U. S. Observer

Newport, R. I., Sept. 14—Charles T. "Bubbles" Havemeyer, center on the 1920 Harvard football team, has been named American observer on the British-America's Cup challenger, Endeavour.

Havemeyer was a member of the afterguard on the defender Enterprise four years ago.

Dean Sensation of West Coast

Los Angeles, Sept. 14 (INS)—"Man Mountain" Dean, giant Georgian, may not be as polished a wrestler as Jim Londos or Strangler Lewis, nor know so much about drop-kicking as Joe Savoldi, but he's the biggest drawing card on the Pacific coast, and he's winning all of his matches with ease by the simple procedure of dropping his 317-pound bulk on his opponents.

Nancy Jupp Wins British Golf Title

Stoke Poges, Eng., Sept. 14 (AP)—Nancy Jupp, saucy little 13-year-old Scot lassie, today won the British girls golf championship defeating Joan Montford 3 and 1 in the 18-hole final.

It was Nancy's first tournament of any kind and makes her the youngest girl ever to hold the British title. Although hardly as tall as a full sized driver she reached the gren of a 450-yard hole in two shots.

Reds Whip Bears

Myers Names First Ten

London, Sept. 14—Wallis Myers, president of the International Tennis Club of Great Britain, and considered the foremost tennis authority in the world, ranks the world's leading first ten in this fashion:

1, Fred Perry, Great Britain; 2, Jack Crawford, Australia; 3, Baron Von Cramm, Germany; 4, Bunny Austin, England; 5, Wilmer Allison, U. S.; 6, Sidney Wood, U. S.; 7, Roderick Menzel, Czechoslovakia; 8 Frank Shields, U. S.; 9, Giorgio De Stefani, Italy; 10, Christian Boussus, France.

O'Farrell's Successor Giant Hero in 4th '33 World Series Game

By Joe Cashman

Charles "Chuck" Dressen, most recent addition to big league managerial ranks, makes his local debut this p. m. when he pilots the Cincinnati Reds into the Wigwam for four games in three days.

Charlie, it may be recalled, is the same young man who was the hero of the fourth game of the last world series.

A Giant infield reserve by special dispensation of Judge Landis—he had joined the club too late by law to participate in the money clashes—"Chuck" never did break into the lineup, but his masterminding saved that one and very crucial game for the Terrymen.

He was sitting in the bull pen watching Carl Hubbell trying to protect a one-run lead in an extra inning. The Senators got runners on third and first with one out.

While Joe Cronin pondered over the selection of a pinch-hitter, Bill Terry called one of his copyrighted huddles to decide whether to play back for a twin-killing or in to shut off the tying run at the plate.

TIPS OFF WEAKNESS

It was decided to play in. Then Cliff Bolton stepped to bat.

Suddenly came a loud "wait" from the bull pen. It was the diminutive Dressen shouting and running in. He whispered to his boss.

"Don't play in for this guy. He's lucky to reach first on a legitimate triple. It he hits to an infielder, a double play is a cinch."

Terry waved the infield back. Bolton shot a grounder between third and short. "Blondy" Ryan knocked it down very deep, made a long throw to second for the force. Hughie Critz took plenty of time on the relay to first and the hitter was out by a city block. Had the infield been in, the drive would have been a clean single.

Dressen still deserves to be ranked a hero. He quit as pilot of a championship club in Nashville to succeed Bob O'Farrell as manager of the Reds in July, when the team was buried hopelessly in the National League cellar.

The Cincinnati appointment was a dream come true for the little guy. He dozed off in a hotel at Little Rock last June and dreamed he was manager of the Reds, with whom he broke into the majors in 1926 and stayed as regular third sacker for six years.

He hasn't pulled the club out of the basement, but he deserves a chance to start from scratch next spring on what he has accomplished. He was seven games back of seventh place starting out. Now he's only two.

It's certain, though, that "Chuck" must be given plenty of new material if he's to have a first-division contender next season. His present outfit is in the cellar because it's the weakest in the loop.

TWIN BILL SUNDAY

When Powel Crosley, radio magnate, took over the Cincinnati franchise last winter, he was hailed as the Tom Yawkey of the National League. As yet, he has no license to be mentioned in the same breath with Marse Tom as a spender. He has plenty of what it takes, though, and is expected to take the elastic off this winter.

The Reds' four games here, singles today and tomorrow and a twin bill Sunday, will show whether the Braves' poor showing of late has been due to a slump on their part or to too much class on the part of the opposition.

N. H. TO CHANGE RULE ON AID TO HORSES

By Dave Egan

Rockingham, N. H., Sept. 14—The New Hampshire State Racing Commission has decided to govern its way according to the ways of the horsemen.

They will, either today or tomorrow, amend their rules as to stimulating horses, so that, in the future, such tonics as "nux vomica" will not be on the prohibitive list, come what may.

This will be a boon to those horsemen who protest that they do to their horses only what all other owners do. They put a dash of nux vomica into their breakfast food, which they claim, is like giving sulphur and molasses to a growing child.

Your envoy still insists that a horse should never run when he is "stimulated." If a horse needs a tonic, let him or her rest in his or her stall before he races again. Reputable veterinarians assure me that nux vomica is no more than a mild stimulant.

All racing horses, you know, are infants. If you find a tenyear-old horse on a track, that horse is usually a bedraggled veteran, dragging his tail behind him.

My argument is, and always shall be, that if the racing of horses is propagated for the good of the breed, horses should be run only if they are in good condition.

Velardi and Friel Brothers Up With 'Ace' Leaders

By Sully Kozol

Come out to Franklin Field and make a hole-in-one! The Boston American invites you to enter its third annual Hole-In-One tournament at the City of Boston's fine municipal course where a special 120-yard driving course has been constructed for this purpose.

To date, more than 1500 entrants have tried their skill with midirons, mashies, niblicks and drivers, but none has succeeded in accomplishing the feat. However, a good many have come within a scant foot or two from the 20-foot circle that surrounds the cup.

Two sets of brothers have achieved the distinction of getting on the green within the circle. They are Sam and Jack Velardi of Belmont, with marks of 2 feet, 6 inches and 6 feet, 3¼ inches, and Pat and Dan Friel of the Franklin Park Club, with marks of 4 feet, 1 inch and 5 feet, 11 inches respectively.

You may enter the contest at the tee any day this week. Boston American officials will be on hand to register you between the hours of 9 a. m. and 5 p. m.

Latest to get within the 20-foot circle are:

| Name | Distance from Cup |
|---|---|
| J. Baram | 3 ft. 5 in. |
| P. Friel | 4 ft. 1 in. |
| W. McLean | 4 ft. 4½ in. |
| J. H. Murray | 5 ft. 6 in. |
| E. Sherrock | 5 ft. 8 in. |

RESCO FOOT MEASURING MACHINE

You can always tell what a LEADER has done—but you never know what he is going to do.

THEY SAID IT COULDN'T BE DONE, BUT HERE IT IS!—the result of fifteen years of intensive research in measuring and fitting millions of feet, using our own stores from Coast to Coast as testing laboratories during our experimental work.

In one survey of 18,000 civilians, we found that 62½% of the men and 57½% of the women were fitted short. In 60% of the cases the left foot was longer than the right, and in 40% the reverse was true.

In four New York public schools an accurate survey of all the pupils' feet showed that 82% of the shoes worn were misfitted.

Our records revealed a wide variation in length—from one to three sizes—between foot measurements taken when sitting down and standing up.

WHY? Because the ordinary method in the average shoe store is to measure the length of one foot—when the customer is sitting down, instead of accurately measuring the length and width of both feet with a sensitive, scientific machine — when the customer is standing up.

There is no other Foot Measuring Machine in the World today that measures the length and width of both feet at the same time, under the balanced weight of the body, and automatically registers on two separate cards the length and width of both the right and left foot individually, and translates your foot sizes into Inches that everybody can read and understand.

Our "Century of Progress" Exhibit in Chicago during the World's Fair included more than two hundred different fitting appliances, and showed the evolution of Shoe Fitting—from the antiquated Old-Fashioned Size-Stick to the New 1934 Model of the Resco Twin-Foot Measuring Machine, now used exclusively by the Regal Shoe Company and adopted by the United States Army, Navy and Marine Corps.

You are cordially invited to come in and have our salesmen show you the new Resco Twin-Foot Measuring Machine—Short Shoe Preventer—Short Shoe Detector, and other exclusive Regal Foot Measuring and Shoe fitting devices, and demonstrate the ten Regal tests of shoe fitting.

TERRIER LINEUP IS FAR FROM SETTLED

Boston University's starting line-up was as unsettled this morning as it was the first day of practice.

The Terriers take it easy today but tomorrow afternoon they will be sent through a long scrimmage. This is expected to have a great deal to do with settling of many doubtful positions.

The battle for the center job is between Elmer Bussell and Sam Lourie. Captain George Abodeely, Homer Beserosky, Charles Gubellini and Sid Borofsky are scrapping for the guard positions; the tackle berths are a tossup between Irving Gross, Bob Allen, Fred Nicholas and Brony Kastantin; while Russ Lynch, Harold Levenson, Dick Van Iderstine and Frank Hughes all desire to start at end.

The backfield has been less troublesome in that Hanley has been using the same quartet all fall. The big worry here is in reverses. Ray Maddox, a promising sophomore, seems to have the call at quarterback; the halfbacks are those two juniors who starred last year, Warren McNamara and George Pattison, and George Timson is slated to remain at fullback.

U.S. Has Won 37 of 40 Races

By Associated Press.

New York, Sept. 14—The challenge of Thomas Octave Murdoch Sopwith marks the 15th time in 84 years a representative of the British empire has sought to lift the America's cup from its trophy case in the New York Athletic Club.

A total of 40 races have been sailed during the 14 previous series. All matches and 37 of the races have been won by the defending American yacht.

Three races were won by British challengers.

The defender was disabled in one race and withdrew and in two races the challenger met with similar fate and withdrew.

Lord Dunraven, the British challenger in 1895, was disqualified in the second race for fouling the defender, and in the next race the British yacht crossed the line at the start and then withdrew. In one race a British challenger failed to finish within the time limit.

By comparison with the $20,000 spent by a group of six New York business men to construct the America in 1851 when the trophy was wrested from England, more than $3,000,000 was spent in defense preparations in 1930 and perhaps that much has been expended this year in getting ready for the challenge of Sopwith's Endeavour.

CARRY OVER IS $5000 REVERE 'CAP CHOICE

one-sixteenth feature, here tomorrow afternoon.

The Revere, like other handicaps arranged by Racing Secretary Jim Monroe, shapes up as a wide-open affair, but I believe that Carry Over in his present great form will stand a world of beating.

Carry Over's triumph in the Lawrence was one of the best efforts to be shown by any three-year-old this season. The big St. German's colt made all of his own pace in the gruelling mile and five furlongs' journey to win in hand from M. L. Schwartz's Observant. The latter was generally regarded as the best of the three-year-old around Saratoga this summer.

Unless that race served to dull his speed, Carry Over should furnish his 11 opponents with plenty of trouble. Willie Saunders has been engaged to ride the Wheatley stable's star.

All Forlorn, an easy winner of his last two starts, is meeting the same sort that he has already drubbed in the six furlongs of the sixth race and shapes up as the day's outstanding wagering proposition.

MYNAH, COGAY, LAMPORTE

FIRST RACE—$800, claiming, three-year-olds and upward, six furlongs:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Mynah | x107 | Cogay | 107 |
| Star Queen | 107 | Grand Acre | x106 |
| Hasty Belle | x102 | Wedding Ring | x106 |
| Cancel | x102 | Lamporte | x105 |
| Jim Ormont | x106 | | |

MYNAH comes up to this test razor sharp. The stimilus filly whirled three panels this morning in .35 for her final. COGAY has had scant chance to show her true wares at this meeting. The daughter of Conort may do better in this company. LAMPORTE has been displaying a high turn of speed and may save the short end.

IMA GREENLOCK, WESTY'S DUKE, PALASA

SECOND RACE—$800, claiming, two-year-olds, six furlongs:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Bon Mot | x113 | Mad Bull | 107 |
| Yenzor | x 99 | Liebchen | 104 |
| Apple Fritter | 105 | Solitary | 108 |
| Home Loan | x113 | Ima Greenock | x110 |
| Westys Duke | x109 | Tabitha | x110 |
| Chewawa | 105 | Palasa | x 96 |

IMA GREENLOCK changed hands after her last winning race, but that should not stop the daughter of Greenlock from drubbing a field of this sort. Her opposition is similar to that, which was encountered in that last victory. WESTY'S DUKE flashed a fine effort inn slightly better company last out. PALASA has drawn an outside post position and should be along in time to snare the remainder of the sopils.

ISAIAH, BAMBOULA, BEDIGHT

THIRD RACE—$1000, claiming, three-year-olds and up, five furlongs (7):

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| xBamboula | 105 | xIsaiah | 100 |
| xBedight | 108 | Crazy Jane | 110 |
| Clotho | 113 | xMarch Step | 104 |
| Gift of Roses | 106 | | |

ISAIAH was installed the favorite over this same field in his last outing. However, the high-time colt showed a very dull effort after breaking poorly. The E. Trotter colorbearer is dropping 18 pounds off that race and is entitled to another chance. BAMBOULA turned in a first rate performance in the Sufflok Handicap. Had the race been a bit longer she might have been returned the winner. BEDIGHT drubbed Blue Day and others over this same distance last out.

CURRANTS, LOUD SWEEPER, BLACKBIRDER

FOURTH RACE—$1200, The Tribune Purse, two-year-olds, six furlongs (6):

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Currants | 117 | Happy Helen | 114 |
| Blackbirder | 117 | Cloud Sweeper | 104 |
| High Image | 114 | Sand Cloud | 107 |

CURRANTS shapes up as the class in this affair, but only his best effort will result in a victory. The Greentree juvenile ran a smashing race in the Maplewood handicap on opening day after breaking slowly. CLOUD SWEEPER is in very light and may prove the more troublesome of the contenders. The Branncastle Miss was gaining on Surveyor at every stride in her last outing. BLACKBIRDER is a hard running youngster and will prove mighty hard to cope with if not allowed to drop too far out of it.

CARRY OVER, BLACK BUDDY, ROUSTABOUT

FIFTH RACE—$5000 added, the Revere Handicap, three-year-olds, one mile and one-sixteenth:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Piety | 102 | aRoustabout | 113 |
| Black Buddy | 114 | Carry Over | 113 |
| War Letter | 98 | Fidelis | 99 |
| Gold Signet | 105 | Thomasville | 102 |
| Hickory Lad | 102 | Slipper King | 97 |
| Wacoche | 107 | aHigh Glee | 108 |

aC. V. Whitney entry.

CARRY OVER may find BLACK BUDDY a stubborn customer in this affair. The Greentree colt has been freshened up and according to New York reports is fit as hands can make him. On past dope, Black Buddy is the speed of the party, but a doubtful stayer. ROUSTABOUT'S last effort was hard to understand. The Whitneyite was installed the favorite over a high-class field, but could never get into contention. Mayhap that he has had a bit too much racing and has tailed off.

ALL FORLORN, MUMSIE, PROUD GIRL

SIXTH RACE—$1000, conditions, three-year-olds and up, one mile and one-eighth:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Proud Girl | 107 | Rhadamanthus | 110 |
| All Forlorn | 112 | Mumsie | 107 |
| Eldee | 102 | Moane Keala | 112 |

ALL FORLORN has only to run back to her last effort in order to drub this lot. The daughter of Menifee was never better. MUMSIE raced over a distance of ground last out, but that should not stop her from saving the place. PROUD GIRL had scant chance with the break in her last. Since that effort she has breezed very fast and is entitled to some consideration.

WAYLAYER, FABIUS, LEGENDER

SEVENTH RACE—$1000, claiming, three-year-olds and upward, one and one-eighth miles:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Swaller | x109 | Legender | x103 |
| Fabius | x113 | Moralist | 110 |
| Waylayer | x105 | Baff | x103 |
| Brass Monkey | x101 | | |

WAYLAYER has received the clocker's okay in this affair. The son of Waygood has the necessary class and is apparently well suited by all conditions. FABIUS is evidently a greatly improved thoroughbred, as may be attested by his last race. LEGENDER handled a good field with ease on opening day.

DARK TYRANT, PERNICKETY, HOW HIGH

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Paddock | x111 | Doorkeeper | x108 |
| Gracias | 112 | Muskadoy | 116 |
| How High | x107 | Dark Tyrant | x101 |
| My Kentucky | 112 | Big Grass | 109 |
| Hero Olga | 107 | Rose Hazen | 103 |
| Pernickety | x108 | | |

DARK TYRANT should earn his first set of brackets in this race. The F. A. Griffith colorbearer placed to Resurrection a few days ago. The latter came right back off that effort to lead home a much better field than this. PERNICKETY, an unreliable sort, would be dangerous on best form. HOW HIGH has a smattering of class but would have to show startling improvement in order to handle the top one.

Series Opens Oct. 3

Chicago, Sept. 14.—The World Series will open Oct. 3 at the park of the American League winner (either Detroit or New York.)

Fordham Expects Much of Boston Boys

New York, Sept. 14—"Sleepy Jim" Crowley, Fordham University's hard-working football coach, says the success or failure of his 1934 model is in the lap of the gods.

"If we get the breaks—and we'll need plenty of them with St. Mary's, Southern Methodist, Tennessee, West Virginia and Purdue meeting us in order—we'll get some place. Otherwise—" and Crowley finished the sentence with an expressive shrug of his broad shoulders.

Crowley has a team he is willing to stand on provided his first string backs can go through the season without serious injury. Let one of them break an arm or leg and that will be something else again.

"I could hold skull practice for my backfield reserves in a telephone booth," explains young Mr. Crowley.

Just turned 32 and starting his second season at Fordham, Crowley will have a veteran line weighing more than 200 pounds from tackle to tackle, backed up by a battery of seasoned reserves. His backfield, built around Joe Manican, can do everything expected of a big league backfield and do it well.

TONY SARAUSKY ACE

"We'll miss Danowski," said Crowley. "He did most of the passing, kicking and ball toting last year. But I expect great things of Tony Sarausky, a Boston boy, who goes into Danowski's place at left half.

"Tony outkicked Danowski throughout their sophomore year and might have repeated last year if injuries hadn't kept him out of the lineup so much.

"Sorota came along fast last season and was playing regularly at full at the close. He should be better than ever.

"Harlow, another Boston boy, at quarter, is in good shape again and Bill McDermott, a third Boston boy, a sophomore, shows signs of developing into another stellar quarter.

"Just give me half a Danowski for emergencies, and I'll ask no more favors."

TO USE NEW SHIFT

About the only change contemplated in the general style of the Fordham play, Crowley says, is the use of a brand new shift, designed to put a few yards on the ram side of the ledger the minute the whistle blows.

The shift calls for the guards to line up behind the center with the tackles and ends open. The guards then will shift either into a balanced or an unbalanced line.

The Fordham schedule: October 6, Westminster; 12, Friday, Boston College at Boston; 20, St. Mary's; 27, Southern Methodist; November 3, Tennessee; 10, West Virginia; 17, Purdue; 29, New York University.

3 Bids and Proposals

PROPOSAL.

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.—DEPARTMENT OF MENTAL DISEASES.—National Industrial Recovery Project Mass. State No. M-12-P.W.A. Docket No. 4642.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Sealed separate proposals for (1) Rewiring and Fixtures for Buildings; and (2) Generating Equipment and Switchboard for Power Plant Changes at the Medfield State Hospital, P. O. Harding, Mass., will be received by the Department of Mental Diseases at Room 167, State House, Boston, until 2 o'clock, P. M. daylight saving time, Friday, September 21, 1934, and at that time and place will be publicly opened and read. Bids must be made upon the Department's prescribed special form of contract for projects financed and constructed under the terms of the National Industrial Recovery Act and Chapter 365 of the Acts of 1933, to which is attached and made a part thereof The Special Contract Provisions Revised April 15, 1934, of the Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works and the State Emergency Public Works Commission. Special attention of bidders is called to the prescribed minimum wage rates of $1.20 per hour for skilled labor and $.50 per hour for unskilled labor, and to the special provision as to semi-skilled labor.

Pursuant to Executive Order 6646, dated March 14, 1934, no bid will be considered unless it includes or is accompanied by a certificate (worded in accordance with P.W.A. 61 revised March 19, 1934) duly executed by the bidder.

All bidders shall be required to file with their bids a properly executed certificate of workmen's compensation insurance issued by a company satisfactory to the State Commissioner of Insurance.

Plans, specifications and contract forms may be obtained at Room 315, Ford Building, 15 Ashburton Place, Boston, Mass., upon deposit of amounts as follows: Rewiring and fixtures for Buildings $175; Generating Equipment and Switchboard $100. Make checks payable to the Department of Mental Diseases. These amounts are to be included in the estimates and all checks but those of the successful bidders will be returned upon return of the plans and specifications. Plans and specifications may be seen at the office of the engineer, W. & L. Engineering Company, 694 Washington Street, Boston.

Bids must be accompanied by properly certified checks on, or certificates of deposit issued by, a responsible bank or trust company in amounts as follows: Rewiring and fixtures for Buildings, $1000; Generating Equipment and Switchboard, $2000; made payable to the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. Checks and certificates will be returned after execution of the contract upon demand. A surety bond by an approved surety company will be required from the successful bidder in a amount not less than the full amount of the contract. The right is reserved to reject any or all proposals, or to accept any proposal deemed best for the Commonwealth, and no award can be made without the approval of the State Engineer, P.W.A. and of the State Emergency Public Works Commission.

The local registration office of the National Reemployment Service, from which employee lists for this contract shall be obtained (as required in Article C of the Special Contract Provisions) is National Reemployment Service, Mr. Harry Cook, manager, New Post Office Bldg., Norwood, Massachusetts.

High Auto Insurance Business Menace

An exception cropped out when Frederick H. Chase, counsel for stock insurance companies, declared Mr. Brown's tentative rates for 1935 were believed by the companies to be INADEQUATE.

The company contention is that the average rate to be received by the risk assumers next year will be $34.92 instead of $35.34, as intended by the commissioner.

Evidently whichever figure is most nearly correct—and both are based on rough guesses—it represents about what the flat rate would be, under the current regime, if the unfair zoning system were abolished.

Boston, Revere and Chelsea car users, mulcted of from $60 to more than $70 a car, would be willing enough to pay either the insurance companies' or Mr. Brown's figure.

But 223 other cities and towns in this Commonwealth, paying $20 or less, would not like even THAT change.

What would satisfy all the autoists would be the flat $18 rate which Gubernatorial Candidate Frank A. Goodwin says could be made to suffice under a State fund system.

THE proposed 1935 rates will apparently drive some businesses out of existence, adding to unemployment.

City Solicitor Walter Allen of Worcester declares the boost in the rates for taxicabs will drive those vehicles off the streets.

Representative Arthur T. Squires of Worcester stated insurance companies have offered to take some of the taxicab concerns at last year's rates.

Why not at least make the insurance business like any other, that is, competitive?

For James M. Curley

THE name of James Michael Curley, former Mayor of Boston, is well and favorably known throughout this Commonwealth.

He is one man in public life who has proven fitness for office by DEEDS rather than by mere words.

The Curley record of kindnesses to the poor and the suffering has never been made public, but nevertheless it is long enough to fill many columns.

Those good acts, carried out unostentatiously, have made the name of Curley beloved in many a humble home.

They have lightened the burden of sorrow for many a widow and orphan in life's darkest hour.

Mr. Curley's devotion to home duties, the great need of America today, has been an inspiration to others.

The Democrats of Massachusetts NEED such a standard bearer—a BIG MAN who can GET VOTES on his own honorable record, viewed down through the years.

Here is a model citizen who can be unreservedly supported at the polls because always in the past he has shown himself wholly worthy of the people's confidence.

Cast your vote for James Michael Curley at the coming primaries. Assure Massachusetts of a successor to Governor Joseph B. Ely who will keep this Commonwealth PROMINENTLY on the map.

And administer the affairs of the State with the same efficiency that has characterized him throughout his long and remarkably useful public career.

We've a Constitution!

Constitution Week will be ushered in next Monday.

For those inclined to doubt whether the grand old Constitution of the United States still exists, after "Brain Trust" batterings, we find good reading.

> "Sept. 17 will mark the 147th year that the people of our great republic have enjoyed life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness as their inalienable right under the Constitution of the United States," the proclamation says.
> "The Constitution was adopted by a constitutional convention composed of delegates elected from all the States for the purpose of its consideration. The convention was presided over by George Washington and had as its delegates men who had been actively and patriotically engaged in the founding of our great Nation. Out of the deliberations of this convention came this masterful document that had finally been compounded on the basis of the greatest good for the greatest number.
> "That the founders of our Nation could, despite the bitter rivalries of those troublous times, find courage to place upon themselves the restraint and tolerance evidenced by our Constitution should awaken feelings of grateful remembrance and cause us to pledge anew to preserve our Constitution from all its enemies.
> "The indifference of some of our people to their duties and responsibilities of citizenship is affording those antagonistic to American institutions opportunities of spreading unrest, arousing suspicion, discontent, envy and hatred."

Weymouth's Dinner

On September 25 a dinner will be served in Weymouth that should be a lesson for many another American town.

Every dish that will be set on the table will be a home product—raised and prepared within the limits of Weymouth.

There will be clams and lobsters from the ocean, a young bull and milk and cream from Mitchell Dwyer's dairy, chickens and half a dozen vegetables from local farms and truck gardens, corn bread, lettuce, butter, ice cream, pudding—all homemade in the strictest sense of the word.

The moral in all this is that Weymouth has learned a valuable lesson from the depression—a lesson that Henry Ford has been preaching for years. While it continued to be a shoe town, Weymouth set itself to the task of raising at least a part of its own food supply.

While it may always depend primarily on its shoe industry, many of its citizens are now cultivating miniature farms. When they work, the produce will help keep down the high cost of living. Whenever hard times come, it will me[illegible] they are not completely dependent on others.

Listen, World! -:- By Elsie Robinson

A BOOK THAT WAS WRITTEN FOR YOU

"I wish," said my boss, "that you'd review a book every week."

"Does it matter," said I, "who wrote it? Or when it was published?"

"No," said he, "but it ought to have popular appeal. Something with punch in it—that hits a lot of people where they live. And tackles current problems. Not just gaga."

Elsie Robinson

So I went out and began looking for books. Volumes that were something more than smart paragraphs—that came from the deep part of the spirit, and served those needs for which you, yourself, have no words.

Books like "Little Man, What Now?" (Fallada) . . . "As The Earth Turns" (Carroll) . . . "I Went to Pit College" (Gilfillan) . . . "Nervous Breakdown, Its Cause and Cure," later renamed "Calm Your Nerves" (Wolfe).

Here were living pictures of the beautiful, muddled, dangerous place in which we live—of the dreams we dream as we battle the world—of the hurts which come to us, and their possible healing. Good books for what ails all of us.

LANGUAGE STRANGE

Yet all the time, as I told you of them, I was thinking of another book which has everything that these books have in them, and infinitely more. Only it's old. And some of its language is strange.

I wondered if you'd care for it. I do. I carry it with me wherever I go. It's the only book that gives me a real understanding of my world—and of myself. Maybe—I thought—it may do that for you. So I'm taking a chance. But before I give you its name, I want to tell you about it.

It was written by one of the most powerful and passionate men who ever lived. I have never seen a picture of him, but I wish I might. He must have been extremely handsome. Women adored him. And even the men who hated him fell under his strange spell. He was one of those rare human beings who seem to have all charm, all potency within themselves—who seem to be able to get everything there is out of life.

Only—as always happens—he raised Cain while he was doing it. He was always in trouble, that man! When there wasn't any trouble, he made some.

And most of all, he seemed to have been troubled by himself. The incredible adventure of his own spirit—its tremendous storms—its hellish abysses of hate and despair; its shining heights of pure delight—these engrossed him more constantly and poignantly than all his wars and conquests and secret intrigues.

ENORMOUSLY GLAD

He was always being enormously glad, or mad, or sad, about something—and talking about it with the devastating frankness of a Confession Magazine! He was, in himself, the greatest spectacle of his spectacular time—a veritable ten, twent' and thirt'!

This, of course, is why millions of men and women have loved his book. For we're all like that—or think we are! And we would, if we dared, talk of ourselves in just that way.

There is another reason why his book is particularly popular with moderns. He lived in just such a bedlam as we are inhabiting now—just such a time of mad conflict and confusion.

And, although this book is entirely about the man himself, it mirrors every aspect of that amazing period. Each private feud and public menace—each personal peeve and national brutality—stands out as clearly as though it were another "Washington Merry-Go-Round."

And I suppose this is because the man himself was old when he came to write it, and so was able to see life with a wide sweep. Nothing escaped him—either in himself or the human scene. And so he set down such a record of human passion and greed, terror and tenderness, wonder and bewilderment, folly and nobility, as was never written before.

Of all the volumes in print today I know of no book that comes so close to the common human heart—or helps so greatly in tackling the common human problem. There are longer books by better men. But it is the very weakness of this man—so like our own—that makes his book comforting.

And many a night when I have felt utterly discouraged and at a loss to know what to do with my own life, I have taken that book and read one of his passionate confessions—one of those great, fierce cries for help that he sent up, out of his hunger and loneliness and remorse. And, when I was through, I was somehow comforted. Perhaps you will be, too

The title? You may have heard of it. It's in practically every store. The book is called—"The Psalms." And the man who wrote it was named David.

Late—He's Divorced! -:- -:- By Winifred Black

A San Francisco matron divorced her husband the other day because he was always late to dinner.

She said that she worked and slaved to make a pleasant home for husband and every day she cooked him a nice warm dinner, with a roast or a broil, cauliflower in cream, mashed potatoes, pickles and everything.

Winifred Black

And sometimes husband came home to dinner on time, but mostly he came home when the cream on the cauliflower all dried and the gravy had bubbled away. And sometimes he didn't come home at all—thank you.

There was one night especially, when she had roast lamb—oh, the nicest little leg of lamb you ever saw—all brown and everything with green peas in the old American fashion, cooked with butter and cream, if you please, and lots of gravy—and a green apple pie she made herself, with a crust as tender as the first kiss of love, and he telephoned that he would be a little late.

And she waited.

And she waited.

And what time do you think it was when he got home?—four o'clock in the morning! And not a word would he tell about where he'd been or anything.

The judge gave her the divorce not because husband was late to dinner so often and not even because he stayed out all night, but because he wouldn't tell her where he had been.

The judge seemed to think that any man who wouldn't take the trouble to tell some kind of a story, when his wife had been crying all night, really wasn't worth a wife, and between you and me I agree with him.

But maybe the poor man just stayed down town as a gesture of freedom, like the slave who refused to obey his master for once just to show that he was a man as well as a slave after all.

I knew a man who had a perfectly good wife and a perfectly good home and a perfectly good business and he ran away from them all and went down to South America and worked as a dock laborer.

He just got tired of being "managed."

His wife "managed" about his clothes and she managed his bank account and she "managed" his friendships. He said that when it got so that she hid his favorite tie because she didn't like it and told him when to get a clean handkerchief he just threw up his hands and disappeared.

Maybe the man who didn't come home to dinner couldn't get to South America so he just stayed downtown—for luck.

Maybe he didn't like roast lamb at all, but his wife thought it was better for him than pig's knuckles and cabbage.

THE WREN

A wren is singing on a bough
A rapturous song of glee
As if to be alive just now
Is cause for melody.

Yet I have lived this long day through,
Brave, happy hearted bird,
And to be blithe and gay as you
To none has it occurred.

A score of humans have I met
Along the traveled way,
But words of sorrow or regret
Were all they had to say.

Not one of them can I recall
In such a merry mood
Or for God's blessings, great or small,
Displayed such gratitude.

I harked to gossip and to care
From men who strain and strive
But no one voiced a grateful prayer
That still he was alive.

I think sometimes we ought to be
As grateful as a wren
And sing our joys exultantly!
But then, of course, we're men!

Stars and Stripes

Russians who have been raising potatoes are kicking because they have to put them in a common pool. They say it ain't right to make a Bolshevik out of a spud.

With school days here again, our boys and girls in some cities will be taught more about how to overthrow the government and the taxpayer.

And they say 'tis getting so some doctors want to know if the patient can afford it before they decide he has appendicitis instead of plain tummy-ache.

Human Side of the News; Rhine New Frontier

By Edwin C. Hill

England announces that the Rhine is now her frontier and proceeds to the building of another 500 military airplanes. The German government conducts a campaign to have landlords construct bomb-proof cellars in their houses and allows a tax rebate to those who do so. The United States decides to bolster up its air forces.

The Japanese, in their schools, streets and offices, drill themselves daily in the use of gas masks and in defense against bombing attacks. Mussolini, glancing over the British and American programs and extremely proud of Italy as a power, contemplates additions to his great air fleets.

The French add to their armies of the skies and the Ministry of War takes over supervision of the sale of gas masks in the country to prevent frauds on the civilians who buy them.

THOUGHTS OF WARFARE

Now it is not fair to link these happenings except for the purpose of showing that wherever the possibilities of future warfare are considered the thoughts of the governments are turned to airplanes and poison gas. The world is heading to the point where a major war will fulfill this prophecy of a German military expert:

"It will not be the slaughter of armies alone. It will be the wholesale murder of civilians."

Admirals continue to talk of battleships as the backbone of naval defense and generals insist that the infantry remains the main arm of the land forces.

But the civilians and their cities many miles distant from the scene of operations present a problem which engages such men as J. B. S. Haldane, eminent British scientist and ex-soldier, and Mayor Fiorella La Guardia of New York who saw active service as an aviator in the World War.

Haldane, whose work as a bio-chemist has won him international repute, has awakened the British Government to the necessity of following the steps of other countries and preparing its population against raiding air armadas. Professor Haldane knows what a gas attack is because he went through many during the war.

His theory today is that there will be no gas more deadly than mustard gas and believes it is not at all impossible to minimize its danger if the civilian population is equipped with masks and trained in their use.

The government has come around to his argument that it is just as important to spend money in equipping and instructing the people at home for defense against gas attacks as it is to spend millions on airplanes to carry the gas and bombs against the enemy.

CALLS GAS HUMANE

Haldane is one of the few experts who lines himself on the side of those who see gas warfare as more humane than that of shrapnel and shell.

On the other hand, we have had reports from time to time of deadly and devilish gases and bombs ready to be loosed with the hounds of war. However, agreement is general with the Haldane view that mustard gas still is the most to be feared.

The Germans were the first to use poison gas, and it came within an ace of winning the war for them. The scene was the Langemarck-St. Julien sector in Belgium, and the date April 22, 1915. Early on that night in spring the observers with the British artillery noticed a strange green vapor coming over the French trenches from the German lines.

Almost as suddenly the British saw through their glasses a terrible confusion among the French colonial troops. Men were throwing away their guns, coughing and clutching at their throats. Behind the waves of green vapor the Germans advanced. A great gap opened in the French lines, four miles in width, with the defenders running away in panic from a danger they had never known or suspected.

ROAD TO CHANNEL

The road to the Channel was opened to the Germans and they poured into it. Only the Canadians stood between them and it was two divisions of these great fighters, the Third and Eighth which held their ground against wave upon wave of the gas.

Twenty thousand men were gassed in this first attack and 5000 of them were killed. But the Canadians stood firm and at St. Julien wrote a page of history more glorious than the Greeks did at Thermopylae.

Their ranks were cut to pieces and yet they kept back the foe until the Highlanders came up to fill in the breach left by the French colonials.

With bagpipes sounding the counter-attack, the kilted Scots, mouths and noses bound up against the gas, charged with bayonet, steming the advancing Germans. And it was there that a wounded French soldier, looking on in admiration at the charge, said:

"They may be wearing skirts, but I tell you they are ladies from Hell."

'Safety at Sea' Act

THE parallel investigations of the steamship Morro Castle disaster, which are now in course, necessarily have different objective.

It is the duty of the Federal Grand Jury, advised by United States Attorney Conboy, to ascertain if personal culpability in the catastrophe calls for censure or for criminal indictment.

In the field of civil jurisdiction the Department of Commerce inquiry must search for original or contributory causes of the mysterious ship fire and its attendant appalling loss of life with a view to procuring preventive regulations against recurrence of such horrors.

And the session this week in New York City of the American Association of Port Authorities, Inc., has served not only to emphasize the responsibility of Government to promote safety at sea but also to bring into public attention an evident failure of Congress to measure up to this responsibility.

UNTIL the Morro Castle fire the wreck of the Vestris was the great sea tragedy in these waters of recent years.

Several investigations of that disaster were made.

The American inquiry proved to be far less revealing than the one held by British authorities, and the British criticisms and recommendations went much further than ours.

The numerous disclosures made the fact apparent that this country's navigation laws were insufficient—and one might suppose that Congress, remembering the loss of life on the Vestris, would have proceeded diligently.

Quite to the contrary, however, Congress has been inhumanely negligent.

For Congress—as Frank G. White of San Francisco reminded the Port Authorities meeting—has failed to enact the "Safety of Life at Sea Act."

This Act, as Mr. White explained, was prepared by the leading experts of various nations in joint session, including American experts.

It has been adopted by fifteen of the most important maritime nations, and its enactment by the United States has been recommended by the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations.

Consequently, there seems to have been no reason for its non-enactment except congressional negligence.

THE "Safety of Life at Sea Act" is described as "extending to the most advanced hull construction, life-saving appliances and radio apparatus which could be devised by the experts."

As a matter of truth, the Morro Castle was a new vessel, one of the most modern afloat, and the provisions of the Safety Act, in its effect, may or may not have altered the ship's construction or equipment.

This is not the point.

The point is that sea tragedies occur, and every civilized Government ought to do all it can to minimize both their occurrence and their fatal consequences.

Congress did not do so when called upon to act after the Vestris accident.

Will the fate of the Morro Castle influence Congress in January to pass the "Safety of Life at Sea Act"?
